JUMPED INTO CANAL

Edmond Forget Made Heroic Attempt to Rescue Drowning Man

Brooding over family troubles and in a state of temporary aberration of mind, Victor Lefebvre, aged 46 years, committed suicide this morning by drowning in the Pawtucket canal. Edmond Forget, a young man living at 230 Cheever street, made an heroic effort to save the man's life, but although the drowning man was brought to the edge of the canal, he died in Forget's arms before he could be pulled to the surface.

Victor Lefebvre, who was living apart from his family for the past four years, was employed in a mill at South Boston as a weaver. According to his son Achille, he had not been feeling well for the past few weeks, and two weeks ago he came to this city for a rest and stopped with the latter at his room, 152 Ford street. For the past two or three days the boy noticed that his father was acting strangely and he did the best he could to cheer him up and bring him to his senses.

Last night the father refused to retire and did not sleep all night. At 5.30 o'clock this morning he went out and was seen running up and down Ford street several times in an excited manner. His son went after him and took him into the house. A few minutes later he went out again, and at 5.45 o'clock Mrs. William Smith of 230 Cheever street saw him jump over the fence of the canal opposite James street, and then into the water. Mrs. Smith screamed and attracted the attention of Mrs. Edmond Forget, a neighbor. The latter awoke her husband and Mr. Forget, jumping out of bed, slid on a pair of tights and running around the building dived into the canal.

In the meantime Lefebvre had gone to the bottom, but shortly after he was seen floating and making efforts to sink. Forget swam across the canal and catching the man around the neck, swam to the canal's edge. There, however, he was handicapped for the wall was some two feet higher, and it was impossible to climb with Lefebvre who was still alive. The rescuer called for help and a few minutes later a young man named Leo Vigeant was on the scene, but his efforts in trying to pull the two to shore were fruitless. Forget was still clinging to the wall with the now lifeless body of the suicide. Undertaker Joseph Albert and Patrolman Charles Jennell were notified and with the aid of a rope tied around the body of Lefebvre, the two men were pulled on to the banks of the canal.

The ambulance was summoned, but it was useless, for the unfortunate man had expired. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert and later to the home of the deceased's sister, Mrs. Elzear Harvey, 200 Perkins street.

Forget is to be congratulated on his heroic act, and had it not been for the fact that the water was somewhat lower than usual, he could have saved Lefebvre's life. Mrs. Smith, who saw the man jump into the water, said that Forget must have held the prostrate form of Lefebvre for at least seven minutes, clinging to the wall with one hand while waiting for help.

The deceased is survived by a wife, Leontine Robillard Lefebvre, and five children, Victor, a student at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Rosanna and Achille, Mesdames Ernest Paquin and Alfred Waterhouse; his father, Mr. Joseph Lefebvre, of Mechanicsville, N. Y., five brothers, Auguste of Mechanicsville, N. Y., Theotime of Bangor, Me., Lucien, Emile and Alfred of Lowell; four sisters, Mesdames Joseph Tremblay and Elzear Harvey of this city, and the Misses Malvina and Virginie Lefebvre of Lowell.

MAN FATALLY INJURED

He Was Struck by the Bar Harbor Express Train

An unknown man, about 26 years old, who in all probability was a Greek, was struck by the Bar Harbor express near the bridge in Wilder street about 4.30 o'clock this morning and died at St. John's hospital about an hour later. While no person seems to know how the accident happened it is probable that the first section of the express struck the man, he having been found unconscious on the rails by the engineer of the second section. The body is now at the funeral parlors of Undertaker Peter H. Savage at the corner of Worthen and Market streets.

According to some pay envelopes found on the dead man's person it is thought that he worked in one of the local mills, but which one he worked in has not been learned as yet.

It is thought that he was walking along the railroad tracks and that he stepped too close to the inbound first section of the Bar Harbor express and sustained injuries which later resulted in his death. The engineer of the second section of the train discovered the body and reported the matter.

The unconscious man was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where it was found he was suffering from injuries of the right arm, right leg and his head was battered and bruised. The man passed away at about 5.30 o'clock.

In his pockets were three pay envelopes. One was dated June 2 and bore the number 2119 and showed that it had contained $7.34. The second was dated June 10 and numbered 2090, and the amount was $5.23, while the third was dated June 17, numbered 2186, and was marked $7.92. Each of the envelopes bore an advertisement of the A. G. Pollard Co., but when the police tried to learn to whom the company distributed envelopes it was found that all but two of the local mills are furnished with pay envelopes by the company.

The man also wore a fraternal button which the police are trying to have identified.

DR. EDWARD J. WELCH

Nominated by Mayor Meehan as Library Trustee

Dr. Edward J. Welch will succeed the late Thomas Walsh as trustee of the Lowell public library. The appointment of Dr. Welch was announced by Mayor Meehan this forenoon and will meet with general approval. Dr. Welch is a great lover of books and has one of the finest, if not the very finest private libraries in Lowell. He has always been very much interested in Lowell's public library, and it would have indeed been very difficult for Mayor Meehan to have selected a man more interested and better fitted for the position.

Dr. Welch is a graduate of the Lowell High school, Holy Cross college and the Harvard Medical school. In his profession he is at the top of the ladder and he has a very large practice. His office is in the Runels building and he lives at 491 Lawrence street. He is unmarried.

The Class Ode

Written by Miss Marion Martin.

The years spent together we ne'er shall forget,
And the memories clustering here
Of the strong ties of friendships both loyal and true,
Will forever continue most dear.
Together we've worked, and together we've played;
Work and play whose results we'll not know
Till the lessons we've learned in these days bright and fair,
Bear fruits in the fields where we go.

Our school days are over and now we go forth
Each one on his separate way;

Graduating Exercises

As far back as the writer's experience extends the annual graduating exercises of the Lowell High school have taken place on one of the hottest nights of the year, and last evening was no exception. The heat, however, had no terrors for the proud and happy relatives and friends of the class of '11 for they attended in large numbers and the Opera House was filled. The address of the occasion was delivered by President W. H. P. Faunce of Brown university. The graduating class, in most attractive attire, occupied seats on the stage.

The musical part of the program was particularly enjoyable. Hibbard's orchestra played the following selections: Overture, "Maritana," Wallace; Concert Waltz, "Louise," W. D. Owen; finale, "American Republic," Thill. The choruses, conducted by Mr. F. O. Blunt, were sung with great vim.

The selections were as follows:

Pilgrim Chorus from "I Lombardi," ... Verdi

Semi-chorus—
a "Belle Nuit, O Nuit D'Amour,"
(From "The Tales of Hoffman") ... Offenbach
b "The Rosary" ... Ethelbert

'Cello, R. D. Whidden, '11
Chorus, "Song of the Armorer," George B. Nevin

The Class Ode

The Presentations

The Carney medals and certificates of honorable mention were presented, by Supt. Whitcomb, while Mayor Meehan presented the diplomas. Mr. Franklin T. Johnson, president of the school board, introduced the speakers. Cyrus W. Irish, principal of the school, thanked the class for its gift, a bas-relief representing Washington Crossing the Delaware. It will be placed in High school hall.

Scholarships Awarded

It was announced that through the kindness of the Lowell Harvard club a scholarship of $200 has been awarded to Stearns Morse of the graduating class, and another of $150 to Samuel K. Gibson of the Class of 1909.

Historical Society Prizes

The prizes given by the Lowell Historical society for the best and second best historical essay on "Chelmsford," were awarded to Mildred M. Durham, first, and Ida F. Cummings, second. The prizes were $10 and $5 in gold. They were presented by Rev. A. St. John Chambre, D. D.

DEFENDANTS APPEALED

They Were Found Guilty of Stealing 500 Cucumbers

George Shordas and Simos Dardes were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on complaints charging them with the larceny of 500 cucumbers, each of the value of five cents and the property of John C. and Jesse Trull of North Tewksbury, also assault and battery on Fred Allard. The court after considering the testimony offered found both men guilty of larceny of the cucumbers and ordered them sentenced to jail for five months, but later changed the sentence to four months. Daniel J. Donahue, who appeared for the defendants, entered an appeal.

The first witness for the defense was Dr. H. M. Larrabee of Tewksbury, who testified that he was called to the Trull house in North Tewksbury one week ago Monday morning. He arrived there about 1.30 or 2 o'clock and found Fred Allard in a semi-conscious condition. Cross examined by Mr. Donahue, witness said that he found no bruises on Allard's body.

John C. Trull testified that he is engaged in farming and gardening in North Tewksbury and of late had been missing vegetables. On the night in question, one week ago Sunday night, he said he and Allard went to the greenhouse for the purpose of detecting thieves. They remained there until shortly after midnight when they heard a sound similar to the rustling of the cucumber vines. Then the witness saw the light from a lantern and rushing through the place said he found Dardos with a bag of cucumbers and a lantern. He said that Dardos dropped the cucumbers and he took the lantern away from the man. There was another person in the place, but he could not identify him.

Witness added that he had been missing vegetables from his farm and had informed the employes that if he caught them stealing anything he would "fire the whole bunch."

Fred Allard, the person who it is alleged was assaulted, testified that he saw Dardos in the greenhouse. He saw Mr. Trull take the lantern from Dardos but after that something struck him and he knew nothing. He complained of pains in his stomach but could not state what happened to him.

Jesse Trull, brother of John C. Trull, and one of the complainants, said he did not witness either the alleged larceny or assault and all he knew was what he had heard. He testified that the next morning he had a talk with the defendants and one of them said, "Me no hit me, nobody saw me."

Patrolman McNally, who arrested the two men in the vicinity of Pleasant and Rogers streets, about 2.15 Monday morning, said that one of the men had a cucumber in his pocket and the other had two cucumbers. He asked them where they were going and they said they were on their way home. Cross examined by Mr. Donahue, the patrolman said that when he stopped them they said they were on their way to Hood's farm. They said they resided at 2 Elm street.

Chief Frank Farmer of the Tewksbury constabulary, knew nothing of the alleged larceny or assault other than what he had heard. He said he had a conversation with the defendants and he claimed that they admitted they had taken 35 cucumbers and were on their way home when arrested. They denied knowing anything about the assault.

No defense was offered, Lawyer Donahue arguing that there was nothing to show the value of the articles alleged to have been stolen. The court found the defendants guilty on the larceny complaint and sentenced each to five months in jail but later changed the sentence to four months. As to the assault and battery charge the defendants were found not guilty and discharged.

Neighborhood Row

Della McMahon and Elizabeth Joyce reside in different tenements in a house in Bolt street and the front doors are adjacent and the entrance to the different doors is from a pair of steps. Both were the best of friends until a few days ago when an argument arose about the actions of their respective children and as a result the pair got into a fistic encounter which was terrible according to the testimony offered in police court. Mrs. McMahon was charged with assault and battery on the Joyce woman, but she denied the allegation. Counsel in the case informed the court that an attempt had been made to settle the matter and the complainant was willing to withdraw the complaint if Mrs. McMahon would give her $1.25 for a wrapper which she alleged Mrs. McMahon tore off her back.

Mrs. McMahon was fined $2, the money to be paid to Mrs. Joyce for the wrapper which was destroyed.

Violation of Milk Law

Robert F. Carson was charged with a violation of the milk law. He entered a plea of not guilty but at the conclusion of the case the court found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $10.

James E. Hill testified that he took four samples of milk from Mr. Carson's wagon on June 22 and turned them over to Milk Inspector Master. Mr. Master said he analyzed the milk and found that one of the samples which was number "48" showed but 11.37 per cent., while the standard is 12.15. Both the solids and fat were also below the standard.

Neglect Cases

William H. Harmon was charged with neglecting his minor child, and after being found guilty, was ordered to pay $5 toward the support of the child.

Henry T. Sullivan who was charged with neglecting to provide for his wife, Esther, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Guilty of Larceny

Charles P. Vale, of Somerville, was charged with the larceny of a watch and chain valued at $60, the property of Albert E. Brown. He entered a plea of not guilty but later stated that the watch was found on his person and that he evidently took it while under the influence of liquor. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25.

Mr. Brown formerly resided in Somerville but moved to Westford street in this city last Tuesday and his furniture was carried from Somerville to Lowell on an automobile truck. Upon arriving at the house the watch and chain were placed in a lady's handbag and left in one of the rooms. When he returned for the bag he found that the watch was missing. He reported the matter to the man whom he engaged to transport his furniture and the latter immediately suspected Vale. Vale was turned over to the Somerville police and when searched the watch and chain were found and the local police notified. Sergt. McCloughrey was sent to Somerville and he returned with the man.

Vale's plea was that he was under the influence of liquor and did not know what he was doing at the time.

Case Continued

Drunken Offenders

Nellie A. Ellis, who was yesterday sentenced to Sherborn and appealed, appeared in court this morning and withdrew her appeal.

Mary A. Armstrong's name was called but as she is at the city farm her case was continued.

John J. Noonan and James Downey were fined $6 each.

There were three first offenders who were fined $2 each.

Sailor lies, No. Billerica, tonight.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Will Keep the Aldermen and Councilmen Busy

The committee on ordinances and legislation will meet at 7.30 o'clock this evening and the committee on July 4th at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow evening the committee on the seventy-fifth anniversary observance will meet at 8 o'clock, the committee on sewers at 7.30 and the committee on streets at 7 o'clock.

The committee on sewers will give hearings on petitions. The committee will have two very important matters to consider. One is the petition of the American Hide & Leather Co. and others, that a main sewer from Wigginville, so called, be laid from the crossing of the Lowell & Andover street railroad at Lawrence street thence northerly to a point opposite the premises of the American Hide & Leather Co. thence across the Concord river and through private land to the sewer in Lawrence street near Watson street.

The other very important matter will have to do with sewers on the Centralville side of the Merrimack river where the sewers do not reach the water. The sewer mouths are several feet from the water and the committee's investigation of these sewers revealed a condition that must be remedied. It is generally conceded that the sewers there are a menace to public health.

Another petition calls for a sewer in School street from the end of the present sewer, southerly to Spring court and in Payne street from School street easterly about 150 feet.

A sewer is petitioned for in Burlington avenue from Marginal street to an outlet in said street.

Joseph H. Flynn petitions for a sewer in Richardson street from Ella L. Boynton's land to land of estate of J. H. Flynn, about 150 feet.

Iroquois, Willow Dale, Friday night.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Daniel J. Sullivan and Miss Mary A. Riley were united in marriage Tuesday evening, the ceremony being performed at St. Patrick's rectory by Rev. Timothy P. Callahan. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Riley and the best man was Mr. Michael A. Quigley.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white silk, a picture hat, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridemaid wore a beautiful gown of pink messaline and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Broadway. A number of friends and relatives of the young couple were present. A wedding dinner was served and during the evening the wedding guests were entertained by the Twentieth Century Bachelor club minstrels, of which Mr. Sullivan is a popular member.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan received a number of beautiful gifts and they started on a wedding trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

MORSE—HOPKINS

A pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mrs. C. H. Hopkins, 150 A street, when her daughter, Miss Florence Ethel Hopkins, and Mr. Harold Ainsley Morse of Lynn, were united in marriage. The full Episcopal service was performed by the Rev. James Bancroft, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. The bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Florence Isworth Morse of Lynn, and the best man was Mr. John H. Hammond.

Following the reception a wedding supper was served. A banjos' orchestra played during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Morse received many beautiful gifts.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brode of West Roxbury, Mrs. Brode having been formerly Miss Maude Hopkins, and Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Washburn of New York city, the latter having been formerly Miss Maybelle Hopkins. The bride, Mrs. Morse, has for several years been a well known professional musician, and her sisters, aforementioned, were also proficient in music and had played with various organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Morse left for their honeymoon in an automobile during the early evening, showered with confetti by hosts of friends. Following a tour they will go to The Weirs, N. H., where they will remain until Sept. 1. Later they will go to Portland, Ore., where they will make their home.

KEARNEY—MURPHY

Mr. Edward H. Kearney of North Billerica and Miss May Louise Murphy of Pawtucket, R. I., were united in marriage at St. Mary's church in Pawtucket yesterday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. C. Tennian, pastor of the church. The bride was attired in a costume of duchess lace over white satin and carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Adelaide Fleming, who wore a gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The best man was Mr. John B. Kearney of Boston, a brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a reception took place at 225 Garden street. Friends were present from New York, Boston, Hartford, Providence and North Billerica. Many beautiful presents were received.

MONTGOMERY—McKINLEY

Mr. Ernest Montgomery and Miss Laura May McKinley were united in marriage yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's mother by the Rev. Geo. F. Kenngott, in the presence of many relatives and friends. The couple were attended by Mr. Roy Montgomery and Mrs. Edith McKinley Quirk. The happy couple received many appropriate gifts and after a short reception left for the White mountains, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Sailor lies, No. Billerica, tonight.

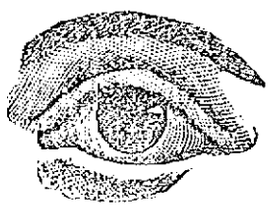

AT WILLOW DALE

T. J. Enright and family moved out last week and are occupying the same cottage on Bowers avenue, as last season.

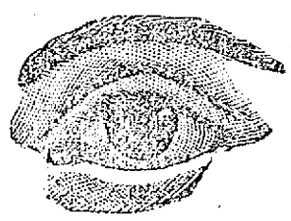

The Iroquois Canoe club holds its annual dance at Willow Dale on Friday evening. This has always been quite an event, and the young men in charge this year say that it is to be better than ever.

JEWS NOT EXCLUDED

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—The American embassy has made representations to the Russian government regarding American Jews who are buyers at the fur fair at Tyume and orders were today sent to the Tyumen authorities not to exclude Jews from the fair pending the decision of the federal government.

THREE WERE DROWNED

Father and His Son Among the Victims

EAST HADDAM, Conn., June 29.—When the skiff in which they were rowing on the Connecticut river upset late yesterday, Eddie Parola, 55 years old; his son, Patrick, 35, both of this place, and Jerry Saunders of New York were drowned.

Two others in the boat, Paul Saunders and Rocco Carbone, both of New York, saved themselves by swimming to the shore.

Patrick Parola lost his life in a vain attempt to save his father. Saunders sank as soon as the boat upset. None of the bodies were recovered.

TO CLOSE MILL

PALMER, June 29.—Notices posted at the cotton mills of the Thorndike Co. announce that the plant will be closed tomorrow until July 10. The shutdown is part of a general policy of curtailment adopted by many Boston mill treasurers.

BABY'S SKIN RAW AND SORE

The result of even a little neglect in caring for a baby is shown by a letter from Miss J. P. Young, a trained nurse of Salem, Mass. She was called to see a baby where a simple chafing had been neglected. "The skin was raw and sore," she says, "but in a week after using Comfort Powder it was all healed." This powder is no more like the common toilet powders than cream is like skim milk. They are irritating. Comfort Powder soothes and heals irritations and rashes quickly and is harmless. See that E. S. Sykes' signature is on the box you buy.

TRAIN WAS HELD UP

Robbers Got Away With the Registered Mail

GLENDALE, Oregon, June 29.—Apparently mistaking the first section of north-bound passenger train number 16 of the Southern Pacific railroad for a south-bound train said to be carrying a shipment of $400,000 in gold dust from Seattle to San Francisco, two robbers held up the north-bound train last night near West Fork, an isolated station in Cow Creek Canyon.

The robbers rifled the mail car, blowing up the safe and made way with the registered mail. They tried to secure entrance to the express car but were foiled by Messenger Robb, who refused to open the door, despite threats that they would use dynamite if he persisted. The robbers, after fruitlessly prying with a crowbar at the side door of the car, finally desisted and decamped with the loot secured from the mail car. The amount taken by the robbers cannot be ascertained at this time. This train carries in its registered mail the cash from the southern Oregon postoffices to Eugene, Oregon, which is their depository, and this was probably included in the mail stolen.

The robbers boarded the train at West Fork while the engine was taking water. Soon after it had got under way they crawled over the tender into the cab and directed the engineer to stop the train.

This done, one of the men kept the engineer and fireman under cover of his revolver while the other went back and uncoupled the mail, baggage and express cars. Then the engineer was ordered to pull these cars some distance up the track, where he was again ordered to stop. The robbers went back to the mail car and lining the mail clerks up, took the registered mail pouches and dynamited the mail car safe. The noise of the explosion warned Express Messenger Robb of what was taking place and when the demand came for him to open his door he made no response.

The conductor of the train, as soon as he discovered what had taken place, went back to West Fork, where he notified Glendale and surrounding points. Posses have been organized to pursue the robbers.

STEAMER ZEELAND

UNABLE TO BERTH AT HER LANDING STAGE TODAY

LIVERPOOL, June 29.—In the absence of the shore gang who are on strike the steamer Zeeland of the Red Star line, from New York, was unable to berth at her landing stage this morning and her passengers were landed from a tender. The men due to relieve the Zeeland's crew at Mersey lightship refused to go on duty.

THE MYSTIC NOBLES

TO HOLD MONSTER DEGREE AND BANQUET NEXT SUNDAY

Lowell Caravan, No. 3, Mystic Nobles of Granada, through its officers, has completed practically all arrangements for the exemplification of the initiatory degree on a large class of candidates next Sunday, in Granada hall, Boston. Every indication points that the gathering will be the largest ever assembled since the Granada movement was inaugurated in New England. Besides Lowell, big delegations will attend from Worcester, Bridgeport, Conn., Providence, R. I., Portland, Me., and Manchester, N. H., special trains having been chartered for the trip. Prominent men in public and professional life will grace the occasion, and Boston caravan will entertain with a lavish hand. The Lowell men will leave this city on the 2.18 train Sunday afternoon, returning late in the evening. At the North station, the Lowell men will be met by representatives of the Boston caravan and escorted to Granada hall where the exercises will be carried out.

The preparations for the degree and for the banquet are in the hands of a capable committee under the able leadership of Supreme Monarch John H. Allen, which in itself is a guarantee that everything will be the acme of perfection.

WILL TRAMP EUROPE

In Order to Pick Up Some Dances

NEW YORK, June 29.—With a sweater sleeve for a knapsack, Miss Elizabeth Burchenal, accompanied by her sister, who will be similarly equipped, will tramp through some of the out-of-the-way parts of Europe this summer in search of interesting country fetes where there will be exhibitions of peasant dancing.

Miss Burchenal, who is an inspector of girls' athletics, and who, with Dr. Luther Gulick, introduced folk dancing into the gymnasium course in the public schools, has learned from experience how to dress for long walking trips and how to travel light.

"My walking costume usually consists of a pongee shirt waist, a light wright cloth skirt of some color that will not show the dust and a sweater for cool evenings and for carrying my wardrobe in," Miss Burchenal said yesterday when telling of her plans. "I tie the wrist of my sweater in a knot, tuck into the sleeve a night gown, tooth brush and comb and am ready for a tramp of one, two or perhaps three days. If I am able to map out my trip accurately I send a bag on to my destination each night.

"I have no definite plans except that we depart July 8, and will not return until some time in September. We go to England, Denmark—perhaps, or maybe Holland and Sweden—wherever I hear of interesting festivals.

"I shall live among the village folk several days or weeks previous to the holding of the fete, so that I may become acquainted with some of them who may dance with me. That is the way to learn their folk dances for our public school athletic work. I do not want the peasants to know my purpose."

EX-STATE TREASURER

Found Guilty on Charge of Embezzlement

WASHBURN, N. D., June 29—A jury found a verdict of guilty on the charge of embezzling $54.03 against G. E. Bickford, former state treasurer, last night. Bickford was charged with embezzling $60,000 while he was also president of the First National bank of Bowbells. The state recovered the money and Bickford was found guilty of embezzling the amount of the interest which the state lost while he had the money in his possession.

HARVARD AND YALE

Big Boat Race Between Crews Takes Place Tomorrow

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29.—Two score of well bronzed athletes, the leading exponents of rowing at Harvard and at Yale, having practically completed their aquatic tuition for the year, spent the day in husbanding their strength, calming their nerves and practicing a few racing starts for the supreme tests tomorrow in the annual regatta between the two universities. For four of the six crews, the freshmen and the 'varsity substitute fours, only two miles of the Thames remain to be covered while for the two big varsity eights there is a four mile struggle before the finish of the year's rowing can be reached. What that finish will be was a source of almost continuous debate today among the old graduates, the students and the host of followers of the sport who streamed into this old whaling city on trains, yachts and motorcars. Old oarsmen who had pulled for Harvard or for Yale in former years did not linger long in the city. The crew quarters, five miles up the river, proved strong magnets and the chance which comes but once a year of swapping rowing stories and fighting old aquatic battles over again was not to be ignored.

Then again there might be an opportunity of seeing some of the crews polishing off their training by practicing starts. Another event of the day was the preliminary races of the afternoon as a sort of curtain raiser for tomorrow's sport. These were planned to consist of a mile spurt for freshman substitute fours and a graduates eight oared race over the same distance, both in the upper reaches of the Thames opposite the quarters. The graduate eights were not made up until late in the afternoon.

A WHIST CLUB ROW

Two Women Begin Action to Recover $3.71 Each

SALEM, June 29.—A hearing was held before Judge Bell in a jury waived session of the Essex county superior court yesterday, on the bill in equity arising from trouble in the camp of the "Nahant Four Hundred," a whist club consisting of the wives and sisters of eight prominent business men and hotel proprietors of Nahant and Lynn.

Ranged on either side of the court room, the two factions of the club, supported by their many women friends, sat all during the forenoon session and until the middle of the afternoon, awaiting the time when their case would be called.

Mrs. Ida Morine of Nahant, who with her husband runs one of the largest cottages there, and Mrs. Edith Benz, wife of a Lynn manufacturer, were the complainants. Mrs. Addie C. Fuller, wife of a Bass Point hotel proprietor, and sister-in-law of Mrs. Morine; Mrs. Marguerite Woodworth, niece of Mrs. Morine; Mrs. Laura M. Pankhurst, sister of Mr. Morine; Miss Ruth Kollock, Mrs. Grace M. Southwick and Mrs. Hallbauer, who with her husband operates a large pavilion at Bass Point, are the defendants.

The amount of money involved in the case is said to be approximately $3.71, due each of the two complainants from the proceeds of a dance given by the club at Bass Point in May, 1910, or at least from the balance after the members of the club had taken a trip to Boston, including a visit to a Boston theatre in the afternoon, a dinner and then another theatre in the evening, plus a few auto rides in the interim.

Neither Mrs. Morine nor Mrs. Benz, it is stated, took in this little excursion nor did they receive their proportionate parts of the remainder. The bill in equity comes as a result, and it is said that the whole difficulty arose as a result of differences over a whist prize that proved a "drug on the market."

Mrs. Morine when called to the stand, said that it had been the custom of the club to divide the proceeds from the club's annual dance equally among the members.

This division, however, came after a pleasure trip to Boston, including dinners and theatre parties. She said that her sister, Mrs. Pankhurst, one of the defendants, had said that she received $18.20 as her portion of the fund.

On cross-examination she denied that at the dance she asked some of the women to "come to my house for some good ice cream for they are serving mush here."

Her testimony was practically corroborated by Mrs. Benz.

SLIGHTLY INJURED

Man Fell Distance of 500 Feet in a Biplane

CHICAGO, June 29.—John J. Joyce fell 500 feet in a biplane at Hawthorn park yesterday and escaped with only slight injuries. He broke through five telephone wires, one trolley wire and a heavy wooden lookstop for a baseball diamond. The biplane was literally ground to pieces but Joyce escaped with only a sprained ankle, a scratched face and a possible minor fracture of one of the small bones of the leg.

Joyce fell in the course of an instruction flight he had undertaken for several pupils who were at the park. He was operating his 50 horse power biplane when his engine went dead.

Swooping like a hawk, the machine dashed upon the telephone wires and then fell at a changed angle upon the trolley wire, through which no current was running. Just before the biplane hit this wire Joyce leaped from the machine. He landed on the trolley wire and this broke the force of his fall and twisted his body so that he alighted squarely on his feet.

ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF INSTRUCTION

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 29.—School teachers and others engaged in different phases of educational endeavor are in this city today when the 51st annual convention of the American Institute of Instruction was opened. The institute is the oldest educational association in America. The central theme of the meeting will be "The Educational Interests in New England," as the institute is primarily a New England organization.

Governor Aram Pothier and Mayor Fletcher were present to welcome the visiting teachers when the 1st day was opened today and Walter E. Ranger, state commissioner of public schools, welcomed them on behalf of the teachers of the state. Vice President Charles F. Whitcomb of Dartmouth presided for the institute. The address was by Payson Smith, Maine state superintendent of public schools, followed his annual address and William A. Mowry, Ph. D., spoke on the topic "What shall we do with the troublesome boys."

Following the meeting a reception was held by Governor Pothier at the state house and in the afternoon the educators took a steamboat excursion to Newport.

Captain Richmond Pierson Hobson will address the institute tonight and meetings will be continued the remainder of the week.

BLAZE ON THE OHIO

Quick Work in Flooding the Battleship Magazine

NEW YORK, June 29.—Fire in the after turret of the battleship Ohio at the navy yard in Brooklyn yesterday necessitated the flooding of the powder magazine below as a precaution against an explosion.

The fire smouldered for half an hour along the heavy rubber insulation of electric wire and a quantity of cotton waste.

The fire alarm was sounded on the battleship shortly after 4 this afternoon, and when the crew and officers reached the after turret they found it filled with smoke from the burning rubber.

Realizing that quantities of ammunition were stored in the magazine only a few feet below the turret, as a fire precaution, the automatic apparatus which is provided for flooding the magazine in cases of danger was turned on and the ship's fire hose was brought out to fight the flames.

The blaze is believed to have originated by the dropping of a hot rivet on the insulation of the wires which operate the electric ammunition hoist. In compliance with a recent order issued by the navy department workmen were installing a so-called bulkhead or steel partition between the two rooms of the turret.

The work was nearly done and the men were riveting the steel plates together when, it is said, one of the rivets was dropped.

As the Ohio was practically in readiness to put to sea, most of the men of her crew and officers were aboard ship at the time, and the excitement of the blaze spread to the navy yard. The battleships North Dakota and Alabama were also at anchor nearby.

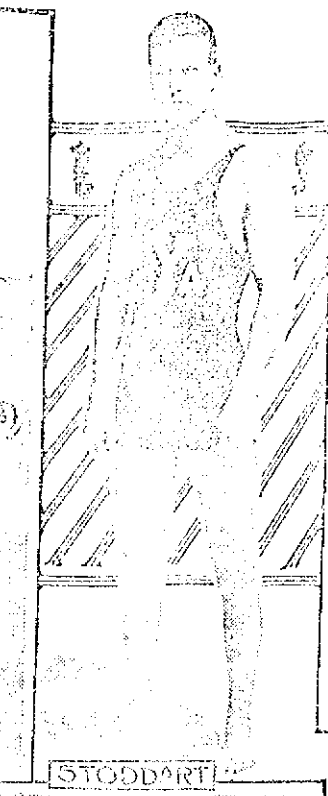

At the navy yard last night officials were very reticent about the fire and no one was allowed aboard the Ohio to inquire further details than had been brought ashore during the evening.

It is said smoke was seen issuing from the turret for nearly an hour and at about 5 o'clock it was extinguished.

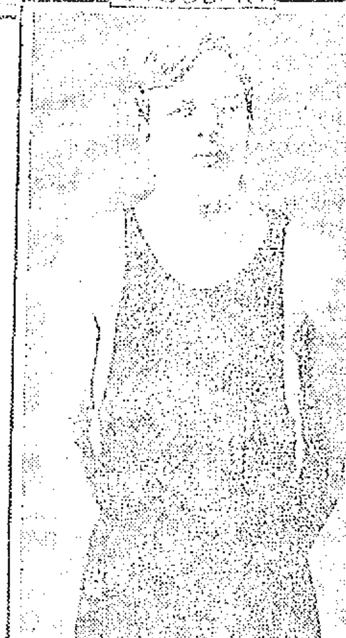

The powder magazine is said to have been situated seven feet below the turret and contained about 2000 pounds of powder in cans and a considerable quantity of other ammunition.

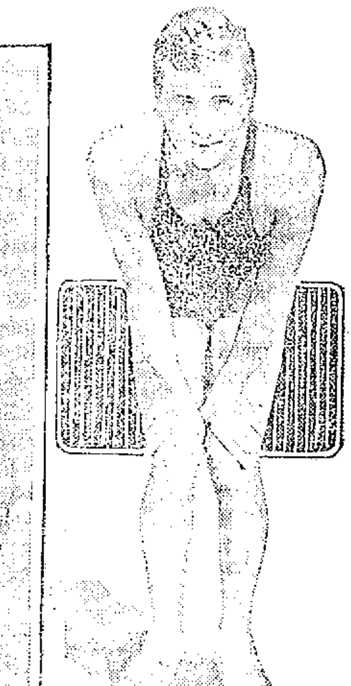

STAR SWIMMERS READY TO COMPETE FOR OUTDOOR TITLES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 29.—The water carnival at Sheepshead Bay on July 8 to decide the outdoor championships of the Intercollegiate Swimming association promises to be the best in history. Ten colleges will be represented—viz: Yale, Columbia, Pennsylvania, college of the city of New York, Princeton, Cornell, Amherst, Brown, Williams and Syracuse. There are promised over sixty entries for the five events on the program. Cracks from all over the country are down to compete. Among those entered are McAleenan, O. Smith, O'Sullivan, the New York cracks, and Stoddart of Yale. Several new records are expected.

EX-PRESIDENT'S WIFE

Mrs. Cleveland and Her Children Visited Lowell Yesterday

Mrs. Florence Folsom Cleveland, widow of the late ex-President Grover Cleveland, and daughters, passed through this city on their way to the White mountains yesterday. They took dinner at the New American House and took on a supply of gasoline at the garage of the Lowell Automobile corporation in Appleton street.

Mrs. Cleveland and her daughters came direct from their home in Princeton, N. J. They went from here to Hampton beach, and after making a tour of the beaches will go to the White mountains, where they will remain for a few weeks. The party registered at the New American house but Mrs. Cleveland was not recognized as the wife of the late ex-president.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES

Funeral of the Late Thos. Walsh

Impressive services were held over the remains of the late Thomas Walsh yesterday. The body was consigned to its last resting place at the Lowell cemetery.

The services were held at the late home of the deceased, 104 Eleventh street, and were very largely attended delegations from the following orders being present: Ancient York, A. F. and A. M., Mt. Horeb, Royal Arch Chapter, Ahasuerus council and Pilgrim commandery, No. 9. There were also delegations from the Lowell Textile school, of which deceased was a director; City library, of which deceased was a trustee, and the Hamilton Mfg. Co., of which he was superintendent.

The Rev. S. W. Cummings who officiated, delivered an eloquent eulogy on the deceased, and several appropriate hymns were rendered by Mrs. W. H. Pepin. There was a very large number of floral designs from the friends and relatives of the deceased as a last tribute of esteem. The bearers were six members of the family.

Burial took place in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, where the committal service was conducted by the members of Pilgrim commandery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

EX-OFFICER FURLONG

Died Recently at the Soldiers' Home

The many friends of John P. Furlong, for several years a member of the Lowell police force, but for the past few years an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, at Togus, Me., will be surprised to learn of his death which occurred a few weeks ago at Togus. Owing to the fact that with the exception of one nephew Joseph Furlong, he has no relatives in this city, no word was sent here at the time of his death.

The deceased was an old and well known resident of this city and for over 20 years was employed by the late Daniel Gage. He was appointed on the police force during the administration of the late John J. Donovan. After several years' service he was forced to resign on account of rheumatism and some few years ago left Lowell and went to the Soldiers' Home, being a veteran of the Civil war. For many years he was prominent in the Hibernians and other organizations and was known as a ready and able debater. He is survived by one son in Boston and one daughter, residing in Detroit. The remains were interred in the cemetery connected with the Soldiers' Home.

REP. TOOMEY PRAISED

For His Position on Important Matters

Sen. Pearson undoubtedly feels that his colleague on the committee on federal relations—Eugene F. Toomey—is a most obstinate young man. Sen. Pearson devoted a good deal of time in trying to teach the young Lowell man the error of his ways when the income tax proposition and direct election of United States senators was before the committee. He finally concluded that he and Rep. Toomey could not agree on a political proposition for the young man from Lowell stood firm when the slightest wavering on his part might have changed the fate of these resolutions in the committee.

But the senate chairman again had hopes when he appointed Rep. Toomey to serve with him on a sub-committee to draft a substitute for Martin Lomasney's Russian-Jew resolutions, which, as John Haigis said, declared war against Russia. But Rep. Toomey stood firm for the original resolutions and couldn't be made to see the beauties of an anaemic substitute. He stood out and in the full committee Reps. Harding and Scigliano stood out with him which made it possible for Martin to make his fight in the house for substitution, in which fight, by the way, Rep. Haigis put it over the ward eight leader going and coming. Substitution was defeated and then, on snap judgment, Martin tried to kill the Pearson order but was routed again.

Rep. Toomey has been one of the most earnest and conscientious representatives at the state house this year. He is a democrat and can always be depended upon to stand by democratic principles. He hasn't missed a single rollcall this year. Before coming to the hill he made an excellent record as a public servant in four years' service on the Lowell school board.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

A meeting of the officers and directors of the Chelmsford board of trade will be held at Col. Ripley's residence Friday evening.

Great preparations are being made for the union picnic of St. John's and St. Catherine's parishes, which will be held at Nabnasset grove on July 1.

Baseball games between the married and single men of the two parishes will be a prominent feature of the sports and will be played in the morning. At 1 o'clock a children's entertainment will take place and will be followed by a good program of sports in the afternoon, the feature of which will be the 100 yards open dash, for which entries of many crack sprinters have been received. Dancing will be held in the hall during the evening. The ladies of the two parishes, with Mrs. William J. Quigley as matron, will see that no one runs short in the way of refreshments, arrangements having also been made for the providing of a good supper at a moderate price.

GATES HAS ABSCESS

Was Obliged to Undergo Seven Operations

PARIS, June 29.—John W. Gates, who had arranged to sail for New York with Mrs. Gates and Lord Cowdray, has been obliged to postpone his departure owing to his serious illness. He hopes, however, to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse in a few days should his health permit. Mr. Gates, who came to Europe with Mrs. Gates a month ago, made a flying visit to England a fortnight later. On his return here he complained of pains in his throat and consulted a well known French surgeon, who found an abscess and regarded it as necessary to operate immediately. The financier has since undergone seven operations. The successive operations have left a wound an inch and a half deep.

FINDS FOR THE WIFE

Court Decides Against Newburyport Man

SALEM, June 29.—Justice Bell upheld the contention yesterday of Mrs. Sarah M. Clark of Newburyport that she wedded John W. Clark on June 6, 1858. The legality of the union was never questioned by the husband until after his release from the state insane hospital at Danvers two years ago, when he astounded his family with the announcement that he was never married.

Mrs. Clark testified yesterday that she was married by a clergyman in Nashua, N. H., June 6, 1858, and after the ceremony drove back with her husband to Lowell; was given a marriage certificate, but had not seen it for 25 years.

"A few days after the wedding," she said, "we made our home with Mr. Clark's mother. He told his mother that we were wedded. Our first child was born in Lowell, March 25, 1860. Three more children were born in Lowell.

"In 1867 I removed with my husband and children to Amesbury. Later we lived in Newmarket, N. H., and then returned to Amesbury and subsequently to Newburyport, where we have since resided.

"My husband is 74 years old, a carriage maker and during the Civil war served in Co. C, 8th Mass. regt.

"The first time that he ever stated that he was not married to me was when he was discharged from the state insane asylum at Danvers, two years ago. He was under treatment in the institution 10 months."

Mrs. Clark identified an entry in a Bible in the handwriting of Mr. Clark which stated that they were married June 6, 1858.

Edwin P. Stone, agent for the state committee on military aid, submitted an application filed by Clark for aid to his wife, also an affidavit that he was married at Nashua, N. H., June 6, 1858. Elizabeth Fenton, a granddaughter of Clark, testified that she found him unconscious in his home at Newburyport, Sept. 15, 1908. He was removed to the Anna Jacques hospital and then to the hospital in Danvers.

John W. Clark testified that he is two years older than Mrs. Clark. "I took her to my mother's home," he said, "to live and told my mother that we were married. I did so on account of pity and because she said she would end her life. I guess I did like her well enough to take care of her.

"I wrote the entry in the Bible, but did it only to allay suspicion. Twenty years ago I endeavored to have a wedding ceremony performed on account of the children. She has left me on four occasions and has not lived with me the past eight years."

George P. Rodham, counsel for Mrs. Clark, read letters received from Rev. Charles J. Hill, now of Orange, N. J., who resided in Nashua, N. H., in 1858, and whom Mrs. Clark declared officiated at her wedding. Rev. Mr. Hill stated in his letter that he had no records of marriages which he had performed in Nashua in 1858. He left Nashua suddenly on account of illness, and that record of the marriage records which he kept might have been lost.

DEATHS

ROARK—Miss Mary Roark, aged 61 years, died Wednesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Anne O'Rourke, 1017 Central street. Deceased leaves two sisters, Mrs. Anne O'Rourke of Lowell and Mrs. Peter McKiernan of New Haven, Conn.

Mr. Owen Gulay of Eleventh street has completed a special course at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. Mr. Gulay is an expert on the piano and organ and his friends will be pleased to hear of his success.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Edward Vaughn of Leverett street, and Miss Helen Winn of Cedar street, were united in marriage yesterday, the ceremony being performed at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. Fr. Mullin. The bridesmaid was a sister of the bride, Miss Mary Winn, and the best man was Mr. Joseph Vaughn, a brother of the groom.

BLAKE—HOLMAN

Mr. Chester A. Blake and Miss Anna M. Holman were united in marriage by Rev. A. Frederick Dunnels yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Holman, 35 Highland avenue.

COUGHLIN—BURKE

Miss Helen A. Burke of Westford was yesterday united in marriage to Mr. Daniel J. Coughlin of this city. The ceremony, which took place at 2 o'clock, was performed by the Rev. Fr. Schofield at the parochial residence at North Chelmsford.

A sister of the bride, Miss Catherine Burke of Westford was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Malachi Craig of Lowell acted as best man.

The bride was tastefully attired in a cadet blue traveling suit which set off her attractions in a charming manner. The bridesmaid was gowned in blue silk. Clusters of beautiful roses carried by the bride and bridesmaid added to their attractiveness.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin left on a wedding journey to New York, in which city they will make an extended visit.

On their return, about August 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin will reside on Burlington avenue, this city.

FUNERALS

PELTIER—The funeral of the late Leon Peltier, who was accidentally drowned at Willow Dale Sunday evening, took place yesterday from the home of his parents, 8 Exeter street. The large cortege proceeded to St. Louis' church, where at 10 o'clock high mass of requiem was sung by the Rev. R. A. Fortier. The choir under the direction of Mr. Oliver J. David rendered the Gregorian chant, Miss Ida Montrain presiding at the organ. The bearers were Omer and Oscar Palmchaud, John and Joseph Lessard, Arthur Vincent and Wilfred Daigle. Interment was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert. Among the many floral tributes were: Spray of pinks, John Lessard; spray of pinks, class 1911, Greenhalge school; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fernald; bouquet of pinks and roses, P. Crane; cut circle on base, employes of the knitting room of the Lawrence hosiery; spray, Mrs. Annehman; spray, Mr. and Mrs. James McCauley; wreath, Mr. David Benoit and Mrs. Ida Peltier.

TROLLEY MERGER

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS ARE ASKED TO APPEAR

BOSTON, June 29.—The Boston & Northern and the Old Colony street railway companies have petitioned the railroad commissioners for approval of the merger recently authorized by act of the legislature. The companies ask the board to give its approval to an increase in the capital stock of the Boston & Northern company by the issue of preferred shares not exceeding 7767, amounting at par value to $776,-700, and by the issue of common shares not exceeding 50,041, amounting at par value to $5,004,100, said shares to be issued for the purpose of carrying out the terms of said agreement and in exchange for the outstanding preferred and common shares of the Old Colony Street Railway company, the certificates of the last named shares to be upon exchange surrendered and cancelled.

RICHARD COWELL

FORMER LOWELL MAN GETS A GOOD POSITION

Mr. Cowell has been overseer of weaving at the Pierce mill in New Bedford for several years.

The mill to which Mr. Cowell goes is one of the new plants in Fall River and the position which he will assume is one of great responsibility. The mill will be started this coming fall with an equipment of 1200 looms and 52,000 spindles. It is finely situated on the shores of Mount Hope bay and is to be equipped with the most modern machinery.

Mr. Cowell was overseer of weaving in the Boott mills here before being appointed superintendent. Before coming to Lowell he was designer in the Grinnell mills in New Bedford.

WINNING CREWS IN GREAT ANNUAL INTERCOLLEGIATE ROWING REGATTA ON HUDSON RIVER OFF POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 29.—The Cornell rowing crews again demonstrated their superior ability as watermen in the intercollegiate regatta held on the Hudson river course off Poughkeepsie by winning the varsity eight oared race and the four oared contest. The Cornell varsity eight covered the four mile course in 20 minutes 10 4-5 seconds. The regatta thus resulted in another triumph for Coach Courtney of the Ithaca (N. Y.) seat of learning. Columbia university won the eight oared freshman race, with Cornell second.

SECRETARY NAGEL, WHOSE REPORT ON STEEL TRUST IS AWAITED

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Secretary of Commerce and Labor Charles Nagel expresses himself as thoroughly satisfied with the report of Commissioner of Corporations Herbert Knox Smith regarding the status and methods of the steel trust. Mr. Smith has been investigating the formation and business operations of the trust under the direction of Secretary Nagel and President Taft. The object of the probe has been to ascertain whether or not the United States Steel company has violated the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law. The contents of the report, now in the hands of Secretary Nagel, are strictly guarded. It is believed that the recent trend of revelations in the congressional investigation of steel indicates in a general way the nature of the report. It is not the function of the commissioner of corporations to recommend prosecutions, but he may indicate the desirability of action against the trust investigated. Upon the specific question of the steel trust's absorption of Tennessee Coal and Iron it is learned that the commissioner states all of the facts, but a reading between the lines may indicate a general belief on his part that the merger was justified or at least that the officials, President Roosevelt et al., who sanctioned it believed at the time that it was good public policy to countenance the absorption. The publication of the report is eagerly awaited in financial centres throughout the country.

FOR STATE AUDITOR

Rep. Barlow and Sen. White Leading Candidates for Position

BOSTON, June 29.—Senator John White of Marthas Vineyard and Representative Barlow of Lowell are among the candidates mentioned today for the state auditorship.

Auditor Henry E. Turner's death last night makes it necessary for the legislature to elect his successor.

Senator White is a native of Lawrence. The republicans control the situation on joint ballot and no candidate of the democrats has appeared as yet.

KATHERINE BROWN

BECOMES THE BRIDE OF LIEUT. BARNETT

ELKINS, W. Va., June 29.—Katherine Davis Brown, daughter of Captain R. M. Brown, U. S. N., a hero of Samoa, and granddaughter of former United States Senator Henry Cassaway Davis, was married at noon today to Lieutenant Chester P. Barnett of the third artillery, U. S. A., and stationed at San Antonio, Texas.

The ceremony was held in the spacious hall of Graceland, the residence of the former senator. The altar, constructed of a rhododendrons, chrysanthemums and American beauty roses rose to a height of fourteen feet.

Rev. F. H. Barron of the Davis Memorial Presbyterian church here, held the ceremony, following which a reception was held, attended by many from Washington, New York and Baltimore.

THE LAWRENCE CASES

Another Sensation May Develop Soon

LAWRENCE, June 29.—A sensational development, which, it is said, is the outgrowth of rumors connected with the story of one or more jurors in the recently tried alleged conspiracy cases being approached, is expected at any time, as it is understood that a bench warrant will be sought, if it is not already issued, for the arrest of somebody connected with the trial. It is also said that the district attorney's office is busy investigating the reports in connection with the deliberations of the jury, and it is expected that a move is about to be made which will startle the whole county.

During the trial rumors were afloat that some jurors had been approached, and it is understood that several state officers were detailed to watch every move made by the men impaneled to hear the cases.

Whatever may have transpired while the jurors were under the watchful eyes of the state officers is a matter of conjecture, but from the persistent rumors which have spread in the past few days, it is understood that a big sensation will soon be sprung.

WOMAN IS ARRESTED

Charged With Murder of Which Man Was Convicted

PHILADELPHIA, June 29. — Accused of killing Emil Amann at Warren, Pa., on Jan. 27 last, Mrs. Stella Hodge, 35, of that place, is being held at police headquarters here pending action by the Warren police.

The sensational feature of the arrest lies in the fact that John M. Andrews, formerly superintendent of the Water Works company of Warren, was only a few days ago convicted of murdering Amann, despite his vigorous protestations of innocence. Andrews' attorney was James Scarlett, who did legal work in the capitol graft trials at Harrisburg and for the United States government in the powder trust case.

THE KING AND QUEEN

Made Another Tour of Streets of London Today

LONDON, June 29.—King George and Queen Mary accompanied by the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary made still another trip through the capital today. Although the procession lacked the ceremonial and military display of those of last week popular interest was undiminished and from Buckingham palace to the city and back through Northeast London great crowds cheered their majesties.

The object of today's procession was to attend the coronation thanksgiving ceremony at St. Paul's and afterward to lunch with the lord mayor and the corporation at Guildhall.

The procession, consisting of four carriages with the members of the royal family and the chief officers of state and their ladies was accompanied by the usual picturesque escort. The route was lined by 15,000 troops, each regiment accompanied by its band.

The lord mayor and the sheriffs met the king at Temple Bar and preceded him to St. Paul's, thence to Guildhall, and, after luncheon there, to the city boundary. Upwards of 700 guests sat down to the luncheon, which was served in the lavish style for which the corporation is famous.

THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE

Two Companies Yielded to Demands of Men

LONDON, June 29.—The situation resulting from the seamen's strike was much involved today but standing out boldly was the fact that the strikers' measures for obtaining increased wages were effective in many places.

The Canadian Pacific railroad and the Allan line yielded this morning. The Cunard line is expected to follow suit. The stewards of the Empress of Britain have returned to work and the loading of the Tunisian has been resumed. The stewards of the Arabic of the White Star line, due to sail for Boston on Saturday, and the Bovic and Suevic of the same line quit today and have picketed their ships.

TORPEDO DESTROYER

In Collision With an Unknown Schooner

MAN HELD UP

IS SUSPECTED TO BE WANTED ON EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 29.—A man who appeared at the United States army offices here to enlist, giving his name as Michael Ferguson of Providence, has been held to allow the Rhode Island authorities to look him over.

Word was received from Rhode Island today that the man might be Michael McConnel of Pawtucket, who is wanted at Providence for the alleged embezzlement from an insurance company there. Suspicion attached itself to the man when he declined to permit the army officers to take an impression of his fingers.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

It was hardly to be expected that the bill providing for an amendment of the state constitution so as to permit the referendum should pass with so little agitation in advance. The time is not far distant, however, when the state legislature will vote in favor of that amendment so that direct legislation may be favored at least in a restricted degree.

The Massachusetts senators joined the New England delegation if indeed they did not lead it in opposition to the popular election of U. S. senators. There were nine votes from New England registered against the resolve, and Senator Brandegee of Connecticut was absent. This indicates that the New England senators are not with the people in seeking this reform.

The legislative committee on judiciary has reported a bill providing for a workman's compensation law. The measure is so late in coming before the house that it is difficult to see how it can be properly discussed at this late stage in the session. Like many other necessary reforms it is likely to be put over till the next legislature, when it may receive more careful attention.

The condition of the Merrimack river between the Aiken street and Central bridges is not any worse than that of the lower Concord which never seems to receive any attention from the board of health. The Concord is so badly contaminated that it is a menace to the public health. From the Lowell Rendering works down the condition of the river is actually filthy and demands the attention of the state board of health or some other authority with power to apply the remedy.

THE TARIFF ON WOOL

Under the high protective tariff on wools and woolens, the production of wool in this country did not increase as might be expected. In 1891 the total number of sheep in the United States was 43,419,136 and the wool product 303,401,507, whereas last year the number of sheep was 41,999,500 and the wool output 321,362,750. The effect of the Payne-Aldrich law was not so magical as the friends of the measure anticipated in increasing the production of wool.

SCHOOL YARDS FOR PLAY

The park board is doing a good thing for the children in fitting up a number of the school yards as playgrounds to be open to the children during the vacation. Most of the school yards can be used in this way during vacation without the slightest damage to the property. The children will be led to understand that if they deface the buildings or fences in any way the yard will be closed up.

FITCHBURG'S GOOD LUCK

The city of Fitchburg, according to the Daily News of that city, has received a bequest of 73 acres of land with buildings thereon to be used for the purposes of a consumptives' hospital. Good for Fitchburg! That will form a nucleus around which a large institution can be built up. The city that is without a hospital for consumptives is behind the times. Lowell has not yet tackled the proposition of establishing such a hospital. The time is not far distant when it must have one or stand alone among the progressive cities of the state.

THE CHARTER TO BE ENACTED

The new charter having passed the house to be engrossed will probably now be submitted to the people as it should be.

The work of education must begin. This charter is not the charter of any coterie, any party or any class. It is the evolution of municipal necessity, the effort of misgoverned cities to reduce their business to a strictly business basis.

There is a difference of opinion as to what the result of the charter will be, and Haverhill and Lynn are mentioned as cities in which this form of charter is said not to have given satisfaction. But it is almost too soon to judge of results in either city as the original opponents of this form of charter have been trying in every way possible to discredit it, in spite of the fact that the showing in Haverhill is entirely creditable.

We may expect the same result in Lowell. The opposition will die hard, but it is to be hoped that sensible men who must realize the need of a change will cease to predict that this charter means injustice to any class. Autocrats, they say, would rule at city hall. Well, let them rule and rule wisely, but just as soon as they abuse their power the people can step in and apply one or more of the weapons provided for this purpose, to wit, the recall, the initiative and the referendum.

The citizens under the new charter would have absolute power over their elected officials and no "sell-out" is possible. Anything supposed to be dishonest can be held up for investigation by the people.

This new charter will banish for all time the official who makes a lot of promises to his constituents and disregards his promises after election. It will put an end to deadlocks at city hall and will in other ways promote the city's interests. The present office holders will all have a chance to run for office under the new charter. None of their political rights is taken away or abridged. On the contrary the people are vested with powers such as they never before wielded, powers to be used for the rights and interests of the municipality whenever occasion requires their use. It is quite probable that the good sense of this community will so far prevail that the charter will be adopted by a handsome majority. Those who paint imaginary pictures of the cataclysm that will result if this new charter be adopted will soon attain distinction as false prophets once this new method shall have been applied to the city's business.

SEEN AND HEARD

Accompanied by an instructor, the new entry into the automobile field was out, bright and early, in his new touring car. They were circling the park in rather a wobbly fashion.

"I suppose," he casually remarked to the chauffeur, as he took a fresh grasp on the speed lever, "that you have been around with worse than I?"

The man gave no answer.

"I say," he repeated in a louder voice, "I suppose you have been around this course with worse than I?"

"I heard very well, sir, what you said in the first place," replied the man. "I'm just a-thinkin' about it."—Metropolitan Magazine.

"Booth Tarkington is very difficult to please in matters theatrical," said a famous Philadelphia novelist. "Tarkington was visiting me here during the run of one of his own plays, and after dinner one evening we sauntered to the theatre. But the doorkeeper did not know us and for a time refused to let us in. Finally, though, Tarkington's identity was established and we were conducted to a stage box.

"The performance wasn't up to much. Tarkington fidgeted in his chair and at the end of the first act he suggested that we go. On our way out I saw my illustrious friend peering anxiously about the lobby.

"'What are you looking for?' I said.

"'I'm looking,' said Tarkington, 'for that chap who wouldn't let us in. I want to give him a quarter.'"—New York Press.

The following may interest Lowell people who have visited Washington and who have been through the subway there:

Between the national capitol and the new senate building communication is had by a subway about a furlong in length. Instead of following a direct line from building to building, this subway makes a majestic double curve in the form of the letter S.

A party of tourists recently "doing" the capital were riding through this under-ground way on the little electric carry-all that flits back and forth between the buildings. The curving path excited the curiosity of the precocious miss of 12.

"I wonder why they built this tunnel so crooked?" she inquired generally of the party.

"Why, because a curved line is so much more beautiful than a rigid straight line would be, of course," said the big sister, who was sentimentally inclined.

"But," replied the miss, "it would be much more beautiful to look down a long vista with the million electric lights twinkling along the length of it than the cut-off view we get in this crooked way. You're wrong, sister."

"Why, the reason's plain," oracularly spoke big sister's fiance, who is a lawyer by trade. "The subway follows the public thoroughfares, so that it will not trespass on private property."

"Why, even I know that all the property around here belongs to the government, and Uncle Sam couldn't trespass on himself," objected the precocious one. "I'm ashamed of you for a brother-in-law."

"Built it that way so's to make it longer and get more fat graft for the contractors," was papa's sage explanation, having handled contracts himself.

"But this subway wasn't built by contract," answered the little daughter. "You're as much at fault as any of them."

"Why, they built it curving thus to make the grade from the building to the capitol more gentle and therefore easier for people, especially decrepit senators, to walk over," wheezed auntie, who weighed two hundred and hated climbing.

"But, auntie, it's practically level all the way through," said the young miss. "I'm going to find out from one who knows."

"Oh, that's easy," he replied in response to the query. "We built that subway by making an open cut from the senate building to the capitol, putting in the masonry and then filling in. If we had made the open cut in a straight line we would have had to destroy a lot of our historic old elms that lay directly between the buildings, so we dug an open cut in a curve to avoid them. That's all."—New York Times.

WOMAN INJURED

SHE WAS KNOCKED UNDER THE HOOFS OF HORSES

BAR HARBOR, Me., June 29.—This aristocratic summer resort was stirred by a carriage accident yesterday, when the fashionable wife of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean of Washington, D. C., parents of "the $100,000 baby," ran over and injured Mrs. Jackson Webber, the wife of a barber on Main street.

So frightened was Mrs. McLean, who before her marriage was Miss Evelyn Walsh of Denver, that she fainted and had to be removed to her summer home. Mrs. Webber's injuries are not serious.

While Mr. and Mrs. McLean were driving down the street in a victoria carriage behind a pair of high spirited horses, Mrs. Webber suddenly stepped in front of the vehicle.

Before the coachman could bring the horses to a standstill the woman had been knocked under the feet of the animals. In his endeavor to stop the span, the coachman backed the carriage over Mrs. Webber's prone form.

Mr. McLean assisted in removing the injured woman to her home.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

The members of the Educational club enjoyed an outing at Salem Willows Tuesday and like other events conducted by the club it proved to be a success. The party left Merrimack square at 8.15 o'clock in the morning and arrived at the Ocean View house at 11.30, where they were entertained. Dinner was served at noon and a social hour followed, after which an enjoyable trip was made by steamer along the North Shore. The party left Salem on the return trip at 4.30 p. m. The next outing will be at Canobie Lake July 11.

BOXES WERE OPENED

The quarterly box opening was held at the Gorham Street P. M. church last night. Joseph Sutcliff, assistant superintendent of the Sunday school, presided. A good program was provided. At the conclusion of the program the boxes were opened and were found to contain over $5, the blue side winning the banner. The program: Singing by the school; prayer by Rev. N. W. Matthews; song, Harry Pascall; concertina solo, Edward Clegg; addresses by the pastor and Dr. Edward E. Kinney; opening of the boxes by Dr. Kinney.

ON HIS WHEEL CHAIR

William Graff Has Covered 22,000 Miles

Although helpless in every limb except his left arm, but smiling as cheerfully as though he were as supple as an acrobat, William Graff of Toledo, Ohio, arrived in this city at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, wheeling himself in a wheel chair.

Graff is 38 years old, and for the past 25 years he has been a victim of muscular rheumatism. He is wandering about the face of the earth in an effort to obtain enough money to take a special course of treatment which cured his twin brother of the same malady.

The invalid left home in Toledo, O., three years ago and in that time he has covered nearly 22,000 miles, his only means of transportation being his wheel chair. He has wheeled himself through various parts of the United States, of Central and South America, as well as through Mexico, China and Japan; but he says he regrets his ventures into foreign countries, because he was unable to make any money as he does in this country by selling postcards and small articles which he makes with his one good hand.

That same left hand furnishes the motor power of the wheel chair. Graff propels his own conveyance by turning first one wheel and then the other. When he first started on the road he used a chair in which he had rigged up a motor, but this soon broke down. Then he built an automobile after his own design, but this too was unable to survive the rigors of the long journey, and Graff constructed the chair he now uses. It is an ordinary invalid's chair, and he has to push it along by hand, but he says it gives promise of taking him farther on his way than either of the other contrivances. He says he can make 25 miles a day when the weather is favorable.

Graff's last stopping place before coming to this city was Holyoke. He will visit Boston and Lawrence after spending a few days in this city.

A NEW AUTO RECORD

Burman Made a Mile in 51 Seconds

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 29.—Bob Burman, world's speed king, driving his 200-horse power Blitzen Benz, established a new circular track record for the mile at Comstock park yesterday afternoon by traveling the distance in the remarkable time of 51 seconds.

Five thousand persons saw the speed king make his dash, which lowered the mark of 51 3-5, made by Barney Oldfield last year with the same car.

The three and 10-mile track records also fell before the onslaught of Burman, when he hurled his 110 Benz over the course in the time of 3m 1s for the three miles and 9m 20 2-5s for the 10 miles.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Man in Mine Was Struck by Lightning

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 29.—While working 1500 feet under ground at 1 a. m. James Conroy of Kingston was struck by lightning and so badly injured that he is not expected to recover.

He did not know there was a storm until his chamber was filled with a blazing light, and he was knocked senseless and was badly burned.

The stroke of lightning had followed the intake of the air current as far as Conroy's chamber. Fortunately, there was no powder or dynamite in the chamber at the time.

This is not the first accident of this kind in this section, and yesterday Foreman Neal McHugh arranged a telephone system at the colliery so that when a lightning storm is approaching the mine workers may be called out of the mine and wait on the surface until the danger is over.

STUDIO FEAST

QUEER SOCIETY FUNCTION WAS HELD IN LONDON

LONDON, June 29.—One of the queerest society functions of the coronation season was given last night by Sir Philip Burne-Jones, the painter, and Sir Richard and Lady Muriel Paget at the Burne-Jones residence. The house was made for the occasion to resemble an atelier in the Latin quarter.

Formal receptions were dispensed with and the guests huddled on the floor on rugs, on the staircases or in the back gardens. The men smoked church wardens and the women cigarettes—if they wished.

If they wanted refreshments they helped themselves from a big cask of lager beer which stood in the corner of the room, wreathed with greens. It was a free and easy affair. All quaffed beer and joined in the chorus of the "Drinking Song."

But the supper, somewhat inconsistently, was one of epicurean delicacy. It was served on the floor or stairs or wherever there was room to put a plate.

HUSBAND CRIPPLED

In Stupor From Liquor His Wife Says

AUGUSTA, Me., June 29.—Sadie P. Williams of Vassalboro has sued Arl and Bessie Wolman of Gardiner for $20,000 damages because, she alleges, they sold her husband, Fred E. Williams, the liquor which so stupefied him, she says, that he lay in a roofless shack from Feb. 27 to March 9 last and froze his feet so that both had to be amputated. He is now a helpless cripple, she claims.

Mrs. Williams has invoked that section of the revised statutes which gives "every wife, child, parent, guardian, husband or other person who is injured in person, property, means of support or otherwise," the right of action against the person who by "selling or giving intoxicating liquors" contributed to the intoxication of the person causing the damage, and the further right to recover "actual and exemplary damages."

The shack where Williams was found was built some years ago as a place for the boys of the neighborhood to play in. It has no door and a large part of the roof is missing. It is near the stock farm in Farmingdale and a short distance from the railroad. It was only by chance that Williams was discovered as it is seldom visited in the winter.

The case will be tried in the supreme court for Kennebec county at the fall term. Williams has been a resident of Winthrop the past 15 years and before that time lived at West Gardiner.

WOMAN MADE FLIGHT

She Went Up Alone in a Farman Biplane

BOSTON, June 29.—The first flight in New England of a woman aviator unattended and the narrow escape from death of an aviation school graduate on his initial directing trip, were the features of "flying" in Boston and vicinity yesterday.

Mrs. J. V. Martin, wife of the Harvard aviator, made her first trip alone from the Waltham aviation field in a Farman biplane. It was the first flight of its kind, so far as is known, in New England.

Eugene Heth of Memphis, Tenn. with Edward Fleet, a mechanician, dropped 100 feet to the edge of Dorchester bay near the Harvard aviation field at Squantum when the crank shaft of his engine broke. The machine landed in a mud pond and the two men escaped with difficulty. It was Heth's first independent trip since his graduation from the Burgess-Wright aviation school.

Mrs. Martin's flight followed a trip of her husband over Waltham and Watertown. It was her intention to fly during the recent meet in the Watch City, but the Farman biplane was not prepared in time. She was enthusiastic over her trip yesterday. She did not fly high, as she wished to familiarize herself with the machine.

"It worked beautifully," she said after she had descended, "and I shall make a number of trips before long. I feel confident the next time I fly it will be for a longer period than today."

Mr. Martin said he, too, will make some extended flights soon. He was to leave for New York last night.

Commuters on outward bound trains on the New Haven railroad, delayed by a coal barge, which struck in the Neponset drawbridge, watched the aviators at Squantum for nearly half an hour.

Heth, who is the first graduate of the Squantum school, made five flights yesterday despite his narrow escape from death on his first trip. He took a passenger each time.

The machine which became disabled in midair belonged to Louis Mitchell of Memphis, Tenn. It was shipped to that city last night for repairs.

Both showed wonderful nerve when the accident happened, gliding as well as he could, though descending with great velocity.

It's a Serious Matter

At the first indication that you have Browntail Moth poisoning do something for it. Toiletine will stop it at once if applied immediately, otherwise it may run for days or weeks. But even then Toiletine cools and soothes and stops the terrific itching. Get a small bottle at your druggist's and use it whenever your skin is irritated. It affords certain relief also for sunburn, prevents blistering and peeling, and keeps the skin in perfect condition.

THE LOSS IS $75,000

Fire Broke Out in Plainville This Morning

PLAINVILLE, June 29.—A three-story wooden building occupied by three jewelry manufacturers and owned by the Plainville Land Co. was practically reduced to a shell by fire early today. A total loss of about $75,000 was suffered by the owners of building and Schofield, Melcher & Schofield, Robinson Bros., and G. A. Gardner & Co., the occupants. The fire started on the first floor from some undetermined cause and had secured a strong foothold when the local fire department, assisted by apparatus from North Attleboro, arrived.

BOSTON MERCHANTS

Guests of the London Chamber of Commerce

LONDON, June 29.—The luncheon given by the London Chamber of Commerce, and the reception at Dorchester House, the American embassy, were among the affairs arranged for the entertainment yesterday of the American business men who are touring Europe under the auspices of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Ambassador Reid, with Mrs. Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, received the members of the party and their wives at the Dorchester House reception. Lord Desborough, president of the London chamber, was in the chair at the luncheon at the Savoy.

One of the speakers for the Americans was John H. Fahey. He incorporated in his after-dinner speech a formal invitation to the British chambers of commerce to send delegates to the fifth annual congress of the Chamber of Commerce which is to be held in Boston in 1912.

Mr. Fahey also emphasized the importance of mutual co-operation by the chambers of commerce of the United States and Great Britain. Lord Desborough, in response, warmly welcomed the invitation, and promised that London would do her share, by sending a full representation.

The day was not devoted to social activity alone, however. The Americans took a long automobile ride about the city and ended up by inspecting the Hampstead Garden City development in the suburbs.

The delegates will stay in London until Saturday, as there remains much to see in the city and its vicinity. A trip to Tilbury, in order to view its dock development, is planned, and there also are the added features of interest just now in progress—the Festival of the Empire at Crystal Palace and the Coronation Exhibition at Shepherd's Bush.

ALMSHOUSE INMATE

Learns She is Heir to Large Estate

BOSTON, June 29.—On board the steamer Franconia which is now steaming on its way to Queenstown, is Annie Flynn, 52 years old, until Tuesday an invalid inmate of the Quincy almshouse, and now on her way to Ireland to claim an estate of which she was dispossessed 25 years ago. Overseer of the Poor James H. Elcock of Quincy, by patient investigation of the woman's claims, which were generally regarded as fanciful and imaginary, made it possible for Miss Flynn to spend the balance of her life in comfort in the home of her childhood.

He learned through correspondence with officials in England and Ireland that the woman had been evicted from her property about 25 years ago and that her case came within the provisions of the law of six years ago which permits the redemption of such estates by proving title and taking possession.

Under the terms of the land-purchase act, Miss Flynn will receive £80 for the restocking of her little farm in Loughrea, County Galway, and the government will loan her money for which she will pay in instalments.

KILLED BY A FALL

Man Dropped Down an Elevator Well

BOSTON, June 29.—Just as the boy operating the elevator in the district attorney's department of the Suffolk county court this morning closed the door on its flight upward, John Kilbridge, a west end liquor dealer, stepped into the narrow opening. As the car shot upward Kilbridge went down into the elevator well. He was picked up dead.

SMUGGLING OF GEMS

Chicago Lawyer Retained in the Case

NEW YORK, June 29.—William S. Forrest, Chicago attorney, has arrived in this city. He has been retained by Nathan Allen, the millionaire leather man of Kenosha, Wis., in the case which the government has brought against him and John R. Collins of Memphis for the alleged smuggling of $1,500,000 worth of jewels into this country, largely for the use of Mrs. Helen Dwelle Jenkins.

Collector Loeb is prosecuting another smuggling case of far greater magnitude, said to involve a wealthy New Yorker who may now plead exemption from paying duty as a non-resident.

Mr. Forrest is working very quietly. A man who is well acquainted with Allen and Forrest said today that the lawyer was probably avoiding the hotels and stopping with some friend in the country near here.

Reports from Allen's home in Kenosha, Wis., say he has been living in seclusion for some time and has since the case broke practically ended his business connections in Kenosha. It is said that he has retired as head of the firm of N. K. Allen & Co. and from the directorate of the First National Bank of Kenosha. He is said to have been succeeded in both positions by his nephew, Chester Allen.

Mrs. Jenkins, on whose testimony Deputy Surveyor Richard Parr bases the case against the two elderly millionaires who showered jewelry upon her, remained secluded in her apartments in the Wellsmere yesterday. She is said to be writing a serial story of her life.

BURGLARS HELD UP

Natick Policeman Discovered Them at Work

BOSTON, June 29.—Two burglars who were discovered robbing the store of Robert Wentworth in Natick yesterday were kept prisoners for over an hour by Patrolman William Hogan, who, single-handed, succeeded in landing both men.

Running first to the rear window and then to the front window firing shots at intervals, the officer for over an hour kept both men prisoners, although they were continually trying to make their escape through the windows.

When the men became desperate in their attempts, Hogan fired several shots close to them, whereupon they surrendered.

In court yesterday morning, before Trial Justice Henry C. Milligan, the men gave their names as Frank Sullivan, 21, 21 Henry street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and James O'Brien, 28 East Sixteenth street, New York. They were held in $1000 for the grand jury. They were remanded to Cambridge jail.

DEATHS

THOMAS—Mrs. Emma A. Thomas, aged 58 years, 7 months, 2 days, died at her home, 42 Marlborough street, yesterday. She is survived by her husband, J. Barlow Thomas, her mother, Mrs. Henry Lewis of Pelham, N. H., and six brothers.

McCORMICK—Miss Margaret McCormick, a former resident of Lowell, died Tuesday morning at her home, 215 Sherburn street, Providence, R. I. Besides her mother, Mrs. Sarah McCormick, she leaves three brothers, Edward, James and William F. McCormick.

PADIAN—Francis Joseph Padian, aged 1 year, 11 months, child of William and Catherine Padian, died this morning at their home, 17 Cedar street.

Sailor ties. No. Billerica, tonight.

Rats and Puffs the Style

Women who cover their heads with masses of false hair will in time have diseased scalps.

Rats and puffs are denounced by doctors as unhygienic dust and germ catchers.

They exclude the air from the scalp, and the pressure on the delicate network of veins soon results in the loss of hair.

These are the ingredients Birt's Head Wash is made of. It removes every trace of dandruff and scales from the scalp and leaves the hair soft and glossy. In hygienic tubes 25c, at drug and department stores.

POST OFFICE INSPECTOR

Looking Over Conditions at the Local Post Office

The presence at the post office for the past few days of Inspector Swift of the postal department at Washington, who appears to be making an investigation of conditions at the local office, has all the employes of the federal building on the qui vive and may result in the development of the local office.

Generally the name "post office inspector" has an ominous sound to the post office employe for there are two different places in the building where they get in and they can observe the employes at work while the employes have no knowledge of their presence, and even the soul of honor feels embarrassed when he feels he is watched by an unknown. This time, however, the inspector is circulating among the employes and everyone knows he is there.

It is impossible to get anyone to talk relative to the presence of the inspector but the common opinion is that Postmaster Lawler who has lived for several years in Washington and has some knowledge of postal affairs, believes that the Lowell post office is not as big a place as it should be and that he is trying to show the men at the front that Lowell is some city and has some post office.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Will It Run or Will It Not

The Dracut selectmen will meet tonight and will decide whether the Lakeview theatre will continue or not. If they decide to close the theatre a howl of indignation will go up, principally, perhaps, from Lowell, which has no vote in Dracut, for the Lakeview theatre has established a first class stock company and is giving the public something comparatively for nothing, that is after one pays a five cent fare to get to Lakeview. The selectmen are sore because the railroad will not give transfers from Collinsville to Lowell, and by the same token it would appear that the railroad wouldn't be giving away much money in so doing, judging from the size of the population of Collinsville and considering the fact that those who desire to reach Pawtucketville or ward seven take the Pelham line, which is the way the selectmen look at it.

ANNUAL YACHT RACE

GREENWICH, Conn., June 29.—The sixth annual race of the Indian Harbor Yacht club from this port to New London was started this morning, but only two craft entered, the Avenger and the Hermes, and both went over the line in a lively northwest breeze. A quick run up the sound was anticipated. The distance is 72 miles, the finish being off Bartlett Reef lightship.

AFTER SMUGGLERS

NEW YORK, June 29.—The greatest activity was displayed by customs inspectors today in a search for smugglers on board the liner Cymric upon her arrival from England.

After the passengers and baggage were landed half a dozen customs inspectors went on board the steamer and searched her from top to bottom.

From now on every steamer from Europe will be thoroughly searched for smugglers. So far as is known no smuggled goods were found.

CLERK DILLINGHAM

Issued a Number of Naturalzation Papers

Clerk William C. Dillingham, the man who has been delivering the papers that make full-fledged citizens, remained at the court house in Gorham street all day though he had decided to close up shop at noon. Mr. Dillingham came here on Tuesday morning and he announced that he would leave at noon today but the demand for naturalization papers was so great that he decided to remain until this evening. All of the papers given out by him this trip were second papers and he will come again within a week or two with first papers.

BOURQUE HELD IN $500

He is Charged With Larceny of a Watch

Paul Bourque of Lowell, who a few days ago was arrested here for the Manchester police, for the alleged larceny of a watch valued at $50, the property of Joseph Beauchemin of the latter city, was arraigned in court at Manchester, N. H., yesterday morning, and denied his guilt of the charge preferred against him.

The complainant, Mr. Beauchemin, testified that on April 15 he met Bourque in Manchester, and the latter was penniless. He took him to his room and a few hours later, Beauchemin was awakened by the landlady, who told him that his friend had left with his watch.

Bourque denied this and was held in the sum of $500 for superior court.

A BIG DREADNOUGHT

The Sevastopol Was Launched Today

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—Russia's first dreadnought, the Sevastopol was launched successfully today from the Baltic works in the presence of the ministry of marine, naval attaches and others. The battleship was laid down on June 16, 1909, and it is expected that another two years will be occupied in equipping the vessel. The Sevastopol has a displacement of 23,000 tons and with 42,000 horsepower is expected to develop a speed of 23 knots an hour. Her length is 590½ feet and the beam is 82 ft. The battleship will carry 2000 tons of coal and 1,170 tons of naphtha. Her armament will consist of twelve 12-inch guns, 16 4-inch guns and smaller artillery. All the vessel and its equipment has been or will be built in Russia. There is no ceremony of christening in Russia but a multitude of spectators with the workmen cheered enthusiastically as the great ship took the waters.

The Poltava, a sister ship of the Sevastopol, will be launched on July 10, the anniversary of the battle of Poltava. The keels of these two battleships and of two others, the Petropavlovsk and the Gangut were laid on the same date and when commissioned they will form the first squadron in the new Baltic fleet.

THE EDDY CASE

TWO AMENDMENTS TO BILL FILED BY GLOVER'S COUNSEL

CONCORD, N. H., June 29.—Counsel for George Glover in the action against the Hon. Henry Baker, executor, and others to test the validity of the will of the late Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, today filed in the superior court for Merrimack county two amendments to their bills. In the first amendment they ask the court to determine the legal domicile of Mrs. Eddy at the time of her death and ask for an injunction to prevent the executor from moving any of the property of the estate from without the jurisdiction of the court until the question has been settled. In the second the plaintiff sets forth that in signing the announcement of November, 1909, he did not so become a part of such actual agreement as in any sense to bind him not to object to any unlawful disposition Mrs. Eddy might attempt to make of her property and he prays that the court will, if necessary, reform in this proceeding the agreement as finally placed in writing and signed by the plaintiff and will hold him bound only to fulfill all the old portions of the agreement actually made and not bound not to object to the validity of the unlawful bequests.

THE USERS OF GAS

Have a Chance to Bother the Inspector

Now if you want to bother the gas man here's your opportunity. The legislature has passed an act relative to meters used by gas companies and, after this, if you don't know just how your gas meter is using you, it's your own fault. The act was approved June 16 and it reads as follows:

When a gas meter in a building owned or used by a customer of a gas company is read by an employe or agent of such company, he shall, upon request, deliver to the person using the gas measured by the meter a written statement of the amount recorded by the meter at that time.

QUEBEC MAN

TO LECTURE IN THIS CITY NEXT SUNDAY

Hon. Alphonse Desjardins of Levis, Que., will be in this city next Sunday afternoon to give a lecture on the "Caisse Populaire" a bank which he is organizing all over the United States and Canada. Mr. Desjardins is coming here under the auspices of the commonwealth, and at the request of Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of St. Joseph's parish, and Mr. Frank Ricard.

The latter received a letter from Mr. Desjardins this morning, in which he states that he has just returned to Boston, coming from Holyoke, where he has organized a "Caisse Populaire," receiving 18 signatures for a start.

The lecture will be given on the grounds of the Franco-American orphanage in Pawtucket street at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and Mr. Desjardins hopes to meet a very large attendance.

The lecturer will also be heard at 3 o'clock on July 3, at Washington park at the opening of the "fete champetre" of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish.

PRESIDENT TAFT

TO SPEAK AT OUTING OF ESSEX COUNTY CLUB

SALEM, June 29.—The only political speech President Taft will make in Massachusetts this year will be given at the outing of the Essex county republican club on Friday, August 25th. The date was decided upon at a meeting of the club this afternoon.

Newburyport, Palm of Pines, and Congressman Gardner's spacious lawn at Sagamore farm in Hamilton are under consideration as places for the festivities.

TO PRODUCE MELODRAMA

The young men who some time ago scored such a good success when they rendered the play entitled "La Malediction" will soon begin rehearsing one of Jules Verne's famous melodramas, "Michel Strogoff."

This soiree which is being organized by Rev. Fr. Denizot, O. M. I., D. D., will be given in the latter part of September at St. Joseph's college for the benefit of the French American orphanage, which is soon to be enlarged, as the Oblate Fathers wish to have a department for the old people.

The play promises to be very interesting for the reason that it has never been played in this city, and the stage decorations will all be imported from France. Another feature of the evening will be a musical program by a ladies' orchestra, the latter to be recruited among the best female musicians of the parish.

Among the well known local amateurs who are to take part in the cast are: Messrs. Leo G. Morin, Edouard Desrosiers, George Labranche, Antonio Daignault, William Trottier, Xavier Delisle, Joseph Larose, E. J. Larochelle and a number of others.

BEST BATTING TEAM

The Haverhill baseball team has shown a nice improvement in batting during the past week, having boosted the team average from .227 one week ago to .236.

The general work of the teams during the past week has seen Lowell forge to the top of the list as the best hitting team in the league, and Worcester, which has held this position all the season up to this time, has changed places with Lowell, dropping to second place. The Lowell club has gained 10 points in batting, while the Worcester club has fallen off two points in stick work. That double-header victory over Haverhill last week Saturday, in which a total of 40 hits were made, gave Manager Gray's players a big boost in batting. Lawrence still holds third place, showing a slight gain during the week, while Brockton has shown a gain and forged ahead of New Bedford, which has shown a falling off in batting. Lynn has done inferior work with the stick during the week and has dropped a little nearer to Haverhill at the bottom.

Brockton, which has held a clear lead in club fielding all the season, is now tied with Fall River and Lynn for the honors in this department, all three teams showing an average of .944 for the work in the field up to this time. Haverhill is still at the bottom in fielding, but all eight clubs are closely bunched in fielding.

The Lowell club still holds the distinction of having scored the most runs and made the largest number of hits during the season, although Lawrence has the honor of having pounded out the highest number of total bases. Lawrence has also passed Worcester in the total number of runs scored and hits made. However, the Lawrence club has played more games than any other club in the league. The Haverhill club has played a less number of games than any other club and has that opportunity to gain in batting and fielding.

The Lawrence club leads in the number of two-base hits and home runs, with 93 doubles and 22 home run clouts, while Brockton and Worcester are tied for second honors in doubles and Lowell stands second in the number of home runs made. Lowell leads in three-base hits with 36 and New Bedford is second with 25.

Worcester has a big lead in the number of sacrifice hits for the season and Lynn is second, with Haverhill third. New Bedford is far behind the other clubs in base stealing.

The following table of figures will give the fans an idea of the work of the New England league teams for all games played up to Saturday:

GRUBB'S TWO HOMERS

Won Haverhill's First Victory Over Lowell

Mr. Grubb did the trick for Haverhill yesterday with two fine homers that netted three of the home team's four runs. Graverson, who started the season with the Boston Nationals, pitched a steady game for the home team. It was the first game that Haverhill has taken from Lowell this season.

DIAMOND NOTES

Haverhill will be our guests today, but they'll bring their own Grubb.

There was plenty of Grubb in yesterday's game.

Capt. Barrows' check is on exhibition in the window of Calderwood & Robbins in Merrimack square. He'll get it in time to cash it for the Fourth and then we'll all go up to the South common.

There'll be home games for the remainder of the week and on Monday and Tuesday afternoon. Lowell will play in Lynn in the morning and Lynn will come here in the afternoon.

Feeling that he did not need them in his lineup Manager Tom Dowd this morning released Outfielder Snyder and Infielder Beaton at Worcester. He signed up Catcher Rufange, who has been with the New Britain club in the Connecticut league this year and as soon as Pratt works into any kind of shape Mr. Winchester will also receive his walking papers.

It is likely that Dowd will put McCrone in the outfield and use this peppery player for his batting ability. Snyder could hit but he was unable to use his head at the right moments. Merrill is covering third base in a very satisfactory manner and batting much better than Beaton.—New Bedford Times.

Says the Brockton Enterprise:

Pitcher Okey Wood was today returned to the Fall River club by the Brockton management, his work while with the local team not having been of the calibre that Manager Flanagan thought worth the purchase price asked for him. Wood won one game and lost one while with the local team. Yesterday Catcher Delaney and Pitcher Fred Smith were both dropped from the squad, and with the return of Wood to Manager O'Brien's club it leaves Brockton with only three of the pitchers who have been here any time at all. Ward, Foley and the youngster, Smythe, are here, and Percy Riordan was expected to arrive during the day from Utica.

Riordan is a left-hander who during the past few seasons has been a consistent winner in the New York State league. He wants to be nearer his home in Holbrook, and has prevailed upon the Utica management to sell him. Brockton was a bidder for his services last spring before the season opened, but at that time could come to no agreement with Manager Charley Carr. The sale was consummated Sunday. He is secured on a conditional sale, the Brockton club to have a chance to use him for a fortnight or so, and if he delivers the goods the deal becomes binding.

Wood was purchased from Fall River on a similar agreement, and as the veteran didn't show the form that Brockton needs in the box. Manager Flanagan decided last night to hold him no longer. Whether he will be retained by the Fall River club is not known, as they now have a full staff of twirlers.

The release of Catcher Delaney followed the return of Mike Wadleigh to the job. With the mainstay of Brockton's catching department working again, it left Brockton with three catchers. Tevlin, the youngster who has been with the club for several days, was retained, Delaney being let out. Tevlin was with Lawrence early in the spring and showed up as a promising candidate. Tommy Catterson said yesterday that the youngster looked as good as any of the backstop candidates Lawrence had in the spring. Fred Smith failed to show much class here. The former Cincinnati pitcher didn't seem to have enough to fool the New England League clubs and hadn't the winning ability. Manager Flanagan figures that in Ward, Riordan and Foley he has three men who can win, while Harry Smythe should be able to take a turn, and the management is still looking for another good box artist. "Brick" Bennett, the Plymouth youngster who wants to be looked over, did not show up yesterday, but may be on hand today. In the event that he comes, he will be given a chance to warm up with the rest.

GAVE HEARINGS

BUT STREET COMMITTEE DID NOT TAKE ACTION

The committee on streets met last night and gave hearings on the following petitions: That Suffolk street be watered from Moody street to Dodge street; that Andrews street be watered from Lawrence street to Moore street; that Howard street be watered from the school house to Hale street; to accept a portion of State street not already accepted; that Varney street be watered from School street to Fletcher street; that Westford street be watered from Sayles street to Rutland street; that sidewalks be laid on the northerly side of Riverside street from Moody street to Mt. Hope street, where not already laid; that Humphrey street be watered; that edgestones be laid on West Bowers street; that the curved portion of Circuit avenue east of Fulton street be discontinued as a public street; that Sprague avenue be laid out and accepted; that Orleans street be laid out and accepted from Hildreth street to Lakeview avenue; that Island street be laid out and accepted; that a sidewalk be laid on both sides of Beaver street; that Merrill avenue be laid out and accepted.

The committee did not take action on any of the petitions but will consider them at a meeting to be held within a few days.

MORRIS-FLYNN BOUT

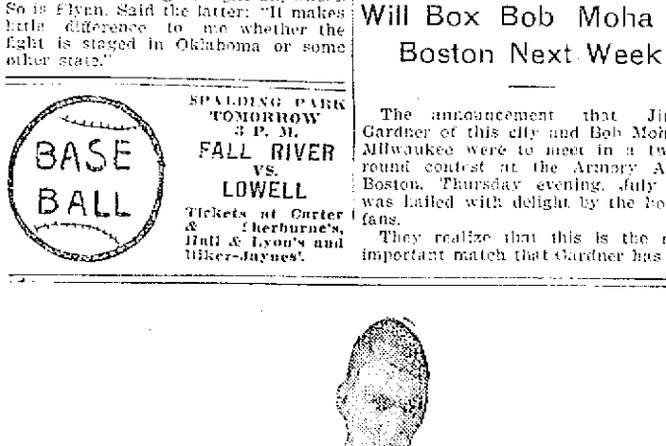

Promoters May Decide to Hold It in Reno

RENO, Nev., June 29—The same ring that saw the Caucasian race lose claim to the heavyweight title may see the initial step in regaining the coveted crown. Driven from Oklahoma, the Morris-Flynn bout may be staged at Reno, Nev., in the same ring in which Jeffries fell. It is a little less than a year ago first a white and black fighter met. The crown trembled, wavered, then fell into the eager grasp of Johnson. Morris is hailed as the coming "white hope," and it would be the irony of fate if he should take up the work of getting the title back in the same spot where the white race last had a claim to it.

New Orleans and Los Angeles have both bid for the bout and Philadelphia wants it, too.

The governor of Oklahoma says the question of whether a prize fight can be held in Oklahoma is "not debatable" and that Oklahoma has a law sufficiently definite and severe to prevent such an occurrence. While the letter asks the sheriff to prevent the fight in the event of its being held in Sapulpa, he offers assistance in case it should be needed. The proposition was to take the bout to Sapulpa in a pinch.

Morris is willing to fight anywhere. So is Flynn. Said the latter: "It makes little difference to me whether the fight is staged in Oklahoma or some other state."

KING OF AMATEUR DISTANCE RUNNERS TO GO AFTER TWO MILE RECORD

NEW YORK, June 29.—Though the creator of a new American record for three miles and champion all the way from that distance to ten miles, both indoors and outdoors, George Bonhag, one of the greatest long distance runners, if not the greatest, is not going to rest on his laurels. He has mapped out a strenuous campaign for the rest of the season that ought to give him an opportunity not only to smash a few more records, but to better some of his own. Bonhag is desirous of establishing a new mark for two miles. Ted Betts of Cornell is the American outdoor record holder for two miles. At the intercollegiate championships recently he bettered last year's mark by one and two-fifth seconds, bringing his figures to 9 minutes 25 1-5 seconds. The Irish American A. C. star performer is the rightful heir indoors for that distance with the time of 9 minutes 14 1-5 seconds. A few weeks ago at Celtic park he came within three-quarters of a second of tying Betts's time, and anyone was willing to admit afterward that if he had been pushed hard enough he would have easily sent it skyward. That certainly was some peaches and cream race Bonhag ran at the New York A. C. on Travers Island recently. Just twenty-one years ago last Memorial day Willie Day startled the athletic world when he was clocked in three miles in the remarkable time of 14 minutes 39 seconds flat. Alfred Shrubb is the world's record holder, with 14 minutes 17 3-5 seconds, made on May 21, 1903.

SOME FAST BOXING

Scheduled at Mathew Hall This Evening

Tonight will see some fine boxing at the Lowell Social and Athletic club when Jerry Gaines, the Market champion, and Joe Geary, the Boston rivals, will come together to settle the question of supremacy left undecided by their 10 round draw at the Armory club recently. Both men are in fine shape and anxious to get to it. Their contest is being watched with great interest in Boston sporting circles and quite a little money is up on the result. In the semi-final, Charlie Ananastos, the Greek boxer, will meet Baggage Murphy, who is regarded as the best thing in the boxing line that the city of Lawrence has. Murphy's Lawrence friends are very confident that he will trim the Greek but Martin Flaherty, who is training Ananastos, claims that Charles is a comer. Jack Smith of Lowell will be seen against a Lawrence opponent. The meeting will be for members only.

GARDNER IS MATCHED

Will Box Bob Moha in Boston Next Week

The announcement that Jimmy Gardner of this city and Bob Moha of Milwaukee were to meet in a twelve round contest at the Armory A. A. Boston, Thursday evening, July 6th, was hailed with delight by the boxing fans.

They realize that this is the most important match that Gardner has ever signed for, as Bob Moha is about the toughest piece of fighting machinery in the game at the present time. Any man who can defeat such men as Young Loughrey, Tommy Quill, Jimmy Glabby, Hilliard Lang, Terry Martin and Mike (Twin) Sullivan, all in the space of six months, must be a champion. Moha has defeated all of these boxers decisively.

Gardner has been expecting to close this match for the past two weeks, and has been training at George Byer's gymnasium in Boston, with Joe Thomas and Porky Flynn. Gardner figures that Moha is a better man than Frank Klaus, and for that reason is leaving nothing undone to prepare himself for this bout.

HAS RESIGNED

CHRISTOPHER SCAIFE OF LOCAL Y. M. C. A. GOING TO HARTFORD

Christopher Scaife, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative one in the Y. M. C. A. at Hartford, Conn. Mr. Scaife presented his resignation at the meeting of the board of directors last night. He will remain in Lowell during the month of July and the following month will enjoy a vacation and will start on his new work in September.

ZION CRICKET CLUB NOTES

The Zions travel to Andover this coming Saturday, July 1st, to play the strong Andover team. Both teams are evenly matched and a very good game is expected. The following players have been selected to represent the Zions: J. Patrick, captain, Robert Birtwistle, R. Marland, Burroughs, Fred Chapman, William Croft, Sr., Edward Fielding, Albert Fielding, Albert Whitworth, Joseph Hall, Atkinson, Samuel Burt, 1st reserve, Arthur Bowden, 2nd reserve.

All players are earnestly requested to be at the square at 1 o'clock sharp, so as to leave on the car which leaves at 1.10.

If for any reason any player selected is unable to play, kindly notify the captain or secretary on or before Friday.

Anty Drudge on Education.

Katherine—"My, how provoked I am, Anty. You wouldn't dream this frock had once been white. Look at it now. I sent it to the laundress and it looks almost the color of weak coffee with milk in it."

Anty Drudge—"It's partly your fault, my dear. You're a college graduate, but you aren't educated until you know what is best for your clothes. If you had known enough to see that your white frock was washed with Fels-Naptha soap in cool or lukewarm water it would have been snowywhite. The Fels-Naptha way is the only method of washing to keep white clothes white without harming them."

Here's the easiest way that's ever been discovered to wash clothes—either in summer or winter.

For the white things: Wet the clothes, soap well with Fels-Naptha, roll and let soak for thirty minutes in cool or lukewarm water. Unroll, rub lightly, rinse and hang out to dry.

That's all; no boiling, no hard rubbing, no hot water.

This simple Fels-Naptha way of washing makes your clothes sweeter, whiter, cleaner than you can get them any other way.

And the clothes last longer because they are not weakened by boiling, nor worn by hard rubbing.

Worth trying?

ONE FATALLY INJURED

Two Women Hurt in Automobile Accident in Quincy

BOSTON, June 29.—Mrs. James E. Came, the 80-year-old widow of the millionaire billiard table manufacturer, was probably fatally injured, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. Arthur Came, was almost as seriously hurt yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by the younger woman ran wild down Great Hill at Quincy.

The older Mrs. Came, who lives at 1151 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, was taken to the Quincy hospital with both legs broken and internal injuries. She is not expected to recover.

Mrs. J. Arthur Came, who is the wife of the treasurer of the J. E. Came Co., billiard table makers, is at the Came summer home at Crow Point, Hingham, with two ribs fractured, and other injuries.

The accident occurred on Sea avenue, which passes over Great Hill, and was caused by the failure of the automobile's brakes at a critical moment.

The women were on their way from the Hingham estate to visit Frank Tater, who has a summer home at the extreme end of the avenue. The summit of Great Hill was reached without incident and the descent begun.

As the automobile gathered headway the younger Mrs. Came, who is an experienced driver, reached for the brake. To her horror it refused to work. The automobile sped on, its momentum increasing every foot of the way.

Great Hill is one of Quincy's highest eminences. The incline is abrupt. At the bottom of it the avenue makes a sharp turn, opposite the Nut island pumping station.

Mrs. Came fought helplessly with the brake, and at the same time wrestled with the steering gear. As the automobile, traveling at tremendous speed, approached the turn in the road, the cries of the older woman apparently began to shake their nerves.

Although she made a desperate attempt to guide the machine about the curve, she failed. It struck the fence with such force that the railings were splintered, and both women thrown out headforemost.

The machine turned three complete somersaults across the lawn in front of the house of Frank Goodwin, engineer of the pumping station, and then dropped over an embankment on to the beach which it borders.

The engine was still going. The younger Mrs. Came, still retaining consciousness, heard it and in spite of her injuries, ran across the grass and jumped over the embankment. She stopped the engine and then collapsed.

Goodwin helped carry the women into his house. He called a physician, who ordered the older Mrs. Came to the hospital. The younger woman was taken to her home, which is also the home of the mother-in-law.

ASK FOR MORE PAY

Legislators Want Money for Extra Work

BOSTON, June 29.—Legislators, like laborers, do not care to work overtime without extra compensation. So, during the noon recess of the house yesterday about seventy members met in their reading room to discuss ways and means of obtaining extra compensation because of the unusual length of the legislative session.

There was an informal discussion, lasting about an hour, during which about every way possible was taken into consideration. There were almost as many suggestions as to the best method of obtaining this Christmas money from the state as there were members present, and finally it was decided to appoint a committee to draft and introduce a bill providing that each member shall receive one month's additional pay and one-third of the usual mileage allowance.

The committee named consists of Messrs. Hobbs of Worcester, Pattee of Falmouth, Kenney of Boston, Gifford of Chatham and Davies of Holyoke.

FOSS URGES ECONOMY

Governor Sends Message on the Insane Hospitals

BOSTON, June 29.—Sending the legislature yesterday a lengthy special message relative to the state board of insanity and several institutions under its charge, Gov. Foss approves the regular appropriations amounting to $2,059,325, but urges that all expenditures be brought at once "to a uniform level of business economy."

To this end he recommends that "the authority of the state board of insanity be so strengthened as to make it directly responsible for the immense expenditures incurred in these institutions.

Of the special appropriations sought by various institutions amounting to about $750,000, the greater part are disapproved.

The following are the institutions and manner in which the governor passes on their special appropriations:

Foxboro state hospital—Fails to approve $100,000 for new buildings and for the maintenance of the two remodeled farm buildings. "It appears entirely unreasonable, and even the ordinary running expenses of the institution are so high that I desire to see the institution entirely reorganized and put upon a sound footing," the governor says.

Boston state hospital—Institution asked for $166,875, of which $22,000 is for a nurses' home, $53,000 for a central service building and "farm group," $10,500 for a third boiler plant, $42,000 for a storage and refrigerator plant. The governor refuses to approve any detail of this special appropriation of $166,875. The items are unnecessary or extravagant, or both, he says.

Monson state hospital—Refuses to approve special appropriation of $43,000 for refrigerating plant and machine shop, dining room and new laundry facilities. "The entire estimate requires intelligent revision," he says.

Northampton state hospital—Refuses to approve $16,325 for bakery and laundry and suggests that present quarters can be rearranged.

Worcester state asylum—Does not approve $90,800 special appropriation. No need of a new nurses' home at $29,900. New buildings asked for are too costly. Plans should be revised and then resubmitted. Approves $2400 requested for therapeutic treatment and turns down as too costly an item of $17,000 for a storage house.

Worcester state hospital—Declined to approve a total of $116,200 for new buildings, alterations and elevators and 98 acres of additional land.

Massachusetts school for feebleminded—Refuses to approve $61,688 for new buildings. Calls attention to the economical scale of buildings followed at Wrentham, and says that if the trustees of the school for feebleminded cannot do as well "I recommend that the school be enlarged no further and all necessary additions be made at Wrentham."

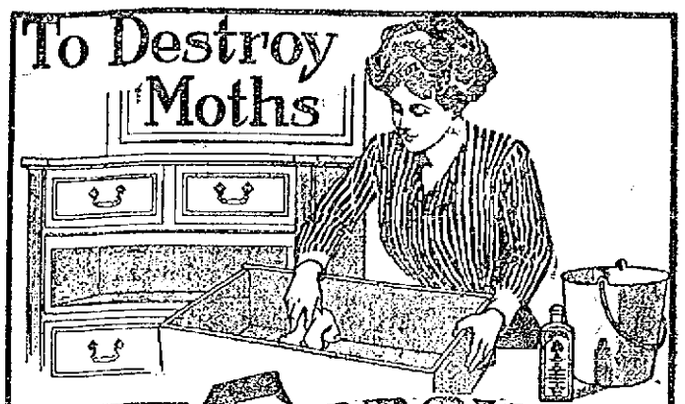

Wrentham state school—Does not approve $122,000 special appropriation for new buildings. The requested buildings would cost more than the present buildings, and the governor cannot see any justification for the increase. An item of $15,000 for a sewer line is disapproved as extravagant.

Gardner state colony—Approves $21,400 for new buildings.

The governor then adds:

"There is an item of $250,000 recently approved by the legislature for the payment of land already taken at the Boston state hospital. I deplore the fact that this great institution was located in such high priced land—and particularly regret that no opportunity was left for a rise in the value of the land, after the hospital had started, and the necessity of purchasing such land by the state has become apparent. The objection to this procedure needs no explanation."

To Destroy Moths

CARBONOL

Also Best For Keeping Flies Away From Garbage
Getting Rid of Tobacco Smells
Cleaning Sick-Room Utensils
Disinfecting and Cleaning Anything
For Use See Directions on Bottle

THE way to get rid of moths or any other insect pest is to maintain thorough disinfection by keeping things clean with Carbonol. Carbonol is a liquid derived from coal tar. Wash out chests and drawers with it and moth eggs will be destroyed and moths themselves will find the place uncongenial.

When you scrub floors and wash down woodwork, disinfect at the same time by putting a dash of Carbonol into the water, and bugs, ants and roaches will keep away. Such pests will not linger in the presence of Carbonol.

It is no additional trouble to use Carbonol. You simply put a dash of it into the water you use in cleaning and go to work in the usual way.

A free sample will be sent on request.

HUMANE SOCIETY

RECENT SALE NETTED THE SUM OF $633.68

The sum of $633.68 was netted at the recent sale of the Lowell Humane society held on the Rogers estate in Andover street. Mrs. Frank E. Dunbar, who had general charge of the affair, has reported her final accounting which is in excess of the amount first given out.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The Lakeview Stock company had the largest house of the season last night to witness that great success, "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman." The play is one of the best of the higher class dramas and has all the comedy and touches of pathos that the audience desires to make it a pleasant evening's amusement. The parts in the play are all well suited to the different members of this well balanced company and those who have witnessed the performances this week admit it is the best play and company ever seen at the lake. There is a matinee every day in the week excepting Mondays. Next week's attraction for this company is that well known play of "Salomy Jane."—Adv.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons shows a motion picture taken in Juarez, Mexico, shortly after its capture by the insurrectos. Juarez was the last stand of the governmental forces in Mexico and its fall resulted in the resignation of President Diaz and the installation of a new government. The picture shows every point of interest in the almost totally destroyed city as well as many scenes of actual life, including soldiers of both armies, populace and some of the events following close after the occupation. This is the first and only real picture of the Mexican revolution and should be of interest to every student of current events. Accompanying it are several other pictures, among them an excellent comedy.—Adv.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

There is not a number on this week's bill at the Merrimack Square theatre but what is richly deserving of special mention. Heading the list is Mortimer Snow & Co. in that amusing farce comedy, "Is Marriage a Failure?" in which both Mr. Snow and Miss Anderson are seen to excellent advantage. Both are particularly adapted in bringing out in a most entertaining manner the numerous funny situations and climaxes which the piece develops. If you have not witnessed this presentation you should avail yourself of the opportunity of seeing it during the few days remaining. You are sure to laugh, and laugh heartily. Among the others who assist in making the bill one of real merit is Miss Blanche Aldrich, in a series of rapid character changes that is sure of receiving general favor. Lew Morgan and Barry West, modern Dutch comedians are excellent entertainers and their line of songs and stories is rich. They dance well, too. Miss May E. Whitley, the Lowell girl, in songs has never been heard to better advantage and the photoplays include some of the best films ever shown.—Adv.

INCREASE IN SALARY

Of Judges Favored by the State Senate

BOSTON, June 29. — The senate adopted yesterday, 19 to 12, a bill to increase by $1500 a year the salaries of the justices of the superior court. This bill was the Malley substitute for a report of the committee on public service, whose chairman, Senator Mellen of Worcester, bitterly opposed the increase.

The judges' champion was Senator Malley of Springfield, who said the present salaries are inadequate for any men competent to fill the bench positions and that although the judges are allowed $500 a year for travel, he was reliably informed the expenses of one judge in the state had been $2000 last year.

Senator Mellen thought the present salary, $6000 a year for life, was better than $10,000 for a short term, and Senator Schoonmaker of Ware also thought the present pay was sufficient.

SOCIETY GIRLS

WERE ATTACKED BY MUSKRATS WHILE CANOEING

PITTSBURG, June 29.—Seven prominent society girls of Pittsburg and vicinity had an unusual experience with a swarm of muskrats while canoeing on the Allegheny river.

The young women, chaperoned, were camping at Oakmont. When canoeing to Hulton Station, about twenty unusually large muskrats attacked them as they were making for shore. The canoeists fought desperately with their paddles.

Several of the rats got into the canoes of the Misses Rosa and Carolina Wellar and Miss Maitland and bit the young women. The girls became panic-stricken and two of the canoes were capsized, throwing Martha Fleck, Elizabeth Laverty and Marjorie Phillips into the river.

Henry Miller of Aspinwall and a number of companions rescued the girls after considerable difficulty.

Several mysteries drownings of prominent canoeists in that vicinity recently are attributed to attacks of the vicious rodents.

WESTFORD

Arrangements have been completed for the biggest Fourth of July celebration that Westford has ever held.

The day will close with a fireworks display at the Whitney playgrounds. Two band concerts, one at 10 a. m. and one at 2 p. m., two ball games, and sports for which prizes amounting to $20 will be given are to take place. The Chelmsford band, 20 pieces, will furnish music for the day.

The graduation exercises of Westford academy will take place at 10 a. m. Friday. The school year will close with a reception and dance at the town hall in the evening.

The Westford A. A. will play Townsend on Saturday.

HENRY TURNER DEAD

State Auditor Had Been Ill a Long Time

BOSTON, June 29.—State Auditor Henry E. Turner died at 11.50 o'clock last night. The end came at his home, 37 Washington street, Malden, where he has been confined to his bed for many weeks.

The death of Mr. Turner was unexpected, in that he had begun, it was believed, to recover from the first attack of the complaint that ultimately caused it. He suffered a relapse several days ago, and for the last two days had been unconscious.

Mr. Turner was 69 years old. He is survived by a widow, who was at his bedside when death came.

Before some of the present republican leaders were born Henry E. Turner was fighting the battles of the party in Middlesex county, and for the past quarter of a century he has held almost continuously some public office. With ex-Councillor Alfred E. Cox he managed Malden politics for many years until the councilor fight in 1907, which defeated Cox for another term, broke the Cox-Turner machine. His first public office was the common council, to which he was elected in 1882 and where he served for two years. He was three years in the house from Malden, 1889, 1891, and again in 1899.

He was elected state auditor in 1900, and so was serving his eleventh term at the time of his death. He was a formidable candidate against Auditor John W. Kimball the year before, but by an agreement that he should have it the next year, due to the showing made in the convention, he withdrew and supported Gen. Kimball.

AVIATOR'S BIG FEAT

Took Package to Passenger on Olympic

NEW YORK, June 29.—The first piece of merchandise ever delivered at sea by aeroplane fell on the upper deck of the giant White Star liner Olympic today as she steamed through te Narrows, outward bound on her maiden eastward passage.

W. Atlee Burpee of Philadelphia had contracted for its delivery before sailing with a New York and Philadelphia department store, which in turn engaged the services of Thomas Sopwith, the English aviator.

With Richard H. Sinclair, secretary of the Aero club, holding the package, Sopwith rose from the aviation grounds at Garden City, spied out the Olympic as she bore ponderously down the Hudson, timed his flight to meet her in the Narrows and set his course over land and sea.

While Sopwith controlled the aeroplane Sinclair dropped the package at the given signal.

No word came from on board of whether it had landed or not, but to those in nearby craft and to the aviator it seemed certain that it had fallen true.

THE SUN'S DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE

WISE MR. FLY.

"Will you walk into my parlor?"
Said Miss Spider to the fly.
"Not I," his flyship answered
As he winked his other eye,

"For your dinky so-called parlor—
Well, it isn't in my line.
It's nothing but a dining-room;
So none of it for mine."

Find a housekeeper.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

Upside down, in pillow.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

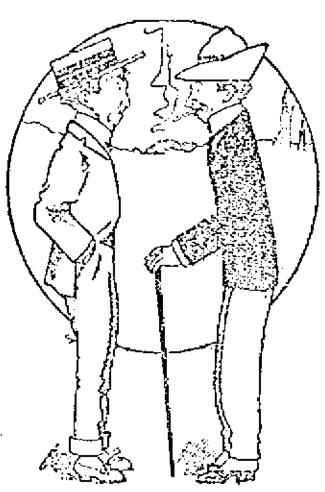

AS IT WILL BE.

Suffragette—And is this my ballot?
Election Clerk—Yes, ma'am; that's it.

VACANT.

"Yep; I may say that I have my office under my hat."
"Yes; and I s'pose you have a lot of desk room to rent in it, too.

THE IDEA.

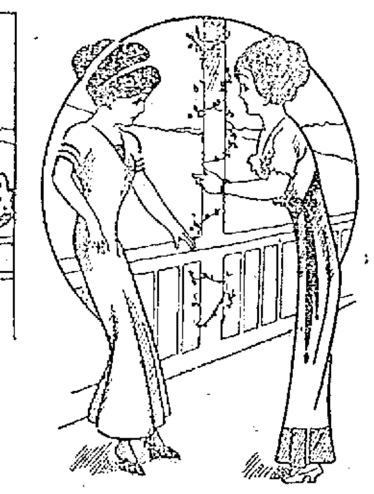

"I suspect there will be seen a lot of castles in the air."
"Why?"
"Garages for the new flying machines, you know."

NO MORE ROMANCE.

The Farmer—The old oaken bucket was unsanitary. We have supplied individual drinking cups instead.

THE SUMMER RESORT.

"She says that place disagrees with her."
"Then, why doesn't she leave?"
"Seems her pug dog has gained a pound."

IMPOSSIBLE.

"We'd have the suffrage in no time if women would only get their heads together."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

OUR FRENCH FRIEND

JUNE 29.—Johann De Kalb. How the name brings up memories of the trials, hardships and sacrifices of the days of the Revolution, and the bravery of those who cast their lot with the colonists in the war with Great Britain. Baron De Kalb was born in Bavaria, June 29, 1721. He was educated in the art of war in the French army and visited the Anglo-American colonies in 1762 as a secret agent of that country. When he saw the conditions which had thrown the people into a state of revolt his sympathies were enlisted to such an extent that regardless of the fact that he was a brigadier in the French army he decided to cast his lot with the revolting colonies. In 1777 he accompanied Lafayette to America. Congress appointed him a major-general and he joined the main army under Washington, and was active in all the engagements near Philadelphia, which preceded the encampment at Valley Forge. He served with distinction in New Jersey and Maryland, and was second in command under Gen. Gates in the disastrous battle of Camden, August 16, 1780. Cornwallis concentrated his whole force in a charge on De Kalb's regiment and the latter fell at the head of his troops. He died in Camden three days later.

A delightful reception was given in honor of a Lowell bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McQuarrie, at the home of the groom's brother, Hugh McQuarrie, Wyatt street, New York city, Tuesday evening, at which the groom introduced his bride to a number of his friends.

IT STILL REMAINS A MYSTERY

It is strange that nobody, young or old has called on Dick Mower, the Central street watch repairer for that $5 gold piece which he has offered to give anybody having the watch movement numbered 434544 and the case bearing these figures 487106. The offer will be continued for several days longer.

Under authority of Section 10, Chapter 590, of the Acts of 1908, I, Alvin H. Polley of Lawrence, Mass., do hereby give notice that I have made written application to the Lowell Institution for Savings, Lowell, Mass., for a duplicate deposit book of Account No. 102118, standing in the name of Alvin H. Polley, and which said deposit book is lost or destroyed.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

Continued

Rhode Island bleachery, you would find many highly specialized forms of labor gathered under one roof. In one small room, a man stands with a stick, guiding the cloth that comes down from above, so that it falls in folds. He has been there 20 years, doing the same work, and is liable to be there 20 years more. He is doing the work skilfully, and he is a type of the highly specialized labor demanded and produced by our modern civilization.

"How shall such a man be trained for his task?"

"There are two extreme answers, and extremes are always dangerous. Adherents of the old formula of discipline say that what that man needs is the training of the faculties; that we can best educate him when we have no reference whatever to what he is going to do by and by; that all men need fundamentally the same training. One education for all men, whatever they are going to do; that is the extreme theory of the old formula of discipline.

"At the other extreme stand the adherents of the modern doctrine of interest and utility. The more radical of them say, Find out what a boy is going to do, and fit him for it. If he is going to stand in a little room and wield a stick, give him a little stick in preparation for the big stick he will wield by and by. Then we shall no longer see the sign, 'Made in Germany.' That is the extremest form of the doctrine of vocation and utility.

"Now, we cannot solve a problem like that in a half hour's talk. We can just suggest some little points here and there.

"I believe indeed in vocational training. I believe our schools ought to have closer touch with life; I believe in bringing a sense of doing things right into the school life. Yet I am very anxious that our schools should remember that the aim of the school after all is to prepare for life, and not simply to get the boys and girls ready for jobs. The great vocation of these young men is not simply to be mechanics or artisans, or journalists, but to be American citizens. The aim of these young women is not to be cooks, or milliners, or stenographers, but to be women of large, rich, spiritual natures, who shall make home, church, school and city more worth while in the days to come. So I want our schools to interpret vocation in a very large and generous sense.

"I want to speak of two or three things that underlie success in any calling and in any sphere. The first of these things is capacity for attention, capacity for attending to the thing in hand. Our fathers and mothers lived in a much simpler and narrower environment than ours. For that reason they were able to develop a power of mental concentration that we rarely find today. As Stevenson says, 'The world is so full of a number of things,' that our boys and girls are losing the power to concentrate on any one thing.

"The kindergarten is a capital thing, if we do not have too much of it. The kindergarten carried on into school and college is a very bad thing indeed.

"Success in study is a matter of character, rather than of information. It depends not so much on what you can remember as on what sort of personality you are.

"Another thing that springs out of this power of attention is the power of analysis, the power to take things to pieces and find out what they mean, through the power of analysis.

"Then, after attention and analysis, the school should give everyone of us the power of construction,—the power to put things together after an ideal pattern.

"The function of the school is to give us an ideal,—to make us idealists,—to give us a pattern by which we can put together the scattered portions of our life and make something harmonious and beautiful, something worthy to live by."

To show the attitude of the business man, the employer, on this question of education, President Faunce read a letter written to himself by a New England merchant who was looking for a man to act as an employment manager in an establishment that would employ 2000 people. This man wrote: "Character, education and personality are fundamental qualifications. Experience in our line not essential, as a man with a good fundamental knowledge of business principles will readily adapt himself to our needs."

Enclosed with the letter was a chart of qualities desired in the man they wished to employ. One of these qualities was the power of analysis,—the power to perceive the limitations of men, and at the same time to perceive the possibilities of men.

As for his education: "It must be sufficient to enable him to address a group of men or women and impress on them his own ideas and ideals; sufficient to make him a trained thinker; sufficient to enable him to change methods to meet changed conditions." Above all, they say, "We want character."

"These," said President Faunce, "are the fundamental things in life, in Lowell, in Providence, in Seattle, in San Francisco. These are the fundamental qualities, in the store, the mill, the office, the university; in the court room and in the legislature. If our schools are giving these things to our young people—not without some vocational aim,—then, when they go into the world they will be able speedily to conquer specific difficulties, and to play their part nobly and successfully.

"What we need, after all, is the ideal, by which to be given all of the best which modern life has to give us. Have all of these graduates acquired an inner picture of the sort of man or woman they admire,—the sort of personality they want to become? Then keep that picture bright and clear. The world will tempt you to compromise. It will tell you you have got to cheapen your womanhood, if you are to move in society; you have not to play politics if you are to be successful in public life. But I beseech you, keep your ideals. It will mean that you will climb a little slower, but when you do climb, you will stay there longer. It will mean an enduring success.

"The good war is when civic righteousness grapples with the forces of graft and corruption in the modern city. It is when in the modern legislature, right stands face to face with that which dare not face the light. The good war is when we strive to protect womanhood and to free little children from grinding labor; whenever we stand for purity and justice and uprightness in public and private."

Mayor Meehan's Remarks

My first word must be one of congratulation to the young people, who, today having accomplished the prescribed course of study, are now awaiting their diplomas. The happiness which I see in the faces before me is fully justified, for the requirements in the Lowell High school are of so high a standard that the student who successfully passes the bars with proper marks is justified in feeling pride in the accomplishment.

But the real significance of today is not so much that you have passed all tests and are about to be awarded diplomas, but rather that today for many of you means the assumption of a larger share of the responsibilities of life.

The greatest asset which youth has is its confidence in itself. I know that I can trust you to draw the line between real confidence and braggadocio and without any fear of urging you into a false course I can safely call your attention to the fact that it is youthful confidence educated in proper channels which accomplishes most of the great things in this world. Our great bridges, our great railways, our great moral movements, have all originated with young men, yes, and young women. The world needs bright, clear young eyes, and hearts, and muscles to do its work. Our great civil war of 50 years ago was fought by young men and on the glorious rolls you will find generals and chiefs under 25 years of age.

Responsibilities of Life

Beginning with today to many of you, the real responsibilities of life will come in short order. From the complete shelter of this school many of you are to pass at once into the field where you will become world units with an obligation to produce and originate and become self-supporting.

And now let me say one word to those who perhaps in the final award of honors have not come as near the top as the rest, to whom even their position near the heights has meant infinitely more labor it seems than the more commanding position of the brilliant scholars. If it happens, notwithstanding honest effort on your part, you have not been able to achieve any greater distinction, do not let that weigh upon your minds. I do not know but I may be preaching heresy but I am inclined to value a school training not by reason of the number of facts in history or algebra or science which a boy or girl may have acquired, but rather the training which they have secured in learning how to acquire these facts.

I would be willing to forgive low ranking, if the boy or girl has had by reason of the training learned the one real fact that there is no royal short cut to education, and that given a disposition to apply oneself the hardest task in the end can be accomplished. If you have learned that so you can carry it forth into the world, all the money which the taxpayers of Lowell have spent for the maintenance of this school and the other elementary schools has been well spent.

The ability to apply one's self is the real secret of success. Genius, and you no doubt know the exact wording of the quotation better than I, has been well defined to be simply a capacity for hard work. That is what we hope you have learned.

Now I am not going to exhort you young graduates to go out into the work world and aim to secure material advancement. The greatest boon which the Great Creator imposed on us was the necessity of working in order to live. There are few who can honestly say they have not an ambition to succeed, and I hope that the time will never come when by reason of any governmental contraption this obligation to work, and this ambition, yes, to succeed one more than another, will be wiped out.

I am going to ask you though, out of the time which will now be at your command, to give a little thought to your city, your state and your country, for its whole advancement.

Other Obligations

Your obligation is not only to do the best you can for yourselves, and your parents in a material way, but to do the best also for your city. Tomorrow you will enter in on a land of dollars and cents. There is no use of our attempting to ignore it, though some of us would like to modify it. But try to keep just a little corner of your heart and spirit open for other things where perhaps the debit and credit column is not balanced quite so carefully.

You leave here under a very considerable obligation at first hand to the city and state. It is true that they are patient creditors and will continue the account for years without ever taking any of the steps which you of the commercial branch understand a creditor can take to enforce payment. It should be your thought though to take up this debt and anticipate any possible demand for a return.

On each and every one of you the citizens have spent for your educational training alone, a very considerable amount of money aggregating over $1000 at the minimum. This means money which has been willingly spent for putting up school buildings, for lighting and heating and cleaning them for furnishing you text books, and paying the salaries of your teachers. The account can be figured out to the last cent. The city does not want this money back from you. If you care to consider it such, it is a free gift, but I hope that every one of you today will make a firm decision to make some return for this expenditure.

And to do that all required is that you try honestly to take up in full the duties of citizenship which are soon to come to you. It will not entail any hardship. It will simply mean that out of each week or month you make some little contribution of time to trying to advance your city. It will mean being careful in the use of public property whether in the library or on the highways. It will mean doing your part to help keep the streets free from litter whether you are an employe of an establishment or passing back and forth about your private business. It will mean observing carefully the regulations as to peace and order, the park regulations, the water department regulations, and so through the list. It will also mean speaking kindly to those whom you meet so that we may acquire a reputation for politeness and forethought which will be no inconsiderable asset in itself.

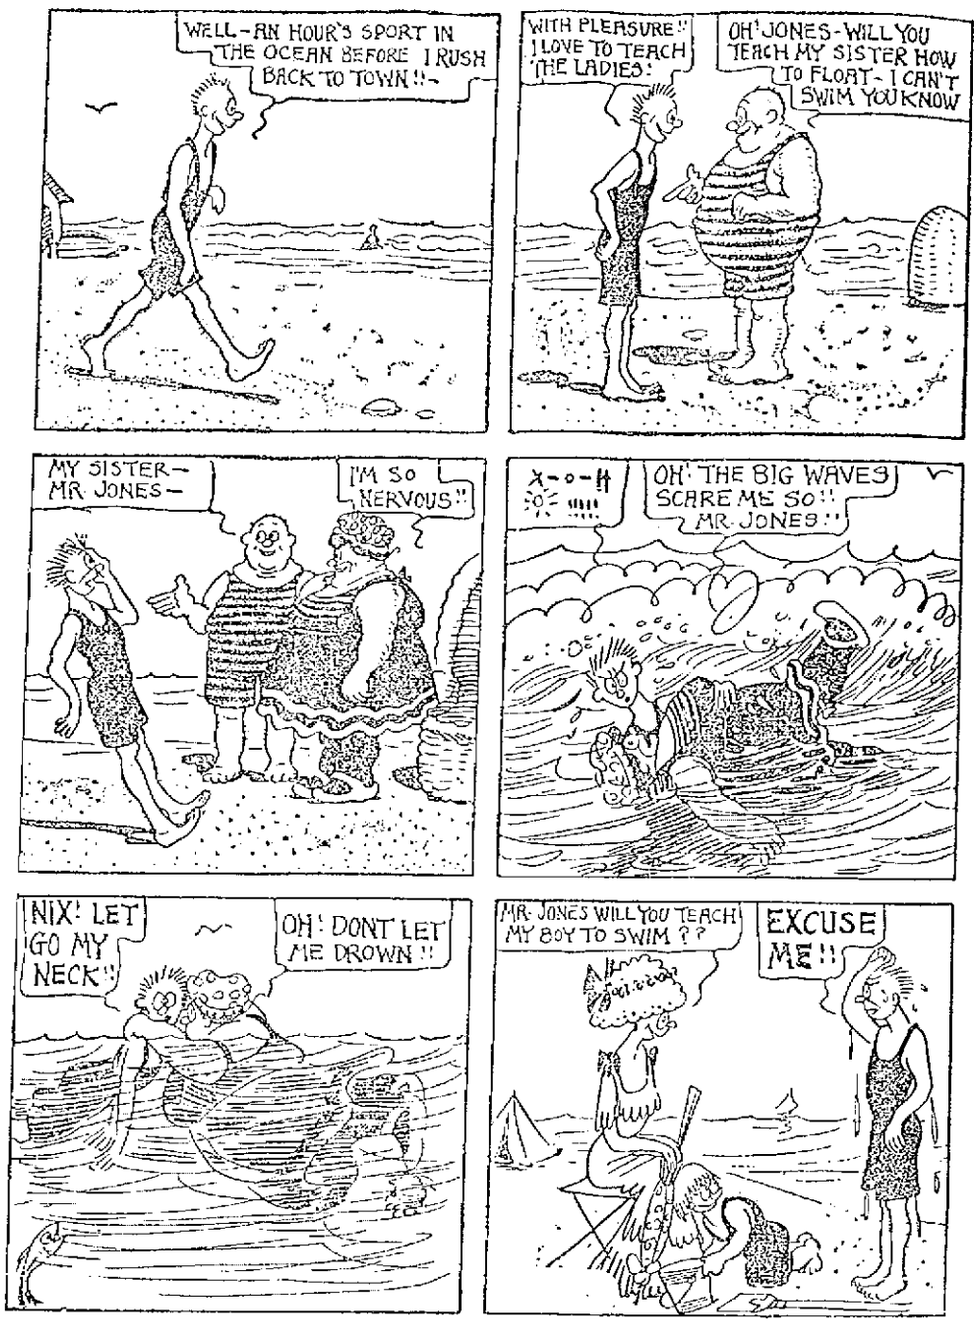

When City Needs You

When in the course of time you enter in full on your citizenship rights, then, if ever, is the time when the city will need you. Acting for the city which has sheltered you you will be asked to vote for the care of others younger than you. See that you always vote, and see that you vote for the best interests of the city. Vote for the right, and if you have in such a case to make a sacrifice you need have no fear, but it will redound to your benefit though time may elapse.

In class prophecies and otherwise the future has already been outlined before you. Let me say that no prophecy can really outstrip which is apt to be the reality in the next generation. The world was never more full of possibilities and the call for clean living, clear thinking, honest boys and girls was never as great as it is now. The city needs you, the state needs you, and my only hope is that when the call comes, though it may not come with bugle sound as it did to the boys of 50 years ago, you will report. All that has been done for you will have been well spent if standing side by side in line with eyes to the front each of you is able to answer "Here."

It is in anticipation of such a time that we have worked over you, and struggled for you. Our future will shortly be in your hands, and may God assist you in the paths that will strengthen you for that world emergency whenever it may come.

"AVIATION SCHOOLS"
Have Fallen Under Ban of the Government

DETROIT, Mich., June 29.—That "aviation schools" which furnished would-be flyers with detailed "correspondence courses" have fallen under the ban of the United States government was disclosed here last night when E. M. Harrison was taken into custody by Special Agent Sennenberg for Charles De Woody, chief of the investigation bureau of the department of justice in Chicago. Harrison will be taken to Chicago today for arraignment.

According to the government agent, Harrison has operated his "school" in several cities. It is charged that Harrison posed as a lieutenant in the United States army and that he promised every student a place on the government flying squad in the war department if he became proficient in the art of flying.

SUITS FOR REMOVAL
Against Secretaries of Lumber Dealers

CHICAGO, June 29.—Preparations are under way by the government to begin removal proceedings against the 14 men indicted by a recent special federal grand jury, because as secretaries of lumber dealers associations they are alleged to have conspired to interfere with interstate trade in lumber.

The men were indicted last week but until yesterday no steps were taken to begin the removal suits.

The defendants live in a dozen different federal districts and proceedings must be brought against each one individually.

SATURDAY, JULY 1st, 1911, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

Heirs' Sale of a Cottage House and About 2 1-2 Acres of Land at No. 1695 Middlesex street.

I have instructed the auctioneer to sell at absolute auction sale to whomsoever will bid the most this exceptionally well located real estate. The property comprises a cottage house, containing six rooms and large shed, besides city water, sewer and toilet. The house, with the outlay of a small amount of money, can be made into a very pretty home. It is rented to a first class tenant.

The lot has a frontage on Middlesex street, of 158 feet, and a total area of about 2½ acres; on the lot is a variety of fruit and shade trees. The property could easily be subdivided into a number of building lots and with its large frontage it would be an easy matter to cut streets running back from Middlesex street, and still leave a comfortable frontage for the present building.

The location is a very good one, the property lying as it does in the very center of a number of large residences, it is directly on the line of the North Chelmsford and Tyngsboro electrics, thus making accommodations to the centre of the city that of the very best.

This sale should especially appeal to anyone looking to purchase a small place with an acre or two of land, a little way out, still in the city and right on the car line, also to the investor or speculator, who could, by cutting the land into lots erect dwellings and be assured of a quick and continuous rental.

Terms: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off.

FRANK G. HALL, for the Heirs.

ESTABLISHED 1878 — LOWELL, MASS. THURSDAY JUNE 29 1911 — PRICE ONE CENT

LOWELL 8 - HAVERHILL 0

INNINGS—1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	Runs	Hits	Errors
Haverhill - 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	4	1

The Haverhill team feeling rather cocky after defeating Lowell yesterday in the Shoe City came to this city today and met Lowell at Spalding park. There were about 600 fans present and the game proved to be a good one from the start. Jimmy Bannon, the new manager of the visiting team, made his first appearance as manager and covered second base. His brother Tom was umpiring and to add to the gaiety of the occasion the brothers got into an argument over balls and strikes during the early part of the game but there was no harm done.

The game was called at 3 o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

Lowell	Haverhill
Moulton 2b	ss Aubrey
Barrows cf	cf Foran
Cooney ss	lf Courtney
Magee lf	rf Reynolds
Fluharty rf	1b McGamwell
Wright 1b	2b Bannon
Boultes 3b	3b Grubb
Huston c	c Milliman
Wolfgang p	p Wood

First Inning

Aubrey opened with a walk to first and Foran followed with a foul fly to Huston. Courtney singled but he failed to reach home for Reynolds hit to Moulton, who threw to Cooney the latter getting Courtney at second and the ball was sent to first for a double play.

In the latter half of the inning Moulton hit a grounder to Aubrey and was out at first. Barrows singled by third. Cooney hit to Bannon, who passed the ball to Aubrey and the latter got Barrows and then threw to first for the second double play of the inning.

Second Inning

Neither side scored in the second. McGamwell drew a free pass and went to second on Bannon's sacrifice. Grubb who made two home runs yesterday fanned the breezes. Milliman hit to Wolfgang and was out at first.

Magee died to Foran, the latter making a pretty running catch. Fluharty hit to Wood and died at first. Wright was third out on a foul fly to McGamwell.

Third Inning

Wood started off the third by striking out. Aubrey and Foran sent grounders to Moulton and were retired at first.

Lowell scored three runs in the latter half of the third inning. Boultes started off with a base on balls and Huston went out on a fly to Reynolds. Wolfgang then made a hit and Boultes went to third. Moulton hit to Aubrey, forcing Wolfgang, but Boultes scored on the play. Barrows was the next man up and he slammed the ball down to the Shu-Fix side and made a home run inside the grounds, scoring both Moulton and himself. Cooney singled, but Magee went out on a fly to McGamwell.

Fourth Inning

In the fourth inning Courtney singled by third base. Reynolds hit to Boultes who threw to Cooney getting Courtney and the ball was sent to first for a double play. McGamwell struck out.

Well, we got another in the fourth. Fluharty started off with a base on balls and Wright struck out. Fluharty stole second. Boultes singled and Flu scored. Huston hit to Aubrey and died at first and Wolfgang went out on a fly to Bannon.

Fifth Inning

In the fifth inning Bannon hit along the first base line and was out. Grubb drew a base on balls. Milliman sent a grounder to Boultes who threw to Moulton getting Grubb and the ball was sent to first for a double.

Lowell scored another run in the fifth. Moulton opened with a single, went to second on Barrows' sacrifice and to third on Cooney's single. Cooney stole second. Magee foul flied to McGamwell. Fluharty singled scoring Moulton. Fluharty and Cooney tried a double steal and the latter was nailed at the plate.

Sixth Inning

Wood opened the sixth with a single. Aubrey hit in front of the plate and was thrown out at first. Foran sent a grounder to Moulton and never had a look at the initial bag, while Courtney hit to Wolfgang and died at first.

Wright hit to Wood and died at first. Boultes drew a base on balls, Huston foul flied to Grubb and Wolfgang flied to Foran.

Seventh Inning

Reynolds struck out. McGamwell hit to the right field fence for two bases. Bannon hit to Moulton and died at first and Grubb, the home run hitter, followed with another strikeout.

Another run for Lowell in the latter half of the inning. Moulton singled and went to third on Barrows' sacrifice. Cooney scored him with a single to left field. Cooney stole second. Magee hit in front of the plate and Milliman threw to third to get Cooney but the latter beat the ball and both men were safe. Fluharty hit to Aubrey who tagged second and threw to first for a double.

Eighth Inning

Milliman hit to Moulton, who fumbled and he got on first. Wood foul flied to Boultes. Aubrey sent a fly to Barrows, who dropped it but he picked the ball up and threw to second, getting Milliman. Foran hit to Wolfgang and was out at first.

Wright got a single by Aubrey. Boultes got a single to left. Huston hit to Grubb, but there was no one on first base to get the ball with the result that the bases were filled. Wolfgang hit to short right field for a single and Reynolds threw to second getting Huston while Wright scored. The first ball pitched to Moulton was returned to the pitcher by Milliman, but the latter threw bad and Boultes scored from third. Moulton hit to short right field for a single, sending Wolfgang to third. Bannon went out and got the ball and threw to first getting Moulton off the base on a close decision. Barrows hit to McGamwell going out at first.

Ninth Inning

Reynolds hit to the left field fence and Magee made another good catch.

Millionaire Hines Was the Principal Witness Today

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Edward Hines, millionaire lumberman of Chicago, whose name has been repeatedly connected with the alleged raising of $100,000 to elect William Lorimer to the senate, took the witness stand in his own defense today before the senate Lorimer investigating committee. He was expected to be the last important witness examined in Washington at this time.

Mr. Hines told of his rise from office boy at $10 a month to the day he and others formed the Edward Hines Lumber Co. in 1892.

None listened to his story more intently than his wife, who has been a constant attendant at the hearings.

Mr. Hines said he owned 61 or 62 per cent of the Edward Hines Co. and named banks of which he was either president, director or stockholder.

"Do you drink or smoke?" asked Attorney Hines.

"I have never smoked. I occasionally take a glass of beer or a glass of wine, but I do not drink any liquor."

He added that he drank wine at dinner on his physician's advice.

Mr. Hines testified that he once lived in Senator Lorimer's congressional district and had known him for years.

As owner of 30 odd boats on the Great Lakes, Mr. Hines said his company was very much interested in the success of the lakes to the gulf deep waterway project, which Senator Lorimer advocated. He discussed the International Harvester Co.'s interest in opposing the deepening of the Chicago river included in this project.

The witness said he was well aware of the conflict between the Harvester company and Senator Lorimer and others on the river project.

Mr. Hines said that his first communication with Mr. Lorimer regarding the senatorship was a telegram he sent Mr. Lorimer, then a representative in congress, on Feb. 1, 1909, recommending A. C. Bartlett, a Chicago hardware man, for United States senator. Lorimer sent no reply. The witness said he had not been in Springfield for five years before he testified before the Helm investigating committee there.

Following the Bartlett telegram Mr. Hines said he paid no more attention to the senatorship until about the middle of April, 1909, when Senator Penrose asked him if he could find out if the Illinois legislature was likely to adjourn without electing a senator. He said he talked with Reps. Boutell and Madden and they said that Congressman Lorimer might know. He said Senator Penrose sent for him.

Mr. Hines said that later Senator Penrose told him that Senator Aldrich was very anxious to have a republican senator elected from Illinois, "because the vote on certain schedules in the Payne bill loked very close."

MORE HOTEL KEEPERS

Summoned to Appear Before Police Board

The licensees of the New American house, Merrimack and St. Charles hotels have been summoned to appear before the board of police at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to answer to complaints charging them, or their servants, with selling intoxicating liquors to divers persons in various Sundays and holidays in violation of the conditions of their licenses. It is reported that the charge is that liquor was served without food at the above mentioned places.

NINE AVIATORS

START ON FLIGHT FROM ROUBAIX TO CALAIS

ROUBAIX, France, June 29.—With Vedrines in the lead, nine airmen got away this forenoon for the Roubaix to Calais flight of the international circuit aviation race. Provot was ill and did not start. The rules provide for an optional stop at Dunkirk. The winners of today's leg will receive a prize of $2000 given by the city of Calais. The next flight will be from Calais across the channel to London, with stops at Dover and Brighton.

The first excursion left at 7.40 o'clock and an hour later two other jumbos conveyed the members of the Highland church Sunday school to the same place. The latter cars left the corner of Westford and South Canton streets.

There was another excursion to Lexington. Four jumbo cars left the square well loaded at the hours of 8.40, 9.10, 9.40 and 10.10. The many children in the party were cheering and blowing their horns all along the route.

THE ALDERMEN

WANT TO KNOW ABOUT CITY'S RIGHTS TO BUILD AND RENT

From the board of aldermen there has gone to the city solicitor a request for an opinion as to the city's rights to build and rent conduits for underground wires. The city solicitor will make answer tomorrow and its the day's best bet that he will say the city has not the right to do it, because cities have no power except those specifically granted by the legislature.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

Envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary:

Evan E. Young, South Dakota, to Ecuador.

Nicholas Gravstad to Paraguay and Uraguay.

Charles D. White, New Jersey, to Honduras.

H. Percival Dodge, Massachusetts, to Panama.

Lewis Einstein, New York, to Costa Rica.

HORSE RAN AWAY

A horse attached to a light delivery wagon made a bold dash for liberty in Middlesex street yesterday forenoon between 11 and 12 o'clock. It was at the corner of Middlesex and Thorndike streets that the horse got away from at least a portion of the wagon. He left the body and the hind wheels in the street and went like mad up Fletcher street with the front wheels close upon his heels. The horse was stopped in the vicinity of Rock street.

Miss Alice Knight of 49 Sarah avenue will leave Lowell Friday morning for New London, Conn., where she will be the guest of friends and will attend the Harvard and Yale boat races. Miss Knight will spend the remainder of her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Richard O'Hara, Brookville, Conn.

STRANGLED TO DEATH

Woman Killed After a Desperate Struggle

CAMDEN, N. J., June 29.—The body of Mrs. Mary Green was found today beside the railroad track half a mile from Williamstown Junction near where she lived. Apparently the woman had been strangled to death after a desperate struggle. Her clothing was torn and her face, neck and arms bore marks of finger nails, while the earth all about was pitted with heel prints.

Mrs. Green left her husband and child at home last week and went to Philadelphia to visit friends. She had not been heard from at home since that time. The police are looking for two men who were seen late last evening with a woman driving toward the spot where the body was found. The woman was about 30 years of age.

MERGER IS APPROVED

Old Colony Road Absorbed by B. & N.

BOSTON, June 29.—When the legislature approved a special order of the railroad commission today the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. and the Old Colony Street Railway Co. were united into one big system. The Old Colony is absorbed by the Boston & Northern. The vote of the commission was unanimous. The consolidated lines stretch from Newport, R. I., to Nashua, N. H., covering the greater part of eastern Massachusetts.

THE TUNNEL BILL

Was Killed in the Legislature Today

BOSTON, June 29.—The bill providing for the connection by tunnel under Boston Harbor of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Maine railroad lines in this city was killed in the legislature today. When the measure came up for consideration Speaker Walker of the house ruled the bill out on a point of order, based on the ground that the bill was without the scope of the petition of the New Haven road for certain legislation. An attempt was made to re-comit the proposition to the railroad commission but it failed.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED

The electric car that left the square at 3.42 o'clock this afternoon for Hovey square, Dracut, was somewhat delayed on the return trip.

When the car reached the corner of Lilley ave. and Hildreth street at 4.15 there was a big load of hay on the tracks, a farmer's wagon having collapsed at that spot a few minutes sooner. Two men were busily engaged in reloading the grass on another wagon and it took some time before the road was cleared. The cause of the accident was the breaking of two of the wheels which gave way under the heavy load.

JUMPED INTO CANAL

Brooding over family troubles and in a state of temporary aberration of mind, Victor Lefebvre, aged 46 years, committed suicide this morning by drowning in the Pawtucket canal. Edmond Forget, a young man living at 230 Cheever street, made an heroic effort to save the man's life, but although the drowning man was brought to the edge of the canal, he died in Forget's arms before he could be pulled to the surface.

Victor Lefebvre, who was living apart from his family for the past four years, was employed in a mill at South Boston as a weaver. According to his son Achille, he had not been feeling well for the past few weeks, and two weeks ago he came to this city for a rest and stopped with the latter at his room, 152 Ford street. For the past two or three days the boy noticed that his father was acting strangely and he did the best he could to cheer him up and bring him to his senses.

Last night the father refused to retire and did not sleep all night. At 5.30 o'clock this morning he went out and was seen running up and down Ford street several times in an excited manner. His son went after him and took him into the house. A few minutes later he went out again, and at 5.45 o'clock Mrs. William Smith of 230 Cheever street saw him jump over the fence of the canal opposite James street, and then into the water. Mrs. Smith screamed and attracted the attention of Mrs. Edmond Forget, a neighbor. The latter awoke her husband and Mr. Forget, jumping out of bed, slid on a pair of tights and running around the building dived into the canal.

In the meantime Lefebvre had gone to the bottom, but shortly after he was seen floating and making efforts to sink. Forget swam across the canal and catching the man around the neck, swam to the canal's edge. There, however, he was handicapped for the wall was some two feet higher, and it was impossible to climb with Lefebvre who was still alive. The rescuer called for help and a few minutes later a young man named Leo Vigeant was on the scene, but his efforts in trying to pull the two to shore were fruitless. Forget was still clinging to the wall with the now lifeless body of the suicide. Undertaker Joseph Albert and Patrolman Charles Jennell were notified and with the aid of a rope tied around the body of Lefebvre, the two men were pulled on to the banks of the canal.

The ambulance was summoned, but it was useless, for the unfortunate man had expired. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert and later to the home of the deceased's sister, Mrs. Elzear Harvey, 200 Perkins street.

Forget is to be congratulated on his heroic act, and had it not been for the fact that the water was somewhat lower than usual, he could have saved Lefebvre's life, Mrs. Smith, who saw the man jump into the water, said that Forget must have held the prostrate form of Lefebvre for at least seven minutes, clinging to the wall with one hand while waiting for help.

The deceased is survived by a wife, Leontine Robillard Lefebvre, and five children, Victor, a student at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Rosanna and Achille, Mesdames Ernest Paquin and Alfred Waterhouse; his father, Mr. Joseph Lefebvre, of Mechanicsville, N. Y., five brothers, Auguste of Mechanicsville, N. Y., Theotime of Bangor, Me., Lucien, Emile and Alfred of Lowell; four sisters, Mesdames Joseph Tremblay and Elzear Harvey of this city, and the Misses Malvina and Virginie Lefebvre of Lowell.

MAN FATALLY INJURED

He Was Struck by the Bar Harbor Express Train

An unknown man, about 26 years old, who in all probability was a Greek, was struck by the Bar Harbor express near the bridge in Wilder street about 4.30 o'clock this morning and died at St. John's hospital about an hour later. While no person seems to know how the accident happened it is probable that the first section of the express struck the man, he having been found unconscious on the rails by the engineer of the second section. The body is now at the funeral parlors of Undertaker Peter H. Savage at the corner of Worthen and Market streets.

According to some pay envelopes found on the dead man's person it is thought that he worked in one of the local mills, but which one he worked in has not been learned as yet.

It is thought that he was walking along the railroad tracks and that he stepped too close to the inbound first section of the Bar Harbor express and sustained injuries which later resulted in his death. The engineer of the second section of the train discovered the body and reported the matter.

The unconscious man was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where it was found he was suffering from injuries of the right arm, right leg and his head was battered and bruised. The man passed away at about 5.30 o'clock.

In his pockets were three pay envelopes. One was dated June 2 and bore the number 2119 and showed that it had contained $7.31. The second was dated June 10 and numbered 2090, and the amount was $5.10, while the third was dated June 17, numbered 2186, and was marked $7.92. Each of the envelopes bore an advertisement of the A. G. Pollard Co., but when the police tried to learn to whom the company distributed envelopes it was found that all but two of the local mills are furnished with pay envelopes by the company.

The man also wore a fraternal button which the police are trying to have identified.

A BIG SENSATION

In Connection With Investigation of U. S. Steel Corporation

NEW YORK, June 29.—What promises to be the most sensational and far-reaching anti-trust action the federal government has yet undertaken is expected to take definite form here today, when a federal grand jury which has been hearing evidence against certain officials of the United States Steel Corporation, its subsidiaries and many independent steel companies, makes its report. It is known that the findings of the grand jury promise to be a greater revelation than any of the published rumors have indicated. Criminal indictments charging conspiracy to control the prices of steel and steel products involve men high up in the financial world. The government's investigation has gone even further and is said to have reached a prominent law firm of this city, which has for years been commonly identified with many so-called trust contracts and pooling agreements.

Some of the evidence presented to the grand jury is said to show that the steel business in the United States has been divided by agreement into about twenty pools.

The pools, it is said, have been formed by agreements between the subsidiaries of the steel corporation and many of the independents. Agents of the government in their investigation have come into possession of contracts, agreements and minutes of meetings of steel men.

The government's action is directed more against the trust within the trust than against the steel corporation alone, although the evidence laid before the grand jury is said to involve many of the officers of the big company.

While the bureau of corporations at Washington has been making an investigation of the steel corporation for nearly three years, this proposed criminal action is apart from that. The criminal case will not have any connection with any suit which the government may bring against the steel corporation.

When inquiry was made at the United States district attorney's office it was stated that no information on the subject of the steel investigation by the federal grand jury would be forthcoming until late this afternoon and possibly tomorrow.

DR. EDWARD J. WELCH

Nominated by Mayor Meehan as Library Trustee

Dr. Edward J. Welch will succeed the late Thomas Walsh as trustee of the Lowell public library. The appointment of Dr. Welch was announced by Mayor Meehan this forenoon and will meet with general approval. Dr. Welch is a great lover of books and has one of the finest, if not the very finest private library in Lowell. He has always been very much interested in Lowell's public library, and it would have indeed been very difficult for Mayor Meehan to have selected a man more interested and better fitted for the position.

Dr. Welch is a graduate of the Lowell High school, Holy Cross college and the Harvard Medical school. In his profession he is at the top of the ladder and he has a very large practice. His office is in the Runels building and he lives at 451 Lawrence street. He is unmarried.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Will Keep the Aldermen and Councilmen Busy

The committee on ordinances and legislation will meet at 7.30 o'clock this evening and the committee on July 4th at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow evening the committee on the seventy-fifth anniversary observance will meet at 8 o'clock, the committee on sewers at 7.30 and the committee on streets at 8 o'clock.

The committee on sewers will give hearings on petitions. The committee will have two very important matters to consider. One is the petition of the American Hide & Leather Co. and others, that a main sewer from Wigginville, so called, be laid from the crossing of the Lowell & Andover street railroad at Lawrence street (inside location) to a point opposite the premises of the American Hide & Leather Co., thence across the Concord river and through private land to the sewer in Lawrence street near Watson street.

The other very important matter will have to do with sewers on the Centralville side of the Merrimack river where the sewers do not reach the water. The sewer mouths are several feet from the water and the committee's investigation of these sewers revealed a condition that must be remedied. It is generally conceded that the sewers there are a menace to public health.

Another petition calls for a sewer in School street from the end of the present sewer, southerly to Spring court and in Payne street from School street southerly about 170 feet.

A sewer is petitioned for in Burlington avenue from Marginal street to an angle in said street.

Joseph H. Flynn petitions for a sewer in Richardson street from Ida L. Boynton's land to land of estate of J. H. Flynn, about 150 feet.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Daniel J. Sullivan and Miss Mary A. Riley were united in marriage Tuesday evening, the ceremony being performed at St. Patrick's rectory by Rev. Timothy P. Callahan. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Riley and the best man was Mr. Michael A. Quigley.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white silk, a picture hat, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful gown of pink messaline and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Broadway. A number of friends and relatives of the young couple were present. A wedding dinner was served and during the evening the wedding guests were entertained by the Twentieth Century Bachelor club minstrels, of which Mr. Sullivan is a popular member.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan received a number of beautiful gifts and they started on a wedding trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

MORSE—HOPKINS

A pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mrs. C. H. Hopkins, 150 A ...treet, when her daughter, Miss Florence Ethel Hopkins, and Mr. Harold Ainsley Morse of Lynn, were united in marriage. The full Episcopal service was performed by the Rev. James Fraser, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. The bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Florence Elizabeth Morse of Lynn, and the best man was Mr. John H. Hammond.

Following the reception a wedding supper was served. A ladies' orchestra played during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Morse received many beautiful gifts.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brode of West Roxbury, Mrs. Brode having been formerly Miss Maude Hopkins, and Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Washburn of New York city, the latter having been formerly Miss Maybelle Hopkins. The bride, Mrs. Morse, has for several years been a well known professional musician, and her sisters, aforementioned, were also proficient in music and had played with various organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Morse left for their honeymoon in an automobile during the early evening, showered with confetti by hosts of friends. Following a tour they will go to The Weirs, N. H., where they will remain until Sept. 1. Later they will go to Portland, Ore., where they will make their home.

THOMAS—FLANAGAN

Mr. Henry Thomas, a former resident of this city, but now of Amsterdam, N. THREE WERE DROWNED

Father and His Son Among the Victims

EAST HADDAM, Conn., June 29.—When the skiff in which they were rowing on the Connecticut river upset late yesterday, Eddie Parola, 55 years old; his son, Patrick, 35, both of this place, and Jerry Saunders of New York were drowned.

Two others in the boat, Paul Saunders and Rocco Carbone, both of New York, saved themselves by swimming to the shore.

Patrick Parola lost his life in a vain attempt to save his father. Saunders sank as soon as the boat upset. None of the bodies were recovered.

BABY'S SKIN RAW AND SORE

The result of even a little neglect in caring for a baby is shown by a letter from Miss J. P. Young, a trained nurse of Salem, Mass. She was called to see a baby where a simple chafing had been neglected. "The skin was raw and sore," she says, "but in a week after using Comfort Powder it was all healed." This powder is no more like the common toilet powders than cream is like skim milk. They are irritating. Comfort Powder soothes and heals irritations and rashes quickly and is harmless. See that E. S. Sykes' signature is on the box you buy.

TRAIN WAS HELD UP

Robbers Got Away With the Registered Mail

GLENDALE, Oregon, June 29.—Apparently mistaking the first section of north-bound passenger train number 16 of the Southern Pacific railroad for a south-bound train said to be carrying a shipment of $400,000 in gold dust from Seattle to San Francisco, two robbers held up the north-bound train last night near West Fork, an isolated station in Cow Creek Canyon.

The robbers rifled the mail car, blowing up the safe and made way with the registered mail. They tried to secure entrance to the express car but were foiled by Messenger Robb, who refused to open the door, despite threats that they would use dynamite if he persisted. The robbers, after fruitlessly prying with a crowbar at the side door of the car, finally desisted and decamped with the loot secured from the mail car. The amount taken by the robbers cannot be ascertained at this time. This train carries in its registered mail the cash from the southern Oregon postoffices to Eugene, Oregon, which is their depository, and this was probably included in the mail stolen.

The robbers boarded the train at West Fork while the engine was taking water. Soon after it had got under way they crawled over the tender into the cab and directed the engineer to stop the train.

This done, one of the men kept the engineer and fireman under cover of his revolver while the other went back and uncoupled the mail, baggage and express cars. Then the engineer was ordered to pull these cars some distance up the track, where he was again ordered to stop. The robbers went back to the mail car and lining the mail clerks up, took the registered mail pouches and dynamited the mail car safe. The noise of the explosion warned Express Messenger Robb of what was taking place and when the demand came for him to open his door he made no response.

The conductor of the train, as soon as he discovered what had taken place, went back to West Fork, where he notified Glendale and surrounding points. Posses have been organized to pursue the robbers.

STEAMER ZEELAND

UNABLE TO BERTH AT HER LANDING STAGE TODAY

LIVERPOOL, June 29.—In the absence of the shore gang who are on strike the steamer Zeeland of the Red Star line, from New York, was unable to berth at her landing stage this morning and her passengers were landed from a tender. The men due to relieve the Zeeland's crew at Mersey lightship refused to go on duty.

THE MYSTIC NOBLES

TO HOLD MONSTER DEGREE AND BANQUET NEXT SUNDAY

Lowell Caravan, No. 3, Mystic Nobles of Granada, through its officers, has completed practically all arrangements for the exemplification of the initiatory degree on a large class of candidates next Sunday, in Granada hall, Boston. Every indication points that the gathering will be the largest ever assembled since the Granada movement was inaugurated in New England. Besides Lowell, big delegations will attend from Worcester, Bridgeport, Conn., Providence, R. I., Portland, Me., and Manchester, N. H., special trains having been chartered for the trip. Prominent men in public and professional life will grace the occasion, and Boston caravan will entertain with a lavish hand. The Lowell men will leave this city on the 2.18 train Sunday afternoon, returning late in the evening. At the North station, the Lowell men will be met by representatives of the Boston caravan and escorted to Granada hall where the exercises will be carried out.

The preparations for the degree and for the banquet are in the hands of a capable committee under the able leadership of Supreme Monarch John H. Allen, which in itself is a guarantee that everything will be the acme of perfection.

WILL TRAMP EUROPE

In Order to Pick Up Some Dances

NEW YORK, June 29.—With a sweater sleeve for a knapsack, Miss Elizabeth Burchenal, accompanied by her sister, who will be similarly equipped, will tramp through some of the out-of-the way parts of Europe this summer in search of interesting country fetes where there will be exhibitions of peasant dancing.

Miss Burchenal, who is an inspector of girls' athletics, and who, with Dr. Luther Gulick, introduced folk dancing into the gymnasium course in the public schools, has learned from experience how to dress for long walking trips and how to travel light.

"My walking costume usually consists of a pongee shirt waist, a light weight cloth skirt of some color that will not show the dust and a sweater for cool evenings and for carrying my wardrobe in," Miss Burchenal said yesterday when telling of her plans. "I tie the wrist of my sweater in a knot, tuck into the sleeve a night gown, tooth brush and comb and am ready for a tramp of one, two or perhaps three days. If I am able to map out my trip accurately I send a bag on to my destination each night.

"I have no definite plans except that we depart July 8, and will not return until some time in September. We go to England, Denmark—perhaps, or maybe Holland and Sweden—wherever I hear of interesting festivals.

"I shall live among the village folk several days or weeks previous to the holding of the fete, so that I may become acquainted with some of them who may dance with me. That is the way to learn their folk dances for our public school athletic work. I do not want the peasants to know my purpose."

EX-STATE TREASURER

Found Guilty on Charge of Embezzlement

WASHBURN, N. D., June 29—A jury found a verdict of guilty on the charge of embezzling $54.02 against G. K. Bickford, former state treasurer, last night. Bickford was charged with embezzling $60,000 while he was also president of the First National bank of Bowbells. The state recovered the money and Bickford was found guilty of embezzling the amount of the interest which the state lost while he had the money in his possession.

SLIGHTLY INJURED

Man Fell Distance of 500 Feet in a Biplane

CHICAGO, June 29.—John J. Joyce fell 500 feet in a biplane at Hawthorn park yesterday and escaped with only slight injuries. He broke through five telephone wires, one trolley wire and a heavy wooden backstop for a baseball diamond. The biplane was literally ground to pieces but Joyce escaped with only a sprained ankle, a scratched face and a possible minor fracture of one of the small bones of the leg.

Joyce fell in the course of an instruction flight he had undertaken for several pupils who were at the park. He was operating his 60 horse power biplane when his engine went dead.

Swooping like a hawk, the machine dashed upon the telephone wires and then fell at a changed angle upon the trolley wire, through which no current was running. Just before the biplane hit this wire Joyce leaped from the machine. He landed on the trolley wire and this broke the force of his fall and twisted his body so that he alighted squarely on his feet.

ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF INSTRUCTION

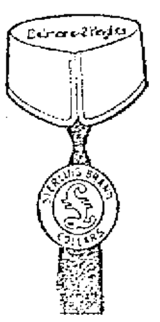

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 29.—School teachers and others engaged in different phases of educational endeavor met in this city today when the 81st annual convention of the American Institute of Instruction was opened. The institute is the oldest educational association in America. The central theme of the meeting will be "The Educational Interests in New England," as the institute is primarily a New England organization.

Governor Aram Pothier and Mayor Fletcher were present to welcome the visiting educators when the meeting was opened today and Walter E. Ranger, state commissioner of public schools, welcomed them on behalf of the teachers of the state. Vice-President Charles T. Whitcomb of Brockton responded for the institute. The president Payson Smith, Maine state superintendent of public schools, delivered his annual address and William A. Mowry, Ph. D., spoke on the topic "What shall we do with the troublesome boys."

Following the meeting a reception was held by Governor Pothier at the state house and in the afternoon the educators took a steamboat excursion to Newport.

Captain Richmond Pierson Hobson will address the Institute tonight and meetings will be continued the remainder of the week.

Sailor ties, No. Billerica, tonight.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29.—Two score of well bronzed athletes, the leading exponents of rowing at Harvard and at Yale, having practically completed their aquatic tuition for the year, spent the day in husbanding their strength, calming their nerves and practicing a few racing starts for the supreme tests tomorrow in the annual regatta between the two universities. For four of the six crews, the freshmen and the 'varsity substitute fours, only two miles of the Thames remain to be covered while for the two big varsity eights there is a four mile struggle before the finish of the year's rowing can be reached. What that finish will be was a source of almost continuous debate today among the old graduates, the students and the host of followers of the sport who streamed into this old whaling city on trains, yachts and motorcars. Old oarsmen who had pulled for Harvard or for Yale in former years did not linger long in the city. The crew quarters, five miles up the river, proved strong magnets and the chance which comes but once a year of swapping rowing stories and fighting old aquatic battles over again was not to be ignored.

Then again there might be an opportunity of seeing some of the crews polishing off their training by practicing starts. Another event of the day was the preliminary races of the afternoon as a sort of curtain raiser for tomorrow's sport. These were planned to consist of a mile spurt for freshman substitute fours and a graduates eight oared race over the same distance, both in the upper reaches of the Thames opposite the quarters. The graduate eights were not made up until late in the afternoon.

A WHIST CLUB ROW

Two Women Begin Action to Recover $3.71 Each

SALEM, June 29.—A hearing was held before Judge Bell in a jury waived session of the Essex county superior court yesterday, on the bill in equity arising from trouble in the camp of the "Nahant Four Hundred," a whist club consisting of the wives and sisters of eight prominent business men and hotel proprietors of Nahant and Lynn.

Ranged on either side of the court room, the two factions of the club, supported by their many women friends, sat all during the forenoon session and until the middle of the afternoon, awaiting the time when their case would be called.

Mrs. Ida Morine of Nahant, who with her husband runs one of the largest cottages there, and Mrs. Edith Benz, wife of a Lynn manufacturer, were the complainants. Mrs. Addie C. Fuller, wife of a Bass Point hotel proprietor, and sister-in-law of Mrs. Morine; Mrs. Marguerite Woodworth, niece of Mrs. Morine; Mrs. Laura M. Pankhurst, sister of Mr. Morine; Miss Edith Kollock, Mrs. Grace M. Southwick and Mrs. Halbauer, who with her husband operates a large pavilion at Bass Point, are the defendants.

The amount of money involved in the case is said to be approximately $3.71, due each of the two complainants from the proceeds of a dance given by the club at Bass Point in May, 1910, or at least from the balance after the members of the club had taken a trip to Boston, including a visit to a Boston theatre in the afternoon, a dinner and then another theatre in the evening, plus a few auto rides in the interim.

Neither Mrs. Morine nor Mrs. Benz, it is stated, took in this little excursion nor did they receive their proportionate parts of the remainder. The bill in equity comes as a result, and it is said that the whole difficulty arose as a result of differences over a whist prize that proved a "drug on the market."

Mrs. Morine when called to the stand, said that it had been the custom of the club to divide the proceeds from the club's annual dance equally among the members.

This division, however, came after a pleasure trip to Boston, including dinners and theatre parties. She said that her sister, Mrs. Pankhurst, one of the defendants, had said that she received $18.20 as her portion of the fund.

On cross-examination she denied that at the dance she asked some of the women to "come to my house for some good ice cream for they are serving mush here."

Her testimony was practically corroborated by Mrs. Benz.

The Class Motto

Vincit qui se Vincit (He Conquers Who Overcomes Himself).

The Class Ode

Written by Miss Marion Martin.

The years spent together we ne'er shall forget,
And the memories clustering here
Of the strong ties of friendships both loyal and true,
Will forever continue most dear.
Together we've worked, and together we've played;
Work and play whose results we'll not know
Till the lessons we've learned in these days bright and fair,
Bear fruits in the fields where we go.

Our school days are over and now we go forth
Each one on his separate way;
And whatever our duty, whatever our task,
We will do it the best that we may,
With courage undaunted and hearts strong and true,
We will meet every foe great and small,
Till at last, when the battle in triumph shall end,

The Class Officers

The names of the graduates and star scholars have been published previously in The Sun.

Graduating Exercises

As far back as the writer's experience extends the annual graduating exercises of the Lowell High school have taken place on one of the hottest nights of the year, and last evening was no exception. The heat, however, had no terrors for the proud and happy relatives and friends of the class of '11, for they attended in large numbers and the Opera House was filled. The address of the occasion was delivered by President W. H. P. Faunce of Brown university. The graduating class, in most attractive attire, occupied seats on the stage.

The musical part of the program was particularly enjoyable. Hibbard's orchestra played the following selections: Overture, "Marsiana," Wallace; Concert Waltz, "Louise," W. E. Owen, finale, "American Republic," Thill. The choruses, conducted by Mr. F. O. Blunt, were sung with great vim.

The selections were as follows

Pilgrim Chorus from "I. Lombardi," Verdi

Semi-chorus—
a—Belle Nuit, O Nuit D'Amour.

Violin—Charles D. Whidden, '13.
'Cello—R. B. Whidden, '11.

The Class Ode

The Presentations

The Carney medals and certificates of honorable mention were presented by Supt. Whitcomb, while Mayor Meehan presented the diplomas, Mr. Franklin T. Johnson, president of the school board, introduced the speakers. Cyrus W. Irish, principal of the school, thanked the class for its gift, a bas-relief representing Washington Crossing the Delaware. It will be placed in High school hall.

Scholarships Awarded

It was announced that through the kindness of the Lowell Harvard club a scholarship of $200 has been awarded to Stearns Morse of the graduating class, and another of $150 to Samuel K. Gibson of the Class of 1903.

Historical Society Prizes

The prizes given by the Lowell Historical society for the best and second best historical essay on "Chelmsford," were awarded to Mildred M. Durham, first, and Ida F. Cummings, second. The prizes were $10 and $5 in gold. They were presented by Rev. A. St. John Chambre, D. D.

FUNERALS

GENEST—The funeral of the late Mrs. Remi Genest took place this morning. High mass of requiem was sung at 8 o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church by the Rev. Fr. Ouellette, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Dr. George E. Cusse rendered the Gregorian chant, Mr. Arthur J. Martel presiding at the organ. The bearers were Eugene and Alexandre Marchand, John Bisson and Zeid St. Hilaire. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, Rev. Fr. Brullard, O. M. I., reciting the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

MR. CONRAD QUIRBACH

Addressed Graduates of the Edson School

An interesting feature in connection with the Edson school graduation exercises was the address delivered by Mr. Conrad Quirbach, a graduate of the school and also a graduate of Holy Cross college. Mr. Quirbach's remarks were very instructive and he said in part:

"The lives of men are like the mountain streams. In the early springtime, they trickle as little rills, along an uneven course, like a little, weak and toddling child. But as these rills move along, they grow uniting into rivulets as they gain strength from snowflakes melting and water drops gathering in from all sides. These are aids and kindly influences given us by dear parents, teachers and friends at the primary school period of childhood. Then they pour in, in larger amounts swelling the waters into mountain torrents. Thus having aids and helps kept pace with the changing, moving years of life. These torrents, rushing down the different mountain valleys, combine with one another to form a river, which, in turn, joins with others from other mountain chains, to form a stream like our own great Mississippi. These great streams, then run along almost by themselves. Your lives must go on hereafter with more personal, more individual effort, and with less aid from others, though in the past you have received fine influences to impel, to spur you on to better, nobler things of mind and heart. Thus has your way, up to this time, been prepared for you. Your kind teachers have, up to this time, used the tools. They have shown you, by example, how to shape your course. This day, they place in your hands the self-same tools which they have used, and bid you use them yourselves, for your future betterment. Nay, they will do more—they will watch you, how you do use them. How glad you will make these parents, teachers, and friends, if you but guide your stream of life through ever-widening channels, straight and deep and true; and how their hearts will beat with joy, as yours do now, when they see you as the stream, leaving the dross and low things of life at the delta, and advance with clear, pure waters to mingle with, and to render cleaner and better the waters of the great ocean of life.

And so you soon depart, and take your respective places in the world of work. Now, not everyone is adapted to the same post of duty. One may become a merchant, another may turn to mechanical work, while further schooling may call the rest. But to whatever branch you may attach yourself, persevere in that, for every man can make himself the master of his work.

As you enter upon these new positions, really new lives, you must take with you the knowledge and counsels you here have received. You who are entering the workshop or business must not be surprised to find that you are as one starting into a primary school, and you will have to study and work hard in order to gain a thorough foundation in the elements of the practical work you are to do. For there you will find more practice and less theory, and you must learn to apply your knowledge in a practical way.

However, the opportunities for advancement and progress will not be lacking. You who enter the high school will find there courses along practical and classical lines which cannot be surpassed for thoroughness and training for future service.

But you who are to take your places at once among the wage earners should by no means consider your education completed. You might, with profit, heed the advice of one of our Edson school's most prominent graduates, Archbishop William H. O'Connell, when he said recently, in an address to students, "Young men, study along your line." So, whether you are in the workshop or in business, far from discontinuing your studies, you should keep them up and always "study along your line."

No better opportunities are offered in any part of the country than are held out to you by the Lowell Evening and the Textile school. Regarding the Textile school, it has been remarked that grammar school graduates may enter without an examination and take up evening courses in textile work, such as dyeing, chemistry, mechanical or electrical engineering. The pity of it is that Lowell people do not properly appreciate the fact, while outsiders, young men from other cities and states, enter, study, and, taking away these choice morsels from our very midst, return to their homes, fortified by a training that soon places them in positions of value, positions of worth.

Now, then, business men will soon demand of you young graduates two things—obedience and thoroughness. These are but what your teachers have been instilling into your minds, so you are not to question any right order given you, but do it as best you can. Acting thus, you will soon gain the good-will of your employer, and he will put you above others in his confidence and trust. For legislators tell us that they can best command who best have learned how to obey. Here, as I have, and no doubt you have, studied and dreamed of the poor, yet good and ambitious, Abraham Lincoln, first, reading at night by the light of the log fire, and afterwards, as pilot and president, directing our ship of state through the stormy seas of civil strife to safety. You have read and watched, in fancy, Benjamin Franklin, philosopher, inventor, genius, striving to lay down strong principles of life, and again, with kite and string and key, turning his attention heavenward to harness the elements and to bring down to earth, under man's control, the lightning of the skies. These men, and all successful men, whether they be famous in the realms of art, literature, science, or in the world of finance, have been ambitious, training their minds and conquering first themselves, that they might later train and direct the minds of others, and cause them to obey.

STOCK MARKET

WAS FIRM AT THE CLOSING HOUR TODAY

Prices Sold Off When Reports About Corporation Officials Were Received—U. S. Steel Went Back to Last Night's Close—Later It Went To Best Price Of Day

NEW YORK, June 29.—Changes at the opening of the stock market today were confined to small fractions. There were no signs of the pressure which forced down prices yesterday and trading was dull. Most of the speculative leaders made slight advances.

Trading showed a good deal of vim for a time and there was a further advance in prices which put many of the representative stocks a point or more above yesterday's closing figures. After this had been accomplished the demand became less urgent and there was a moderate amount of profit-taking which forced back the list slightly.

The tone of the market was distinctly stronger this morning. The heavy selling of yesterday was not resumed and the lower range of prices then established attracted a moderate amount of buying which forced up prices generally. Bull traders, however, made no attempt to extend the movement and the market grew dull at the higher level. Optimistic reports from the west of crop prospects and indications of a further improvement in the iron and steel situation, helped to improve sentiment. American Tobacco Securities were unusually active and strong. Bonds were firm.

Little stock was offered at current quotations and bids were raised steadily in filling orders so that prices returned to their previous best. Erie and Missouri Pacific loomed into prominence with gains of a point each.

Speculation was almost lifeless in the afternoon and fluctuations were in keeping with the volume of business.

The market closed firm. Reiterated reports of the possibility that prominent corporation officials would be indicted caused some uneasiness and prices sold off. United States Steel went back to last night's close and the advances in other stocks were reduced sharply. Near the close the whole list stiffened again and the U. S. Steel mounted to the best price of the day.

The Boston Market

BOSTON, June 29.—Transactions in American Telephone monopolized early trading on the Boston market today. The tone was firm.

DEFENDANTS APPEALED

They Were Found Guilty of Stealing 500 Cucumbers

George Shordas and Simos Dardos were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on complaints charging them with the larceny of 500 cucumbers, each of the value of five cents and the property of John C. and Jesse Trull of North Tewksbury, also assault and battery on Fred Allard. The court after considering the testimony offered found both men guilty of larceny of the cucumbers and ordered them sentenced to jail for five months, but later changed the sentence to four months. Daniel J. Donahue, who appeared for the defendants, entered an appeal.

The first witness for the defense was Dr. H. M. Larrabee of Tewksbury, who testified that he was called to the Trull house in North Tewksbury one week ago Monday morning. He arrived there about 1.30 or 2 o'clock and found Fred Allard in a semi-conscious condition. Cross examined by Mr. Donahue, witness said that he found no bruises on Allard's body.

John C. Trull testified that he is engaged in farming and gardening in North Tewksbury and of late had been missing vegetables. On the night in question, one week ago Sunday night, he said he and Allard went to the greenhouse for the purpose of detecting thieves. They remained there until shortly after midnight when they heard a sound similar to the rustling of the cucumber vines. Then the witness saw the light from a lantern and rushing through the place said he found Dardos with a bag of cucumbers and a lantern. He said that Dardos dropped the cucumbers and he took the lantern away from the man. There was another person in the place, but he could not identify him.

Witness added that he had been missing vegetables from his farm and had informed the employes that if he caught them stealing anything he would "fire the whole bunch."

Fred Allard, the person who it is alleged was assaulted, testified that he saw Dardos in the greenhouse. He saw Mr. Trull take the lantern from Dardos but after that something struck him and he knew nothing. He complained of pains in his stomach but could not state what happened to him.

Jesse Trull, brother of John C. Trull, and one of the complainants, said he did not witness either the alleged larceny or assault and all he knew was what he had heard. He testified that the next morning he had a talk with the defendants and one of them said, "Me no hit me, nobody saw me."

Patrolman McNally, who arrested the two men in the vicinity of Pleasant and Rogers streets, about 2.15 Monday morning, said that one of the men had a cucumber in his pocket and the other had two cucumbers. He asked them where they were going and they said they were on their way home. Cross examined by Mr. Donahue, the patrolman said that when he stopped them they said they were on their way to Heed's farm. They said they resided at 2 Elm street.

Chief Frank Farmer of the Tewksbury constabulary, knew nothing of the alleged larceny or assault other than what he had heard. He said he had a conversation with the defendants and he claimed that they admitted they had taken 35 cucumbers and were on their way home when arrested. They denied knowing anything about the assault.

No defense was offered, Lawyer Donahue arguing that there was nothing to show the value of the articles alleged to have been stolen. The court found the defendants guilty on the larceny complaint and sentenced each to five months in jail but later changed the sentence to four months. As to the assault and battery charge the defendants were found not guilty and discharged.

Neighborhood Row

Delia McMahon and Elizabeth Joyce reside in different tenements in a house in Bolt street and the front doors are adjacent and the entrance to the different doors is from a pair of steps. Both were the best of friends until a few days ago when an argument arose about the actions of their respective children and as a result the pair got into a fistic encounter which was terrible according to the testimony offered in police court. Mrs. McMahon was charged with assault and battery on the Joyce woman, but she denied the allegation. Counsel in the case informed the court that an attempt had been made to settle the matter and the complainant was willing to withdraw the complaint if Mrs. McMahon would give her $1.25 for a wrapper which she alleged Mrs. McMahon tore off her back.

Mrs. McMahon was fined $2, the money to be paid to Mrs. Joyce for the wrapper which was destroyed.

Violation of Milk Law

Robert F. Carson was charged with a violation of the milk law. He entered a plea of not guilty but at the conclusion of the case the court found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $10.

James E. Hill testified that he took four samples of milk from Mr. Carson's wagon on June 22 and turned them over to Milk Inspector Master. Mr. Master said he analyzed the milk and found that one of the samples which was number "48" showed but 11.37 per cent., while the standard is 12.15. Both the solids and fat were also below the standard.

Neglect Cases

William H. Harmon was charged with neglecting his minor child, and after being found guilty, was ordered to pay $5 toward the support of the child.

Henry T. Sullivan who was charged with neglecting to provide for his wife, Esther, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Guilty of Larceny

Charles P. Vale, of Somerville, was charged with the larceny of a watch and chain valued at $60, the property of Albert E. Brown. He entered a plea of not guilty but later stated that the watch was found on his person and that he evidently took it while under the influence of liquor. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25.

Mr. Brown formerly resided in Somerville but moved to Westford street in this city last Tuesday and his furniture was carried from Somerville to Lowell on an automobile truck. Upon arriving at the house the watch and chain were placed in a lady's handbag and left in one of the rooms. When he returned for the bag he found that the watch was missing. He reported the matter to the man whom he engaged to transport his furniture and the latter immediately suspected Vale. Vale was turned over to the Somerville police and when searched the watch and chain were found and the local police notified. Sergt. McCloughrey was sent to Somerville and he returned with the man.

Vale's plea was that he was under the influence of liquor and did not know what he was doing at the time.

Case Continued

Drunken Offenders

Nellie A. Ellis, who was yesterday sentenced to Sherborn and appealed, appeared in court this morning and withdrew her appeal.

Mary A. Armstrong's name was called but as she is at the city farm her case was continued.

John J. Noonan and James Downey were fined $8 each.

There were three first offenders who were fined $2 each.

REP. TOOMEY PRAISED

For His Position on Important Matters

Sen. Pearson undoubtedly feels that his colleague on the committee on federal relations—Eugene F. Toomey—is a most obstinate young man. Sen. Pearson devoted a good deal of time in trying to teach the young Lowell man the error of his ways when the income tax proposition and direct election of United States senators was before the committee. He finally concluded that he and Rep. Toomey could not agree on a political proposition for the young man from Lowell stood firm when the slightest wavering on his part might have changed the fate of these resolutions in the committee.

But the senate chairman again had hopes when he appointed Rep. Toomey to serve with him on a sub-committee to draft a substitute for Martin Lomasney's Russian-Jew resolutions, which, as John Halgis said, declared war against Russia. But Rep. Toomey stood firm for the original resolutions and couldn't be made to see the beauties of an anaemic substitute. He stood out and in the full committee Reps. Harding and Scigliano stood out with him which made it possible for Martin to make his fight in the house for substitution, in which fight, by the way, Rep. Halgis put it over the ward eight leader going and coming. Substitution was defeated and then, on snap judgment, Martin tried to kill the Pearson order but was routed again.

Rep. Toomey has been one of the most earnest and conscientious representatives at the state house this year. He is a democrat and can always be depended upon to stand by democratic principles. He hasn't missed a single rollcall this year. Before coming to the hill he made an excellent record as a public servant in four years' service on the Lowell school board.

MAY WITHDRAW TROOPS

WASHINGTON, June 29.—President Taft has under consideration the withdrawal of troops now forming the manoeuvre division in Texas. A final decision will be reached at the cabinet meeting tomorrow and the indications are that the withdrawal will begin immediately and be completed within a month. Improved conditions in Mexico and unusual discomforts suffered by the soldiers are the reasons assigned.

Auditor Henry E. Turner's death last night makes it necessary for the legislature to elect his successor.

KATHERINE BROWN

ELKINS, W. Va., June 29.—Katherine Davis Brown, daughter of Captain R. M. Brown, U. S. N., a hero of Samoa, and granddaughter of former United States Senator Henry Cassaway Davis, was married at noon today to Lieutenant Chester P. Barnett of the third artillery, U. S. A., and stationed at San Antonio, Texas.

The ceremony was held in the spacious hall of Graceland, the residence of the former senator. The altar, constructed of a rhododendrons, chrysanthemums and American beauty roses rose to a height of fourteen feet.

Rev. F. H. Barron of the Davis Memorial Presbyterian church here, read the ceremony, following which a reception was held, attended by many from Washington, New York and Baltimore.

THE LAWRENCE CASES

Another Sensation May Develop Soon

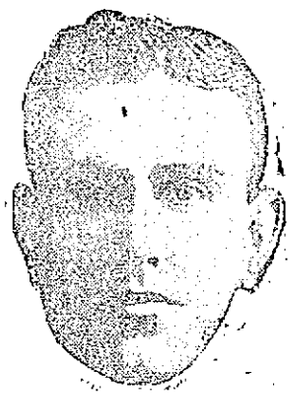

LAWRENCE, June 29.—A sensational development, which, it is said, is the outgrowth of rumors connected with the story of one or more jurors in the recently tried alleged conspiracy cases being approached, is expected at any time, as it is understood that a bench warrant will be sought, if it is not already issued, for the arrest of somebody connected with the trial. It is also said that the district attorney's office is busy investigating the reports in connection with the deliberations of the jury, and it is expected that a move is about to be made which will startle the whole county.

During the trial rumors were afloat that some jurors had been approached, and it is understood that several state officers were detailed to watch every move made by the men impaneled to hear the cases.

Whatever may have transpired while the jurors were under the watchful eyes of the state officers is a matter of conjecture, but from the persistent rumors which have spread in the past few days, it is understood that a big sensation will soon be sprung.

WOMAN IS ARRESTED

Charged With Murder of Which Man Was Convicted

PHILADELPHIA, June 29. — Accused of killing Emil Amann at Warren, Pa., on Jan. 27 last, Mrs. Stella Hodge, 35, of that place, is being held at police headquarters here pending action by the Warren police.

The sensational feature of the arrest lies in the fact that John M. Andrews, formerly superintendent of the Water Works company of Warren, was only a few days ago convicted of murdering Amann, despite his vigorous protestations of innocense. Andrews' attorney was James Scarlett, who did legal work in the capitol graft trials at Harrisburg and for the United States government in the powder trust case.

THE KING AND QUEEN

Made Another Tour of Streets of London Today

LONDON, June 29.—King George and Queen Mary accompanied by the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary made still another trip through the capital today. Although the procession lacked the ceremonial and military display of those of last week popular interest was undiminished and from Buckingham palace to the city and back through Northeast London great crowds cheered their majesties.

The object of today's procession was to attend the coronation thanksgiving ceremony at St. Paul's and afterward to lunch with the lord mayor and the corporation at Guildhall.

The procession, consisting of four carriages with the members of the royal family and the chief officers of state and their ladies was accompanied by the usual picturesque escort. The route was lined by 15,000 troops, each regiment accompanied by its band.

The lord mayor and the sheriffs met the king at Temple Bar and preceded him to St. Paul's, thence to Guildhall, and, after luncheon there, to the city boundary. Upwards of 700 guests sat down to the luncheon, which was served in the lavish style for which the corporation is famous.

THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE

Two Companies Yielded to Demands of Men

LONDON, June 29.—The situation resulting from the seamen's strike was much involved today but standing out boldly was the fact that the strikers' measures for obtaining increased wages were effective in many places.

The Canadian Pacific railroad and the Allan line yielded this morning. The Cunard line is expected to follow suit. The stewards of the Empress of Britain have returned to work and the loading of the Tunisian has been resumed. The stewards of the Arabic of the White Star line, due to sail for Boston on Saturday, and the Bovic and Suevic of the same line quit today and have picketed their ships.

TORPEDO DESTROYER

In Collision With an Unknown Schooner

MAN HELD UP

IS SUSPECTED TO BE WANTED ON EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 29.—A man who appeared at the United States army offices here to enlist, giving his name as Michael Ferguson of Providence, has been held to allow the Rhode Island authorities to look him over.

Word was received from Rhode Island today that the man might be Michael McConnel of Pawtucket, who is wanted at Providence for the alleged embezzlement from an insurance company there. Suspicion attached itself to the man when he declined to permit the army officers to take an impression of his fingers.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

It was hardly to be expected that the bill providing for an amendment of the state constitution so as to permit the referendum should pass with so little agitation in advance. The time is not far distant, however, when the state legislature will vote in favor of that amendment so that direct legislation may be favored at least in a restricted degree.

The Massachusetts senators joined the New England delegation if indeed they did not lead it in opposition to the popular election of U. S. senators. There were nine votes from New England registered against the resolve, and Senator Brandegee of Connecticut was absent. This indicates that the New England senators are not with the people in seeking this reform.

The legislative committee on judiciary has reported a bill providing for a workman's compensation law. The measure is so late in coming before the house that it is difficult to see how it can be properly discussed at this late stage in the session. Like many other necessary reforms it is likely to be put over till the next legislature, when it may receive more careful attention.

The condition of the Merrimack river between the Aiken street and Central bridges is not any worse than that of the lower Concord which never seems to receive any attention from the board of health. The Concord is so badly contaminated that it is a menace to the public health. From the Lowell Rendering works down the condition of the river is actually filthy and demands the attention of the state board of health or some other authority with power to apply the remedy.

THE TARIFF ON WOOL

Under the high protective tariff on wools and woolens, the production of wool in this country did not increase as might be expected. In 1891 the total number of sheep in the United States was 43,419,136 and the wool product 303,401,507, whereas last year the number of sheep was 41,999,500 and the wool output 321,302,750. The effect of the Payne-Aldrich law was not so magical as the friends of the measure anticipated in increasing the production of wool.

SCHOOL YARDS FOR PLAY

The park board is doing a good thing for the children in fitting up a number of the school yards as playgrounds to be open to the children during the vacation. Most of the school yards can be used in this way during vacation without the slightest damage to the property. The children will be led to understand that if they deface the buildings or fences in any way the yard will be closed up.

FITCHBURG'S GOOD LUCK

The city of Fitchburg, according to the Daily News of that city, has received a bequest of 73 acres of land with buildings thereon to be used for the purposes of a consumptives' hospital. Good for Fitchburg! That will form a nucleus around which a large institution can be built up. The city that is without a hospital for consumptives is behind the times. Lowell has not yet tackled the proposition of establishing such a hospital. The time is not far distant when it must have one or stand alone among the progressive cities of the state.

THE CHARTER TO BE ENACTED

The new charter having passed the house to be engrossed will probably now be submitted to the people as it should be.

The work of education must begin. This charter is not the charter of any coterie, any party or any class. It is the evolution of municipal necessity, the effort of misgoverned cities to reduce their business to a strictly business basis.

There is a difference of opinion as to what the result of the charter will be, and Haverhill and Lynn are mentioned as cities in which this form of charter is said not to have given satisfaction. But it is almost too soon to judge of results in either city as the original opponents of this form of charter have been trying in every way possible to discredit it, in spite of the fact that the showing in Haverhill is entirely creditable.

We may expect the same result in Lowell. The opposition will die hard, but it is to be hoped that sensible men who must realize the need of a change will cease to predict that this charter means injustice to any class. Autocrats, they say, would rule at city hall. Well, let them rule and rule wisely, but just as soon as they abuse their power the people can step in and apply one or more of the weapons provided for this purpose, to wit, the recall, the initiative and the referendum.

The citizens under the new charter would have absolute power over their elected officials and no "sell-out" is possible. Anything supposed to be dishonest can be held up for investigation by the people.

This new charter will banish for all time the official who makes a lot of promises to his constituents and disregards his promises after election. It will put an end to deadlocks at city hall and will in other ways promote the city's interests. The present office holders will all have a chance to run for office under the new charter. None of their political rights is taken away or abridged. On the contrary the people are vested with powers such as they never before wielded, powers to be used for the rights and interests of the municipality whenever occasion requires their use. It is quite probable that the good sense of this community will so far prevail that the charter will be adopted by a handsome majority. Those who paint imaginary pictures of the cataclysm that will result if this new charter be adopted will soon attain distinction as false prophets once this new method shall have been applied to the city's business.

SEEN AND HEARD

Accompanied by an instructor, the new entry into the automobile field was out, bright and early, in his new touring car. They were circling the park in rather a wobbly fashion.

"I suppose," he casually remarked to the chauffeur, as he took a fresh grasp on the speed lever, "that you have been around with worse than I?"

The man gave no answer.

"I say," he repeated in a louder voice, "I suppose you have been around this course with worse than I?"

"I heard very well, sir, what you said in the first place," replied the man. "I'm jest a-thinkin' about it."—Metropolitan Magazine.

"Booth Tarkington is very difficult to please in matters theatrical," said a famous Philadelphia novelist. "Tarkington was visiting me here during the run of one of his own plays, and after dinner one evening we sauntered to the theatre. But the doorkeeper did not know us and for a time refused to let us in. Finally, though, Tarkington's identity was established and we were conducted to a stage box.

"The performance wasn't up to much. Tarkington fidgeted in his chair and at the end of the first act he suggested that we go. On our way out I saw my illustrious friend peering anxiously about the lobby.

"'What are you looking for?' I said.

"'I'm looking,' said Tarkington, 'for that chap who wouldn't let us in. I want to give him a quarter.'"—New York Press.

The following may interest Lowell people who have visited Washington and who have been through the subway there:

Between the national capitol and the new senate building communication is had by a subway about a furlong in length. Instead of following a direct line from building to building, this subway makes a majestic double curve in the form of the letter S.

A party of tourists recently "doing" the capital were riding through this under-ground way on the little electric carry-all that flits back and forth between the buildings. The curving path excited the curiosity of the precocious miss of 12.

"I wonder why they built this tunnel so crooked?" she inquired generally of the party.

"Why, because a curved line is so much more beautiful than a rigid straight line would be, of course," said the big sister, who was sentimentally inclined.

"But," replied the miss, "it would be much more beautiful to look down a long vista with the million electric lights twinkling along the length of it than the cut-off view we get in this crooked way. You're wrong, sister."

"Why, the reason's plain," oracularly spoke big sister's fiance, who is a lawyer by trade. "The subway follows the public thoroughfares, so that it will not trespass on private property."

"Why, even I know that all the property around here belongs to the government, and Uncle Sam couldn't trespass on himself," objected the precocious one. "I'm ashamed of you for a brother-in-law."

"Built it that way so's to make it longer and get more fat graft for the contractors," was papa's sage explanation, having handled contracts himself.

"But this subway wasn't built by contract," answered the little daughter. "You're as much at fault as any of them."

"Why, they built it curving thus to make the grade from the building to the capitol more gentle, and therefore easier for people, especially decrepit senators, to walk over," wheezed auntie, who weighed two hundred and hated climbing.

"But, auntie, it's practically level all the way through," said the young miss. "I'm going to find out from one who knows."

Whereupon, the capitol being reached the sun and inquisitive lady took herself to the office of the superintendent of the capitol.

"Oh, that's easy," he replied in response to the query. "We built the subway by making an open cut from the senate building to the capitol, putting in the masonry and then filling in. If we had made this open cut in a straight line we would have had to destroy a lot of the historic old elms that lay directly between the buildings; so we just let it curve to avoid them. That's all."—New York Times.

WHEN LOVE IS LOVELIEST

The rose is fairest when 'tis budding new,
And hope is brightest when it dawns from fears;
The rose is sweetest washed with morning dew,
And love is loveliest when embalmed in tears.

WOMAN INJURED

SHE WAS KNOCKED UNDER THE HOOFS OF HORSES

BAR HARBOR, Me., June 29.—This aristocratic summer resort was stirred by a carriage accident yesterday, when the fashionable hitch of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. McLean of Washington, D. C., parents of "the $100,000,000 baby," ran over and injured Mrs. Jackson Webber, the wife of a barber on Main street.

So frightened was Mrs. McLean, who before her marriage was Miss Evelyn Walsh of Denver, that she fainted and had to be removed to her summer home. Mrs. Webber's injuries are not serious.

While Mr. and Mrs. McLean were driving down the street in a victoria carriage behind a pair of high spirited horses, Mrs. Webber suddenly stepped in front of the vehicle.

Before the coachman could bring the horses to a standstill the woman had been knocked under the feet of the animals. In his endeavor to stop the span, the coachman backed the carriage over Mrs. Webber's prone form.

Mr. McLean assisted in removing the injured woman to her home.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

The members of the Educational club enjoyed an outing at Salem Willows Tuesday and like other events conducted by the club it proved to be a success. The party left Merrimack square at 8.15 o'clock in the morning and arrived at the Ocean View house at 11.30, where they were entertained. Dinner was served at noon and a social hour followed, after which an enjoyable trip was made by steamer along the North Shore. The party left Salem on the return trip at 4.30 p. m. The next outing will be at Canobie Lake July 11.

BOXES WERE OPENED

The quarterly box opening was held at the Gorham Street P. M. church last night. Joseph Sutcliff, assistant superintendent of the Sunday school, presided. A good program was provided. At the conclusion of the program the boxes were opened and were found to contain over $75, the blue side winning the banner. The program: Singing by the school; prayer by Rev. N. W. Matthews; song, Harry Pascall; concertina solo, Edward Clegg; addresses by the pastor and Dr. Edward E. Kinney; opening of the boxes by Dr. Kinney.

ON HIS WHEEL CHAIR

William Graff Has Covered 22,000 Miles

Although helpless in every limb except his left arm, but smiling as cheerfully as though he were as supple as an acrobat, William Graff of Toledo, Ohio, arrived in this city at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, wheeling himself in a wheel chair.

Graff is 38 years old, and for the past 26 years he has been a victim of paralytic rheumatism. He is wandering about the face of the earth in an effort to obtain enough money to take a special course of treatment which cured his twin brother of the same malady.

The invalid left home in Toledo, O., three years ago and in that time he has covered nearly 22,000 miles, his only means of transportation being his wheel chair. He has wheeled himself through various parts of the United States, of Central and South America, as well as through Mexico, China and Japan; but he says he regrets his ventures into foreign countries, because he was unable to make any money as he does in this country by selling postcards and small articles which he makes with his one good hand.

That same left hand furnishes the motor power of the wheel chair. Graff propels his own conveyance by turning first one wheel and then the other. When he first started on the road he used a chair in which he had rigged up a motor, but this soon broke down. Then he built an automobile after his own design, but this too was unable to survive the rigors of the long journey, and Graff constructed the chair he now uses. It is an ordinary invalid's chair, and he has to push it along by hand, but he says it gives promise of taking him farther on his way than either of the other contrivances. He says he can make 26 miles a day when the weather is favorable.

Graff's last stopping place before coming to this city was Holyoke. He will visit Boston and Lawrence after spending a few days in this city.

A NEW AUTO RECORD

Burman Made a Mile in 51 Seconds

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 29.—Bob Burman, world's speed king, driving his 200-horse power Blitzen Benz, established a new circular track record for the mile at Comstock park yesterday afternoon by traveling the distance in the remarkable time of 51 seconds.

Five thousand persons saw the speed king make his dash, which lowered the mark of 51 3-5, made by Barney Oldfield last year with the same car.

The three and 10-mile track records also fell before the onslaught of Burman, when he hurled his 110 Benz over the course in the time of 3m 1s for the three miles and 9m 20 2-5s for the 10 miles.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Man in Mine Was Struck by Lightning

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 29.—While working 1500 feet under ground at 1 a. m. James Conroy of Kingston was struck by lightning and so badly injured that he is not expected to recover.

He did not know there was a storm until his chamber was filled with a blazing light, and he was knocked senseless and was badly burned.

The stroke of lightning had followed the intake of the air current as far as Conroy's chamber. Fortunately, there was no powder or dynamite in the chamber at the time.

This is not the first accident of this kind in this section, and yesterday Foreman Neal McHugh arranged a telephone system at the colliery so that when a lightning storm is approaching the mine workers may be called out of the mine and wait on the surface until the danger is over.

STUDIO FEAST

QUEER SOCIETY FUNCTION WAS HELD IN LONDON

LONDON, June 29.—One of the quaintest society functions of the coronation season was given last night by Sir Philip Burne-Jones, the painter, and Sir Richard and Lady Muriel Paget at the Burne-Jones residence. The house was made for the occasion to resemble an atelier in the Latin quarter.

Formal receptions were dispensed with and the guests huddled on the floor on rugs, on the staircases or in the back gardens. The men smoked church wardens and the women cigarettes—if they wished.

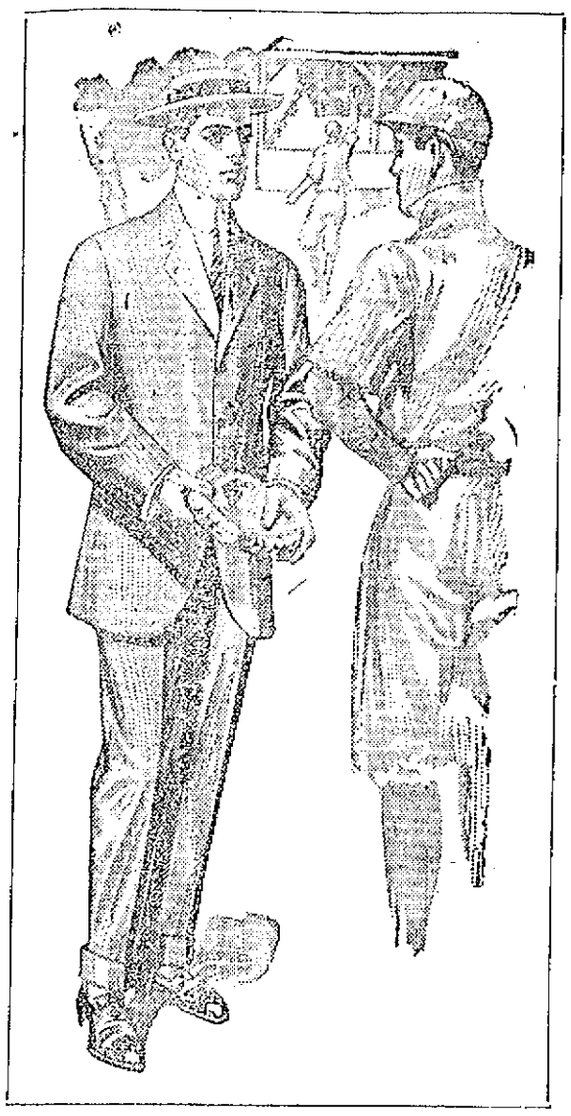

If they wanted refreshments they helped themselves from a big cask of lager beer which stood in the corner of the room, wreathed with greens. It was a free and easy affair. All quaffed beer and joined in the chorus of the "Drinking Song."

But the supper, somewhat inconsistently, was one of epicurean delicacy. It was served on the floor or stairs or wherever there was room to put a plate.

HUSBAND CRIPPLED

In Stupor From Liquor His Wife Says

AUGUSTA, Me., June 29.—Sadie P. Williams of Vassalboro has sued Arl and Bessie Wolman of Gardiner for $20,000 damages because, she alleges, they sold her husband, Fred P. Williams, the liquor which so stupefied him, she says, that he lay in a reckless shack from Feb. 27 to March 9 last and froze his feet so that both had to be amputated. He is now a helpless cripple, she claims.

Mrs. Williams has invoked that section of the revised statutes which gives "every wife, child, parent, guardian, husband or other person who is injured in person, property, means of support or otherwise," the right of action against the person who by "selling or giving intoxicating liquors" contributed to the intoxication of the person causing the damage, and the further right to recover "actual and exemplary damages."

The shack where Williams was found was built some years ago as a place for the boys of the neighborhood to play in. It has no door and a large part of the roof is missing. It is near the stock farm in Farmingdale and a short distance from the railroad. It was only by chance that Williams was discovered as it is seldom visited in the winter.

The case will be tried in the supreme court for Kennebec county at the fall term. Williams has been a resident of Winthrop the past 15 years and before that time lived at West Gardiner.

WOMAN MADE FLIGHT

She Went Up Alone in a Farman Biplane

BOSTON, June 29.—The first flight in New England of a woman aviator unattended and the narrow escape from death of an aviation school graduate on his initial directing trip, were the features of "flying" in Boston and vicinity yesterday.

Mrs. J. V. Martin, wife of the Harvard aviator, made her first trip alone, from the Waltham aviation field in a Farman biplane. It was the first flight of its kind, so far as is known, in New England.

Eugene Heth of Memphis, Tenn., with Edward Fleet, a mechanician, dropped 100 feet to the edge of Dorchester bay near the Harvard aviation field at Squantum when the crank shaft of his engine broke. The machine landed in a mud pond and the two men escaped with difficulty. It was Heth's first independent trip since his graduation from the Burgess-Wright aviation school.

Mrs. Martin's flight followed a trip of her husband over Waltham and Watertown. It was her intention to fly during the recent meet in the Watch City, but the Farman biplane was not prepared in time. She was enthusiastic over her trip yesterday. She did not fly high, as she wished to familiarize herself with the machine.

"It worked beautifully," she said after she had descended, "and I shall make a number of trips before long. I feel confident the next time I fly it will be for a longer period than today."

Mr. Martin said he, too, will make some extended flights soon. He was to leave for New York last night.

Commuters on outward bound trains on the New Haven railroad, delayed by a coal barge, which stuck in the Neponset drawbridge, watched the aviators at Squantum for nearly half an hour.

Heth, who is the first graduate of the Squantum school, made five flights yesterday despite his narrow escape from death on his first trip. He took a passenger each time.

The machine which became disabled in midair belonged to Louis Mitchell of Memphis, Tenn. It was shipped to that city last night for repairs.

Fire Broke Out in Plainville This Morning

PLAINVILLE, June 29.—A three-story wooden building occupied by three jewelry manufacturers and owned by the Plainville Land Co. was practically reduced to a shell by fire early today. A total loss of about $75,000 was suffered by the owners of building and Schofield, Melcher & Schofield, Robinson Bros., and G. A. Gardner & Co., the occupants. The fire started on the first floor from some undetermined cause and had secured a strong foothold when the local fire department, assisted by apparatus from North Attleboro, arrived.

BOSTON MERCHANTS

Guests of the London Chamber of Commerce

LONDON, June 29.—The luncheon given by the London Chamber of Commerce, and the reception at Dorchester House, the American embassy, were among the affairs arranged for the entertainment yesterday of the American business men who are touring Europe under the auspices of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Ambassador Reid, with Mrs. Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, received the members of the party and their wives at the Dorchester House reception. Lord Desborough, president of the London chamber, was in the chair at the luncheon at the Savoy.

One of the speakers for the Americans was John H. Fahey. He incorporated in his after-dinner speech a formal invitation to the British chambers of commerce to send delegates to the fifth annual congress of the Chamber of Commerce which is to be held in Boston in 1912.

Mr. Fahey also emphasized the importance of mutual co-operation by the chambers of commerce of the United States and Great Britain. Lord Desborough, in response, warmly welcomed the invitation, and promised that London would do her share, by sending a full representation.

The day was not devoted to social activity alone, however. The Americans took a long automobile ride about the city and ended up by inspecting the Hampstead Garden City development in the suburbs.

The delegates will stay in London until Saturday, as there remains much to see in the city and its vicinity. A trip to Tilbury, in order to view its dock development, is planned, and there also are the added features of interest just now in progress—the Festival of the Empire at Crystal Palace and the Coronation Exhibition at Shepherd's Bush.

ALMSHOUSE INMATE

Learns She is Heir to Large Estate

BOSTON, June 29.—On board the steamer Franconia which is now steaming on its way to Queenstown, is Annie Flynn, 52 years old, until Tuesday an invalid inmate of the Quincy almshouse, and now on her way to Ireland to claim an estate of which she was dispossessed 25 years ago. Overseer of the Poor James H. Elcock of Quincy, by patient investigation of the woman's claims, which were generally regarded as fanciful and imaginary, made it possible for Miss Flynn to spend the balance of her life in comfort in the home of her childhood.

He learned through correspondence with officials in England and Ireland that the woman had been evicted from her property about 25 years ago and that her case came within the provisions of the law of six years ago which permits the redemption of such estates by proving title and taking possession.

Under the terms of the land-purchase act, Miss Flynn will receive £30 for the restocking of her little farm in Loughrea, County Galway, and the government will loan her money for which she will pay in instalments.

KILLED BY A FALL

Man Dropped Down an Elevator Well

BOSTON, June 29.—Just as the boy operating the elevator in the district attorney's department of the Suffolk county court this morning closed the door on its flight upward, John Kilbridge, a west end liquor dealer, stepped into the narrow opening. As the car shot upward Kilbridge went down into the elevator well. He was picked up dead.

HOSIERY SPECIALS

This is probably the biggest season ever experienced in the hosiery history of this country for thin, gauzy, low priced Silk Hose. That's the reason the best numbers for the money are so scarce. If you have difficulty in securing full fashioned, boot pattern Silks at 50c, remember we are fully equipped to fill your requirements. Black, white and tan 50c

Then we have a thin Seamless Silk, a little better than the average run. Black, White and tan 50c

The better grades in black, white, plain and fancy colors, are simply the best in their respective qualities that money can buy. 79c, $1, $1.50, $2, 2.50, $3

S-637 "Themico" Stockings have no equal for sightliness, real hard wear, shape and comfort. Some stores get 35c and 50c for inferior stockings—Try a pair at 29c If they are not what we say they are, bring them back and get your money.

NECKWEAR

It is not always a question of how much an article is worth, but how quick we can dispose of it at any price. The season is getting away from us on certain styles of neck adornment, so we have made good use of the slaughter knife.

Lace Stocks, 50c and 75c qualities 19c

SMUGGLING OF GEMS

Chicago Lawyer Retained in the Case

NEW YORK, June 29.—William S. Forrest, Chicago attorney, has arrived in this city. He has been retained by Nathan Allen, the millionaire leather man of Kenosha, Wis., in the case which the government has brought against him and John R. Collins of Memphis for the alleged smuggling of $1,500,000 worth of jewels into this country, largely for the use of Mrs. Helen Dwelle Jenkins.

Collector Laeb is prosecuting another smuggling case of far greater magnitude, said to involve a wealthy New Yorker who may now plead exemption from paying duty as a non-resident.

Mr. Forrest is working very quietly. A man who is well acquainted with Allen and Forrest said today that the lawyer was probably avoiding the hotels and stopping with some friend in the country near here.

Reports from Allen's home in Kenosha, Wis., say he has been living in seclusion for some time and has since the case broke practically ended his business connections in Kenosha. It is said that he has retired as head of the firm of N. R. Allen & Co., and from the directorate of the First National Bank of Kenosha. He is said to have been succeeded in both positions by his nephew, Chester Allen.

Mrs. Jenkins, on whose testimony Deputy Surveyor Richard Parr bases the case against the two elderly millionaires who showered jewelry upon her, remained secluded in her apartments in the Wellsmore yesterday. She is said to be writing a serial story of her life.

BURGLARS HELD UP

Natick Policeman Discovered Them at Work

BOSTON, June 29.—Two burglars who were discovered robbing the store of Robert Wentworth in Natick yesterday were kept prisoners for over an hour by Patrolman William Hogan, who, single-handed, succeeded in landing both men.

Running first to the rear window and then to the front window firing shots at intervals, the officer for over an hour kept both men prisoners, although they were continually trying to make their escape through the windows.

When the men became desperate in their attempts, Hogan fired several shots close to them, whereupon they surrendered.

In court yesterday morning, before Trial Justice Henry C. Culligan, the men gave their names as Frank Sullivan, 21, 21 Henry street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and James O'Brien, 28 East Sixteenth street, New York. They were held in $1000 for the grand jury. They were remanded to Cambridge jail.

DEATHS

THOMAS—Mrs. Emma A. Thomas, aged 58 years, 7 months, 2 days, died at her home, 42 Marlborough street, yesterday. She is survived by her husband, J. Barlow Thomas, her mother, Mrs. Henry Lewis of Pelham, N. H., and six brothers.

McCORMICK—Miss Margaret McCormick, a former resident of Lowell, died Tuesday morning at her home, 215 Sherburn street, Providence, R. I. Besides her mother, Mrs. Sarah McCormick, she leaves three brothers, Edward, James and William F. McCormick.

PADIAN—Francis Joseph Padian, aged 1 year, 11 months, child of William and Catherine Padian, died this morning at their home, 17 Cedar street.

Sailor ties, No. Billerica, tonight.

Rats and Puffs the Style

Women who cover their heads with masses of false hair will in time have diseased scalps.

Rats and puffs are denounced by doctors as unhygienic dust and germ catchers.

They exclude the air from the scalp, and the pressure on the delicate network of veins soon results in the loss of hair.

These are the ingredients Birt's Head Wash is made of. It removes every trace of dandruff and scales from the scalp and leaves the hair soft and glossy. In hygienic tubes 25c, at drug and department stores.

POST OFFICE INSPECTOR

The presence at the post office for the past few days of Inspector Swift of the postal department at Washington, who appears to be making an investigation of conditions at the local office, has all the employes of the federal building on the qui vive, and may result in the development of the local office.

Generally the name, "post office inspector" has an ominous sound to the post office employe for there are two different places in the basement where they get in and they can observe the employes at work while the employes have no knowledge of their presence and even the soul of honor feels embarrassed when he feels he is watched by an unknown. This time, however, the inspector is circulating among the employes and everyone knows he is there.

It is impossible to get anyone to talk relative to the presence of the inspector, but the conclusion is that Postmaster Lemare, who has lived for several years in Washington and has some knowledge of postal affairs, believes that the Lowell post office is not as big a place as it should be and that he is trying to show the men at the front that Lowell is some city and has some post office.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Will It Run or Will It Not

The Dracut selectmen will meet tonight and will decide whether the Lakeview theatre will continue or not. If they decide to close the theatre a howl of indignation will go up, principally, perhaps, from Lowell, which has no vote in Dracut, for the Lakeview theatre has established a first class stock company and is giving the public something comparatively for nothing, that is after one pays a five cent fare to get to Lakeview. The selectmen are sore because the railroad will not give transfers from Collinsville to Lowell, and by the same token it would appear that the railroad wouldn't be giving away much money in so doing, judging from the size of the population of Collinsville and considering the fact that those who desire to reach Pawtucketville or ward seven take the Pelham line which is the way the selectmen look at it.

ANNUAL YACHT RACE

GREENWICH, Conn., June 29.—The sixth annual race of the Indian Harbor Yacht club from this port to New London was started this morning, but only two craft entered, the Avenger and the Heroine, and both went over the line in a lively northwest breeze. A quick run up the sound was anticipated. The distance is 72 miles, the finish being off Bartlett Reef lightship.

AFTER SMUGGLERS

NEW YORK, June 29.—The greatest activity was displayed by customs inspectors today in a search for smugglers on board the liner Cymric upon her arrival from England.

After the passengers and baggage were landed half a dozen customs inspectors went on board the steamer and searched her from top to bottom.

From now on every steamer from Europe will be thoroughly searched for smugglers. So far as is known no smuggled goods were found.

SCHOOL ST. CLOSED

Grade Crossing Abolition Work Closes St.

The work of the changing of the grade crossing in School street has reached the stage where it has been necessary to close the street to team travel though foot passengers can still get by. As a result daily many drivers get awfully fooled as they attempt to make short cuts through School street.

CLERK DILLINGHAM

Issued a Number of Naturalzation Papers

Clerk William C. Dillingham, the man who has been delivering the papers that make full-fledged citizens, remained at the court house in Gorham street all day though he had decided to close up shop at noon. Mr. Dillingham came here on Tuesday morning and he announced that he would leave at noon today but the demand for naturalization papers was so great that he decided to remain until this evening. All of the papers given out by him this trip were second papers and he will come again within a week or two with first papers.

BOURQUE HELD IN $500

He is Charged With Larceny of a Watch

Paul Bourque of Lowell, who a few days ago was arrested here for the Manchester police, for the alleged larceny of a watch valued at $30, the property of Joseph Beauchemin of the latter city, was arraigned in court at Manchester, N. H., yesterday morning, and denied his guilt of the charge preferred against him.

The complainant, Mr. Beauchemin, testified that on April 15 he met Bourque in Manchester, and the latter was penniless. He took him to his room and a few hours later, Beauchemin was awakened by the landlady, who told him that his friend had left with his watch.

Bourque denied this and was held in the sum of $500 for superior court.

A BIG DREADNOUGHT

The Sevastopol Was Launched Today

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—Russia's first dreadnought, the Sevastopol, was launched successfully today from the Baltic works in the presence of the ministry of marine, naval attaches and others. The battleship was laid down on June 16, 1909, and it is expected that another two years will be occupied in equipping the vessel. The Sevastopol has a displacement of 23,000 tons and with 42,000 horsepower is expected to develop a speed of 23 knots an hour. Her length is 550½ feet and the beam is 82 feet. The battleship will carry 3,000 tons of coal and 1,170 tons of naphtha. Her armament will consist of twelve 12-inch guns, 16 4-inch guns and smaller artillery. All the vessel and its equipment has been or will be built in Russia. There is no ceremony of christening in Russia but a multitude of spectators with the workmen cheered enthusiastically as the great ship took the waters.

The Poltava, a sister ship of the Sevastopol, will be launched on July 10, the anniversary of the battle of Poltava. The keels of these two battleships and of two others, the Petropvesk and the Gangut, were laid on the same date and when commissioned they will form the first squadron in the New Baltic fleet.

THE EDDY CASE

TWO AMENDMENTS TO BILL FILED BY GLOVER'S COUNSEL

CONCORD, N. H., June 29.—Counsel for George Glover in the action against the Hon. Henry Baker, executor, and others to test the validity of the will of the late Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, today filed in the superior court for Merrimack county two amendments to their bills. In the first amendment they ask the court to determine the legal domicile of Mrs. Eddy at the time of her death and ask for an injunction to prevent the executor from moving any of the property of the estate from without the jurisdiction of the court until the question has been settled. In the second the plaintiff sets forth that in signing the announcement of November, 1909, he did not so become a part of such actual agreement as in any sense to bind him not to object to any unlawful disposition Mrs. Eddy might attempt to make of her property and he prays that the court will, if necessary, reform in this proceeding the agreement as finally placed in writing and signed by the plaintiff and will hold him bound only to fulfill all the obligations of the agreement actually made and not bound not to object to the validity of the unlawful bequests.

THE USERS OF GAS

Have a Chance to Bother the Inspector

Now if you want to bother the gas man here's your opportunity. The legislature has passed an act relative to meters used by gas companies and, after this, if you don't know just how your gas meter is using you, it's your own fault. The act was approved June 16 and it reads as follows:

When a gas meter in a building owned or used by a customer of a gas company is read by an employe or agent of such company, he shall, upon request, deliver to the person using the gas measured by the meter a written statement of the amount recorded by the meter at that time.

QUEBEC MAN

TO LECTURE IN THIS CITY NEXT SUNDAY

Hon. Alphonse Desjardins of Levis, Que., will be in this city next Sunday afternoon, to give a lecture on the "Caisse Populaire," a bank which he is organizing all over the United States and Canada. Mr. Desjardins is coming here under the auspices of the commonwealth, and at the request of Rev. Fr. Wateffe, O. M. I., pastor of St. Joseph's parish, and Mr. Frank Ricard.

The latter received a letter from Mr. Desjardins this morning, in which he states that he has just returned to Boston, coming from Holyoke, where he has organized a "Caisse Populaire," receiving 18 signatures for a start.

The lecture will be given on the grounds of the French-American orphanage in Pawtucket street at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and Mr. Desjardins hopes to meet a very large attendance.

The lecturer will also be heard at 8 o'clock on July 3, at Washington park at the opening of the "fete champetre" of Notre-Dame de Lourdes parish.

PRESIDENT TAFT

TO SPEAK AT OUTING OF ESSEX COUNTY CLUB

SALEM, June 29.—The only political speech President Taft will make in Massachusetts this year will be given at the outing of the Essex county republican club on Friday, August 25th. The date was decided upon at a meeting of the club this afternoon.

Newburyport, Point of Pines, and Congressman Gardner's spacious lawn at Saugus are under consideration as places for the festivities.

TO PRODUCE MELODRAMA

The young men who some time ago scored such a good success when they rendered the play entitled "La Malediction" will soon begin rehearsing one of Jules Verne's famous melodramas, "Michel Strogoff."

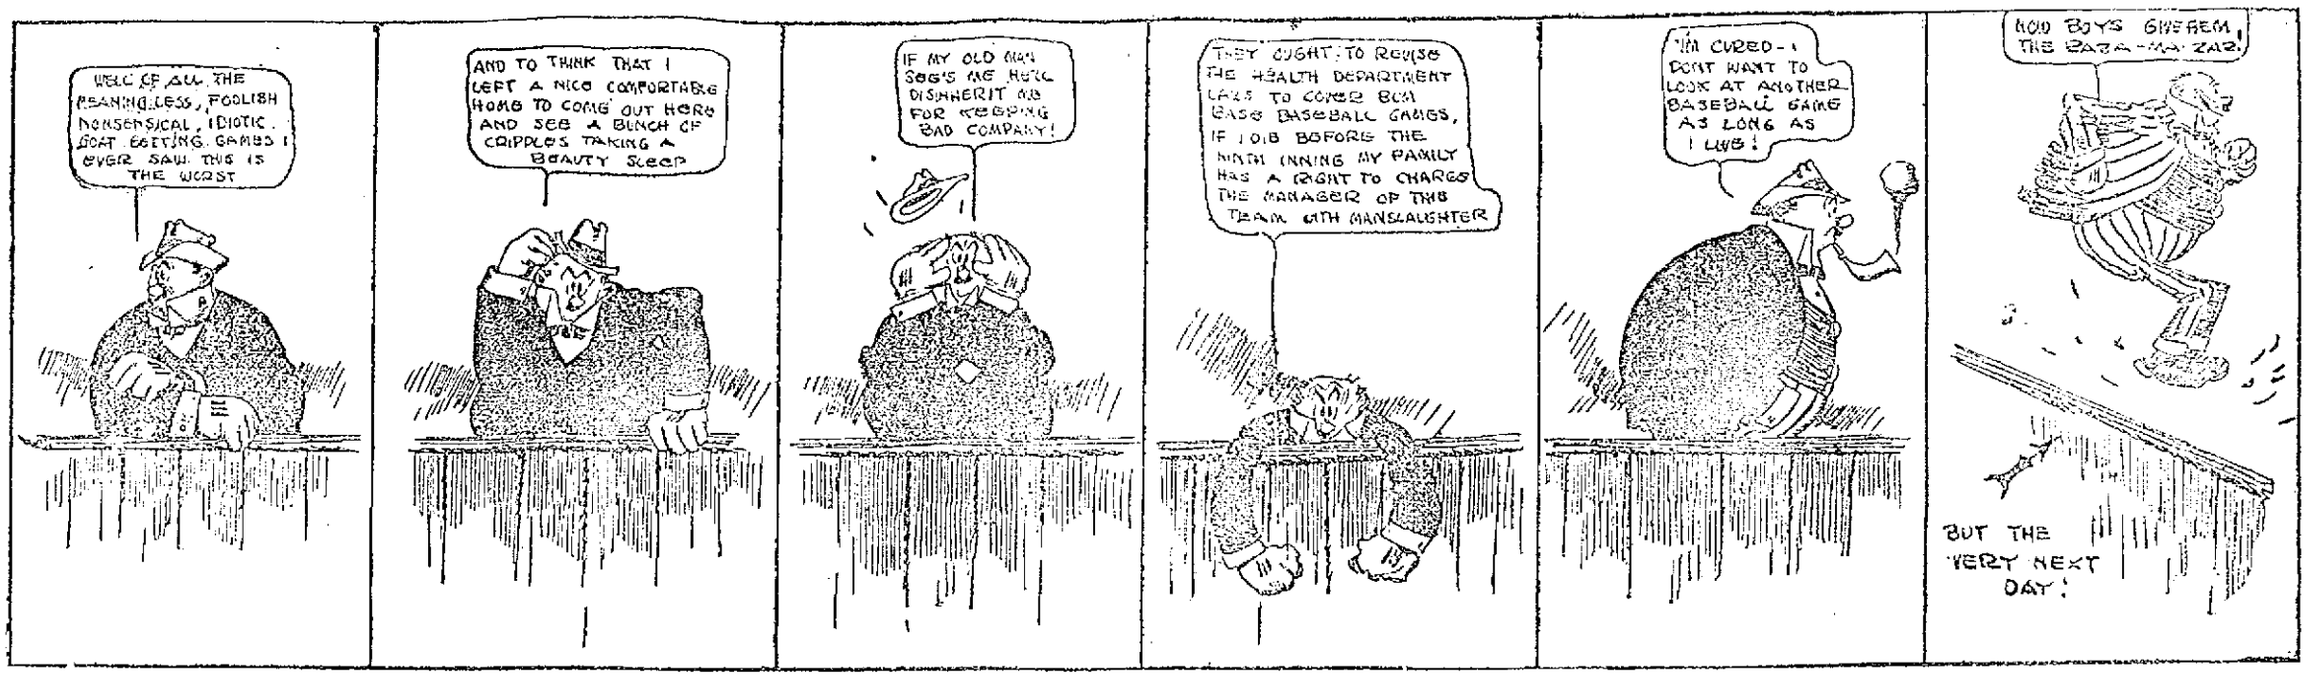

This scirce which is being organized by Rev. Fr. Denfert, O. M. I., D. D., will be given in the latter part of September at St. Joseph's college for the benefit of the French American orphanage, which is soon to be enlarged, as the Oblate Fathers wish to have a department for the old people.

The play promises to be very interesting for the reason that it has never been played in this city, and the stage decorations will all be imported from France. Another feature of the evening will be a musical program by a ladies' orchestra, the latter to be recruited among the best female musicians of the parish.

Among the well known local amateurs who are to take part in the cast are: Messrs. Leo G. Morin, Edouard Desrosiers, George Labranche, Antonio Daignault, William Trottier, Xavier Delisle, Joseph Larose, E. J. Lavechello and a number of others.

BEST BATTING TEAM

The Haverhill baseball team has shown a nice improvement in batting during the past week, having boosted the team average from .22? one week ago to .236.

The general work of the teams during the past week has seen Lowell forge to the top of the list as the best hitting team in the league, and Worcester, which has held this position all the season up to this time, has changed places with Lowell, dropping to second place. The Lowell club has gained 10 points in batting, while the Worcester club has fallen off two points in stick work. That double-header victory over Haverhill last week Saturday, in which a total of 10 hits were made, gave Manager Gray's players a big boost in batting. Lawrence still holds third place, showing a slight gain during the week, while Brockton has shown a gain and forged ahead of New Bedford, which has shown a falling off in batting. Lynn has done inferior work with the stick during the week and has dropped a little nearer to Haverhill at the bottom.

Brockton, which has held a clear lead in club fielding all the season, is now tied with Fall River and Lynn for the honors in this department, all three teams showing an average of .941 for the work in the field up to this time. Haverhill is still at the bottom in fielding, but all eight clubs are closely bunched in fielding.

The Lowell club still holds the distinction of having scored the most runs and made the largest number of hits during the season, although Lawrence has the honor of having pounded out the highest number of total bases. Lawrence has also passed Worcester in the total number of runs scored and hits made. However, the Lawrence club has played more games than any other club in the league. The Haverhill club has played a less number of games than any other club and has that opportunity to gain in batting and fielding.

The Lawrence club leads in the number of two-base hits and home runs, with 93 doubles and 22 home run clouts, while Brockton and Worcester are tied for second honors in doubles and Lowell stands second in the number of home runs made. Lowell leads in three-base hits with 26 and New Bedford is second with 25.

Worcester has a big lead in the number of sacrifice hits for the season and Lynn is second, with Haverhill third. New Bedford is far behind the other clubs in base stealing.

The following table of figures will give the fans an idea of the work of the New England league teams for all games played up to Saturday:

GRUBB'S TWO HOMERS

Won Haverhill's First Victory Over Lowell

Mr. Grubb did the trick for Haverhill yesterday with two fine homers that netted three of the home team's four runs. Graverson, who started the season with the Boston Nationals, pitched a steady game for the home team. It was the first game that Haverhill has taken from Lowell this season.

DIAMOND NOTES

Haverhill will be our guests today, but they'll bring their own Grubb.

There was plenty of Grubb in yesterday's game.

Capt. Barrows' check is on exhibition in the window of Callerwood & Robbins in Merrimack square. He'll get it in time to cash it for the Fourth and then we'll all go up to the South common.

There'll be home games for the remainder of the week and on Monday and Tuesday afternoon. Lowell will play in Lynn in the morning and Lynn will come here in the afternoon.

Feeling that he did not need them in his lineup Manager Tom Dowd this morning released Outfielder Snyder and Infielder Beaton at Worcester. He signed up Catcher Rufiange, who has been with the New Britain club in the Connecticut league this year and as soon as Pratt works into any kind of shape Mr. Winchester will also receive his walking papers.

It is likely that Dowd will put McCrone in the outfield and use this peppery player for his batting ability. Snyder could hit but he was unable to use his head at the right moments. Merrill is covering third base in a very satisfactory manner and batting much better than Beaton.—New Bedford Times.

Says the Brockton Enterprise:

Pitcher Okey Wood was today returned to the Fall River club by the Brockton management, his work while with the local team not having been of the calibre that Manager Flanagan thought worth the purchase price asked for him. Wood won one game and lost one while with the local team. Yesterday Catcher Delaney and Pitcher Fred Smith were both dropped from the squad, and with the return of Wood to Manager O'Brien's club it leaves Brockton with only three of the pitchers who have been here any time at all. Ward, Foley and the youngster, Smythe, are here, and Borey Riordan was expected to arrive during the day from Utica.

Riordan is a left-hander who during the past few seasons has been a consistent winner in the New York State league. He wants to be nearer his home in Holbrook, and has prevailed upon the Utica management to sell him. Brockton was a bidder for his services last spring before the season opened, but at that time could come to no agreement with Manager Charley Carr. The sale was consummated Sunday. He is secured on a conditional sale, the Brockton club to have a chance to use him for a fortnight or so, and if he delivers the goods the deal becomes binding.

Wood was purchased from Fall River on a similar agreement, and as the veteran didn't show the form that Brockton needs in the box, Manager Flanagan decided last night to hold him no longer. Whether he will be retained by the Fall River club is not known, as they now have a full staff of twirlers.

The release of Catcher Delaney followed the return of Mike Wadleigh to the job. With the mainstay of Brockton's catching department working again, it left Brockton with three catchers. Tevlin, the youngster who has been with the club for several days, was retained, Delaney being let out. Tevlin was with Lawrence early in the spring and showed up as a promising candidate. Tommy Catterson said yesterday that the youngster looked as good as any of the backstop candidates Lawrence had in the spring. Fred Smith failed to show much class here. The former Cincinnati pitcher didn't seem to have enough to fool the New England League clubs and hadn't the winning ability. Manager Flanagan figures that in Ward, Riordan and Foley he has three men who can win, while Harry Smythe should be able to take a turn, and the management is still looking for another good box artist. "Brick" Bennett, the Plymouth youngster who wants to be looked over, did not show up yesterday, but may be on hand today. In the event that he comes, he will be given a chance to warm up with the rest.

GAVE HEARINGS

BUT STREET COMMITTEE DID NOT TAKE ACTION

The committee on streets met last night and gave hearings on the following petitions: That Suffolk street be watered from Moody street to Dodge street; that Andrews street be watered from Lawrence street to Moore street; that Howard street be watered from the school house to Hale street; to accept a portion of State street not already accepted; that Varney street be watered from School street to Fletcher street; that Westford street be watered from Sayles street to Rutland street; that sidewalks be laid on the northerly side of Riverside street from Moody street to Mt. Hope street, where not already laid; that Humphrey street be watered; that edgestones be laid on West Bowers street; that the curved portion of Circuit avenue east of Felton street be discontinued as a public street; that Spruce avenue be laid out and accepted; that Orleans street be laid out and accepted from Hildreth street to Lakeview avenue; that Inland street be laid out and accepted; that a sidewalk be laid on both sides of Beaver street; that Merrill avenue be laid out and accepted.

The committee did not take action on any of the petitions but will consider them at a meeting to be held within a few days.

MORRIS-FLYNN BOUT

Promoters May Decide to Hold It in Reno

RENO, Nev., June 29—The same ring that saw the Caucasian race lose claim to the heavyweight title may see the initial step in regaining the coveted crown. Driven from Oklahoma, the Morris-Flynn bout may be staged at Reno, Nev., in the same ring in which Jeffries fell. It is a little less than a year ago that a white and black fighter met. The crown trembled, wavered, then fell into the eager grasp of Johnson. Morris is hailed as the coming "white hope," and it would be the irony of fate if he should take up the work of getting the title back in the same spot where the white race has had a claim to it.

New Orleans and Los Angeles have both bid for the bout and Philadelphia wants it, too.

The governor of Oklahoma says the question of whether a prize fight can be held in Oklahoma is "not debatable" and that Oklahoma has a law sufficiently definite and severe to prevent such an occurrence. While the letter asks the sheriff to prevent the fight in the event of its being held in Sapulpa, he offers assistance in case it should be needed. The proposition was to take the bout to Sapulpa in a pinch.

Morris is willing to fight anywhere. So is Flynn. Said the latter: "It makes little difference to me whether the fight is staged in Oklahoma or some other state."

SOME FAST BOXING

Scheduled at Mathew Hall This Evening

Tonight will see some fine boxing at the Lowell Social and Athletic club when Jerry Gaines, the Market champion, and Joe Geary, the Boston rivals, will come together to settle the question of supremacy left undecided by their 10 round draw at the Armory club recently. Both men are in fine shape and anxious to get to it. Their contest is being watched with great interest in Boston sporting circles and quite a little money is up on the result. In the semi-final, Charlie Ananastos, the Greek boxer, will meet Baggage Murphy, who is regarded as the best thing in the boxing line that the city of Lawrence has. Murphy's Lawrence friends are very confident that he will trim the Greek but Martin Flaherty, who is training Ananastos, claims that Charles is a comer. Jack Smith of Lowell will be seen against a Lawrence opponent. The meeting will be for members only.

GARDNER IS MATCHED

Will Box Bob Moha in Boston Next Week

The announcement that Jimmy Gardner of this city and Bob Moha of Milwaukee were to meet in a twelve round contest at the Armory A. A. Boston, Thursday evening, July 6th, was hailed with delight by the boxing fans.

They realize that this is the most important match that Gardner has ever signed for, as Bob Moha is about the toughest piece of fighting machinery in the game at the present time. Any man who can defeat such men as Young Loughrey, Tommy Quill, Jimmy Glabby, Hilliard Lang, Terry Martin and Mike (Twin) Sullivan, all in the space of six months, must be a champion. Moha has defeated all of these boxers decisively.

Gardner has been expecting to close this match for the past two weeks, and has been training at George Byer's gymnasium in Boston, with Joe Thomas and Porky Flynn. Gardner figures that Moha is a better man than Frank Klaus, and for that reason is leaving nothing undone to prepare himself for this bout.

HAS RESIGNED

CHRISTOPHER SCAIFE OF LOCAL Y. M. C. A. GOING TO HARTFORD

Christopher Scaife, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., in this city, has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative one in the Y. M. C. A. at Hartford, Conn. Mr. Scaife presented his resignation at the meeting of the board of directors last night. He will remain in Lowell during the month of July and the following month will enjoy a vacation and will start on his new work in September.

ZION CRICKET CLUB NOTES

The Zions travel to Andover this coming Saturday, July 1st, to play the strong Andover team. Both teams are evenly matched and a very good game is expected. The following players have been selected to represent the Zions: J. Parrick, captain, Robert Birtwistle, R. Marland, Burroughs, Fred Chapman, William Croft, Sr., Edward Fielding, Albert Fielding, Albert Whitworth, Joseph Hall, Atkinson, Samuel Burt, 1st reserve, Arthur Bowden, 2nd reserve.

All players are earnestly requested to be at the square at 1 o'clock sharp, so as to leave on the car which leaves at 1.16.

If for any reason any player selected is unable to play, kindly notify the captain or secretary on or before Friday.

Anty Drudge on Education.

Katherine—"My, how provoked I am, Anty. You wouldn't dream this frock had once been white. Look at it now. I sent it to the laundress and it looks almost the color of weak coffee with milk in it."

Anty Drudge—"It's partly your fault, my dear. You're a college graduate, but you aren't educated until you know what is best for your clothes. If you had known enough to see that your white frock was washed with Fels-Naptha soap in cool or lukewarm water it would have been snowywhite. The Fels-Naptha way is the only method of washing to keep white clothes white without harming them."

Here's the easiest way that's ever been discovered to wash clothes—either in summer or winter.

For the white things: Wet the clothes, soap well with Fels-Naptha, roll and let soak for thirty minutes in cool or lukewarm water. Unroll, rub lightly, rinse and hang out to dry.

This simple Fels-Naptha way of washing makes your clothes sweeter, whiter, cleaner than you can get them any other way.

And the clothes last longer because they are not weakened by boiling, nor worn by hard rubbing.

Worth trying?

KING OF AMATEUR DISTANCE RUNNERS TO GO AFTER TWO MILE RECORD

NEW YORK, June 29.—Though the creator of a new American record for three miles and champion all the way from that distance to ten miles, both indoors and outdoors, George Bonhag, one of the greatest long distance runners, if not the greatest, is not going to rest on his laurels. He has mapped out a strenuous campaign for the rest of the season that ought to give him an opportunity not only to smash a few more records, but to better some of his own. Bonhag is desirous of establishing a new mark for two miles. Tell Berna of Cornell is the American outdoor record holder for two miles. At the intercollegiate championships recently he bettered last year's mark by one and two-fifth seconds, bringing his figures to 9 minutes 25 1-5 seconds. The Irish American A. C. star performer is the rightful heir indoors for that distance with the time of 9 minutes 11 1-5 seconds. A few weeks ago at Celtic park he came within three-quarters of a second of tying Berna's time, and anyone was willing to admit afterward that if he had been pushed hard enough he would have easily sent it skyward. That certainly was some peaches and cream race Bonhag ran at the New York A. C. on Travers island recently. Just twenty-one years ago last Memorial day Willie Day startled the athletic world when he was clocked in three miles in the remarkable time of 14 minutes 30 seconds flat. Alfred Shrubb is the world's record holder, with 14 minutes 17 3-5 seconds, made on May 21, 1905.

ONE FATALLY INJURED

Two Women Hurt in Automobile Accident in Quincy

BOSTON, June 29.—Mrs. James E. Came, the 80-year-old widow of the millionaire billiard table manufacturer, was probably fatally injured, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. Arthur Came, was almost as seriously hurt yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by the younger woman ran wild down Great Hill at Quincy.

The elder Mrs. Came, who lives at 1151 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, was taken to the Quincy hospital with both legs broken and internal injuries. She is not expected to recover.

Mrs. J. Arthur Came, who is the wife of the treasurer of the J. E. Came Co., billiard table makers, is at the Came summer home at Crow Point, Hingham, with two ribs fractured, and other injuries.

The accident occurred on Sea avenue, which passes over Great Hill, and was caused by the failure of the automobile's brakes at a critical moment.

The women were on their way from the Hingham estate to visit Frank Tater, who has a summer home at the extreme end of the avenue. The summit of Great Hill was reached without incident and the descent begun.

As the automobile gathered headway the younger Mrs. Came, who is an experienced driver, reached for the brake. To her horror it refused to work. The automobile sped on, its momentum increasing every foot of the way.

Mrs. Came fought helplessly with the brake, and at the same time wrestled with the steering gear. As the automobile, traveling at tremendous speed, approached the turn in the road, the cries of the older women apparently began to shake their nerves.

Although she made a desperate attempt to guide the machine about the curve, she failed. It struck the fence with such force that the railings were splintered, and both women thrown out headforemost.

The machine turned three complete somersaults across the lawn in front of the house of Frank Goodwin, engineer of the pumping station, and then dropped over an embankment on to the beach which it borders.

The engine was still going. The younger Mrs. Came, still retaining consciousness, heard it and in spite of her injuries, ran across the grass and jumped over the embankment. She stopped the engine and then collapsed.

Goodwin helped carry the women into his house. He called a physician, who ordered the older Mrs. Came to the hospital. The younger woman was taken to her home, which is also the home of the mother-in-law.

ASK FOR MORE PAY

Legislators Want Money for Extra Work

BOSTON, June 29.—Legislators, like laborers, do not care to work overtime without extra compensation. So, during the noon recess of the house yesterday about seventy members met in their reading room to discuss ways and means of obtaining extra compensation because of the unusual length of the legislative session.

There was an informal discussion, lasting about an hour, during which all sort every way possible was taken into consideration. There were almost as many suggestions as to the best method of obtaining this Christmas money from the state as there were members present, and finally it was decided to appoint a committee to draft and introduce a bill providing that each member shall receive one month's additional pay and one-third of the usual mileage allowance.

The committee named consists of Messrs. Hobbs of Worcester, Pattee of Falmouth, Kenney of Boston, Gifford of Chatham and Davies of Holyoke.

Saturday, July 1st, is Quarter Day at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank. Make your deposit today.

Governor Sends Message on the Insane Hospitals

BOSTON, June 29.—Sending the legislature yesterday a lengthy special message relative to the state board of insanity and several institutions under its charge, Gov. Foss approves the regular appropriations amounting to $2,658,325, but urges that all expenditures be brought at once "to a uniform level of business economy."

To this end he recommends that "the authority of the state board of insanity be so strengthened as to make it directly responsible for the immense expenditures incurred in these institutions.

Of the special appropriations sought by various institutions amounting to about $750,000, the greater part are disapproved.

The following are the institutions and manner in which the governor passes on their special appropriations:

Foxboro state hospital—Fails to approve $100,000 for new buildings and for the maintenance of the two remodeled farm buildings. "It appears entirely unreasonable, and even the ordinary running expenses of the institution are so high that I desire to see the institution entirely reorganized and put upon a sound footing," the governor says.

Boston state hospital—Institution asked for $166,875, of which $22,000 is for a nurses' home, $83,000 for a central service building and "farm group," $10,500 for a third boiler plant, $42,000 for a storage and refrigerator plant. The governor refuses to approve any detail of this special appropriation of $166,875. The items are unnecessary or extravagant, or both, he says.

Monson state hospital—Refuses to approve special appropriation of $43,000 for refrigerating plant and machine shop, dining room and new laundry facilities. "The entire estimate requires intelligent revision," he says.

Northampton state hospital — Refuses to approve $46,925 for bakery and laundry and suggests that present quarters can be rearranged.

Worcester state asylum—Does not approve $99,500 special appropriation. No need of a new nurses' home at $29,000. New buildings asked for are too costly. Plans should be revised and then resubmitted. Approves $2490 requested for therapeutic treatment and turns down as too costly an item of $17,000 for a storage house.

Worcester state hospital—Declined to approve a total of $116,200 for new buildings, alterations and elevators and 98 acres of additional land.

Massachusetts school for feebleminded—Refuses to approve $61,688 for new buildings. Calls attention to the economical scale of buildings followed at Wrentham, and says that if the trustees of the school for feebleminded cannot do as well "I recommend that the school be enlarged no further and all necessary additions be made at Wrentham."

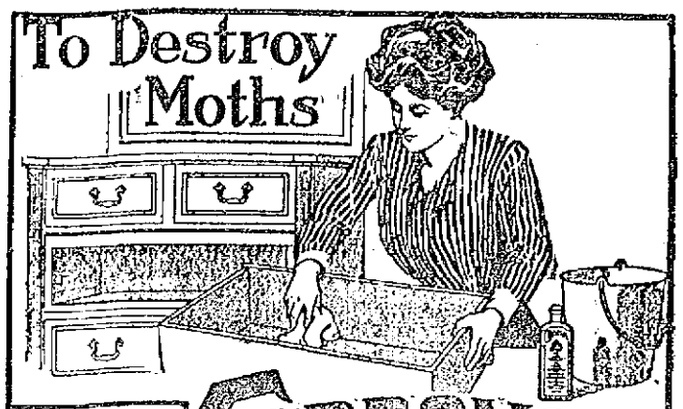

Wrentham state school—Does not approve $122,000 special appropriation for new buildings. The requested buildings would cost more than the present buildings, and the governor cannot see any justification for the increase. An item of $15,000 for a sewer line is disapproved as extravagant.

Gardner state colony—Approves $21,100 for new buildings.

The governor then adds:

"There is an item of $250,000 recently approved by the legislature for the payment of land already taken at the Boston state hospital. I deplore the fact that this great institution was located in such high priced land—and particularly regret that no opportunity was left for a rise in the value of the land, after the hospital had started, and the necessity of purchasing such land by the state has become apparent. The objection to this procedure needs no explanation."

To Destroy Moths

CARBONOL

Also Best For Keeping Flies Away From Garbage
Getting Rid of Tobacco Smells
Cleaning Sick-Room Utensils
Disinfecting and Cleaning Anything
For Use See Directions on Bottle

THE way to get rid of moths or any other insect pest is to maintain thorough disinfection by keeping things clean with Carbonol. Carbonol is a liquid derived from coal tar. Wash out chests and drawers with it and moth eggs will be destroyed and moths themselves will find the place uncongenial.

When you scrub floors and wash down woodwork, disinfect at the same time by putting a dash of Carbonol into the water, and bugs, ants and roaches will keep away. Such pests will not linger in the presence of Carbonol.

It is no additional trouble to use Carbonol. You simply put a dash of it into the water you use in cleaning and go to work in the usual way.

A free sample will be sent on request.

The board of charities visited the Chelmsford street hospital yesterday and spent the day there. While at the hospital the board held a meeting and voted to appropriate $100 for Fourth of July celebration at that institution. There will be a band concert at 5.30 p. m. and fireworks at 8 p. m.

HUMANE SOCIETY

The sum of $633.68 was netted at the recent sale of the Lowell Humane society held on the Rogers estate in Andover street. Mrs. Frank E. Dunbar, who had general charge of the affair, has reported her final accounting which is in excess of the amount first given out.

The following is a list of the amounts of money taken in by the different tables: Fancy table, Mrs. Joseph Smith, chairman, $267; cake table, Mrs. F. P. Marble, chairman, $165.65; lemonade table, Mrs. George A. Leahey, chairman, $29; ice cream room, Mrs. Edward E. Sawyer, chairman, $41.25; grab table, Mrs. Boyden H. Pillsbury, chairman, $56.77; candy table, Mrs. M. R. Jefferson, chairman, $62.54; contributed, $29.47.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The Lakeview Stock company had the largest house of the season last night to witness that great success, "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman." The play is one of the best of the higher class dramas and has all the comedy and touches of pathos that the audience desires to make it a pleasant evening's amusement. The parts in the play are all well suited to the different members of this well balanced company and those who have witnessed the performances this week admit it is the best play and company ever seen at the lake. There is a matinee every day in the week excepting Mondays. Next week's attraction for this company is that well known play of "Salomy Jane."—Adv.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons shows a motion picture taken in Juarez, Mexico, shortly after its capture by the insurrectos. Juarez was the last stand of the governmental forces in Mexico and its fall resulted in the resignation of President Diaz and the installation of a new government. The picture shows every point of interest in the almost totally destroyed city as well as many scenes of actual life, including soldiers of both armies, populace and some of the events following close after the occupation. This is the first and only real picture of the Mexican revolution and should be of interest to every student of current events. Accompanying it are several other pictures, among them an excellent comedy.—Adv.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

There is not a number on this week's bill at the Merrimack Square theatre but what is richly deserving of special mention. Heading the list is Martinez Snow & Co. in that amusing farce comedy, "Is Marriage a Failure?" In which both Mr. Snow and Miss Anderson are seen to excellent advantage. Both are particularly adapted in bringing out in a most entertaining manner the numerous funny situations and climaxes which the piece develops. If you have not witnessed this presentation you should avail yourself of the opportunity of seeing it during the few days remaining. You are sure to laugh, and laugh heartily. Among the others who assist in making the bill one of real merit is Miss Blanche Aldrich, in a series of rapid character changes that is sure of receiving general favor. Lew Merman and Harry West, modern Dutch comedians are excellent entertainers and their line of songs and stories is rich. They dance well, too. Miss May E. Whiteley, the Lowell girl, in songs has never been heard to better advantage and the photoplays include some of the best films ever shown.—Adv.

INCREASE IN SALARY

Of Judges Favored by the State Senate

BOSTON, June 29. — The senate adopted yesterday, 19 to 12, a bill to increase by $1500 a year the salaries of the justices of the superior court. This bill was the Malley substitute for a report of the committee on public service, whose chairman, Senator Mellen of Worcester, bitterly opposed the increase.

The judges' champion was Senator Malley of Springfield, who said the present salaries are inadequate for any men competent to fill the bench positions and that although the judges are allowed $500 a year for travel, he was reliably informed the expenses of one judge in the state had been $2000 last year.

Senator Mellen thought the present salary, $6000 a year for life, was better than $10,000 for a short term, and Senator Schoonmaker of Ware also thought the present pay was sufficient.

SOCIETY GIRLS

WERE ATTACKED BY MUSKRATS WHILE CANOEING

PITTSBURG, June 29.—Seven prominent society girls of Pittsburg and vicinity had an unusual experience with a swarm of muskrats while canoeing on the Allegheny river.

The young women, chaperoned, were camping at Oakmont. When canoeing to Bulton Station, about twenty unusually large muskrats attacked them as they were making for shore. The canoeists fought desperately with their paddles.

Several of the rats got into the canoes of the Misses Rosa and Carolina Wellar and Miss Maitland and bit the young women. The girls became panic-stricken and two of the canoes were capsized, throwing Martha Heck, Elizabeth Laverty and Marjorie Phillips into the river.

WESTFORD

Arrangements have been completed for the biggest Fourth of July celebration that Westford has ever held.

The day will close with a fireworks display at the Whitney playgrounds. Two band concerts, one at 10 a. m. and one at 2 p. m., two ball games, and sports for which prizes amounting to $20 will be given are to take place. The Chelmsford band, 20 pieces, will furnish music for the day.

The graduation exercises of Westford academy will take place at 10 a. m. Friday. The school year will close with a reception and dance at the town hall in the evening.

The Westford A. A. will play Townsend on Saturday.

HENRY TURNER DEAD

State Auditor Had Been Ill a Long Time

BOSTON, June 29.—State Auditor Henry E. Turner died at 11.50 o'clock last night. The end came at his home, 37 Washington street, Malden, where he has been confined to his bed for many weeks.

The death of Mr. Turner was unexpected, in that he had begun, it was believed, to recover from the first attack of the complaint that ultimately caused it. He suffered a relapse several days ago, and for the last two days had been unconscious.

Mr. Turner was 69 years old. He is survived by a widow, who was at his bedside when death came.

Before some of the present republican leaders were born Henry E. Turner was fighting the battles of the party in Middlesex county, and for the past quarter of a century he has held almost continuously some public office. With ex-Councillor Alfred E. Cox he managed Malden politics for many years until the councilor fight in 1907, which defeated Cox for another term, broke the Cox-Turner machine. His first public office was the common council, to which he was elected in 1882 and where he served for two years. He was three years in the house from Malden, 1889, 1891, and again in 1899.

He was elected state auditor in 1900, and so was serving his eleventh term at the time of his death. He was a formidable candidate against Auditor John W. Kimball the year before, but by an agreement that he should have it the next year, due to the showing made in the convention, he withdrew and supported Gen. Kimball.

AVIATOR'S BIG FEAT

Took Package to Passenger on Olympic

NEW YORK, June 29.—The first piece of merchandise ever delivered at sea by aeroplane fell on the upper deck of the giant White Star liner Olympic today as she steamed through te Narrows, outward bound on her maiden eastward passage.

W. Atlee Burpee of Philadelphia had contracted for its delivery before sailing with a New York and Philadelphia department store, which in turn, engaged the services of Thomas Sopwith, the English aviator.

With Richard H. Sinclair, secretary of the Aero club, holding the package, Sopwith rose from the aviation grounds at Garden City, sped out the Olympic as she bore ponderously down the Hudson, timed his flight to meet her in the Narrows and set his course over land and sea.

While Sopwith controlled the aeroplane Sinclair dropped the package at the given signal.

No word came from on board of whether it had landed or not, but to those in nearby craft and to the aviator it seemed certain that it had fallen true.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

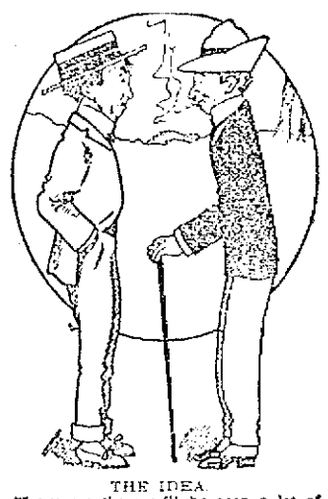

AS IT WILL BE.

Suffragette—And is this my ballot? Election Clerk—Yes, ma'am; that's it. Suffragette — Where's the household page and the comic supplement?

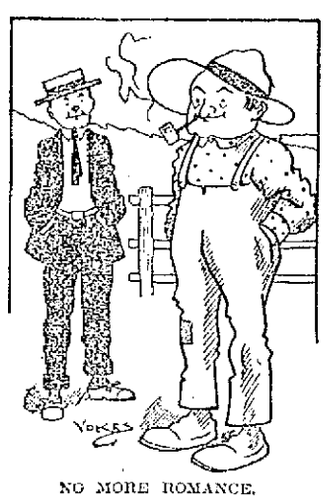

VACANT.

"Yep; I may say that I have my office under my hat."
"Yes; and I s'pose you have a lot of desk room to rent in it, too.

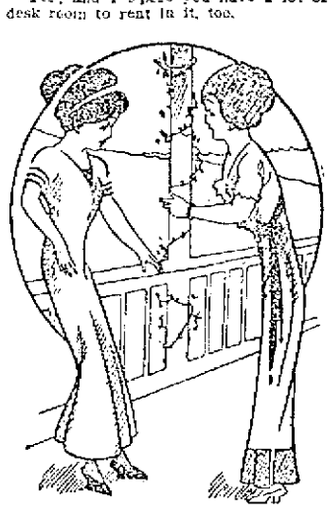

THE IDEA.

"I suspect there will be soon a lot of castles in the air."
"Why?"
"Garages for the new flying machines, you know."

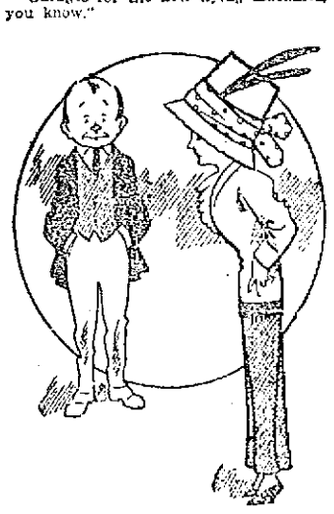

NO MORE ROMANCE.

The Farmer—The old oaken bucket was unsanitary. We have supplied individual drinking cups instead.

THE SUMMER RESORT.

"She says that place disagrees with her."
"Then, why doesn't she leave?"
"Seems her pug dog has gained a pound."

IMPOSSIBLE.

"We'd have the suffrage in no time if women would only get their heads together."

THE SUN'S DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE

WISE MR. FLY.

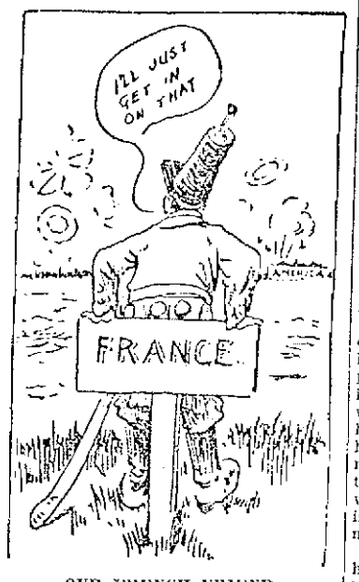

"Will you walk into my parlor?"
Said Miss Spider to the fly.
"Not I," his flyship answered
As he winked his other eye,
"For your dinky so-called parlor—
Well, it isn't in my line.
It's nothing but a dining-room;
So none of it for mine."

Find a housekeeper.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

Upside down, in pillow.

OUR FRENCH FRIEND

JUNE 29.—Johann De Kalb. How the name brings up memories of the trials, hardships and sacrifices of the days of the Revolution, and the bravery of those who cast their lot with the colonists in the war with Great Britain. Baron De Kalb was born in Bavaria, June 29, 1721. He was educated in the art of war in the French army and visited the Anglo-American colonies in 1762 as a secret agent of that country. When he saw the conditions which had thrown the people into a state of revolt his sympathies were enlisted to such an extent that regardless of the fact that he was a brigadier in the French army he decided to cast his lot with the revolting colonies. In 1777 he accompanied Lafayette to America. Congress appointed him a major-general and he joined the main army under Washington, and was active in all the engagements near Philadelphia, which preceded the encampment at Valley Forge. He served with distinction in New Jersey and Maryland, and was second in command under Gen. Bates in the disastrous battle of Camden, August 16, 1780. Cornwallis concentrated his whole force in a charge on De Kalb's regiment and the latter fell at the head of his troops. He died in Camden three days later.

Continued

Rhode Island bleachery, you would find many highly specialized forms of labor gathered under one roof. In one small room, a man stands with a stick, guiding the cloth that comes down from above, so that it falls in folds. He has been there 20 years, doing the same work, and is liable to be there 20 years more. He is doing the work skilfully and he is a type of the highly specialized labor demanded and produced by our modern civilization.

"There are two extreme answers, and extremes are always dangerous. Adherents of the old formula of discipline say that what that man needs is the training of the faculties; that we can best educate him when we have no reference whatever to what he is going to do by and by; that all men need fundamentally the same training. One education for all men, whatever they are going to do; that is the extreme theory of the old formula of discipline.

"At the other extreme stand the adherents of the modern doctrine of interest and utility. The more radical of them say, Find out what a boy is going to do, and fit him for it. If he is going to stand in a little room and wield a stick, give him a little stick in preparation for the big stick he will wield by and by. Then we shall no longer see the sign, 'Made in Germany.' That is the extremest form of the doctrine of vocation and utility.

"Now, we cannot solve a problem like that in a half hour's talk. We can just suggest some little points here and there.

"I believe indeed in vocational training. I believe our schools ought to have closer touch with life; I believe in bringing a sense of doing things right into the school life. Yet I am very anxious that our schools should remember that the aim of the school after all is to prepare for life, and not simply to get the boys and girls ready for jobs. The great vocation of these young men is not simply to be mechanics or artisans, or journalists, but to be American citizens. The aim of these young women is not to be cooks, or milliners, or stenographers, but to be women of large, rich, spiritual natures, who shall make home, church, school and city more worth while in the days to come. So I want our schools to interpret vocation in a very large and generous sense.

"I want to speak of two or three things that underlie success in any calling and in any sphere. The first of these things is capacity for attention, capacity for attending to the thing in hand. Our fathers and mothers lived in a much simpler and narrower environment than ours. For that reason they were able to develop a power of mental concentration that we rarely find today. As Stevenson says, 'The world is so full of a number of things,' that our boys and girls are losing the power to concentrate on any one thing.

"The kindergarten is a capital thing, if we do not have too much of it. The kindergarten carried on into school and college is a very bad thing indeed.

"Success in study is a matter of character, rather than of information. It depends not so much on what you can remember as on what sort of personality you are.

"Another thing that springs out of this power of attention is the power of analysis, the power to take things to pieces and find out what they mean, through the power of analysis.

"Then, after attention and analysis, the school should give everyone of us the power of construction,—the power to put things together after an ideal pattern.

"The function of the school is to give us an ideal,—to make us idealists,—to give us a pattern by which we can put together the scattered portions of our life and make something harmonious and beautiful, something worthy to live by."

To show the attitude of the business man, the employer, on this question of education, President Faunce read a letter written to himself by a New England merchant who was looking for a man to act as an employment manager in an establishment that would employ 2000 people. This man wrote: "Character, education and personality are fundamental qualifications. Experience in our line not essential, as a man with a good fundamental knowledge of business principles will readily adapt himself to our needs."

Enclosed with the letter was a chart of qualities desired in the man they wished to employ. One of these qualities was the power of analysis,—the power to perceive the limitations of men, and at the same time to perceive the possibilities of men.

As for his education: "It must be sufficient to enable him to address a group of men or women and impress on them his own ideas and ideals; sufficient to make him a trained thinker; sufficient to enable him to change methods to meet changed conditions." Above all, they say, "We want character."

"These," said President Faunce, "are the fundamental things in life, in Lowell, in Providence, in Seattle, in San Francisco. These are the fundamental qualities, in the store, the mill, the office, the university; in the court room and in the legislature. If our schools are giving these things to our young people,—not without some vocational aim,—then, when they go into the world they will be able speedily to conquer specific difficulties, and to play their part nobly and successfully.

"What we need, after all, is the ideal, by which to be given all of the best which modern life has to give us. Have all of these graduates acquired an inner picture of the sort of man or woman they admire,—the sort of personality they want to become? Then keep that picture bright and clear. The world will tempt you to compromise. It will sell you, you have got to cheapen your womanhood, if you are to move in society; you have got to play politics if you are to be successful in public life. But I beseech you, keep your ideals. It will mean that you will climb a little slower, but when you do climb, you will stay there longer. It will mean an enduring success.

"The good war is when civic righteousness grapples with the forces of graft and corruption in the modern city. It is when, in the modern legislature, right stands face to face with that which dare not face the light. The good war is when we strive to protect womanhood and to free little children from grinding labor; whenever we stand for purity and justice and uprightness in public and private."

Mayor Meehan's Remarks

My first word must be one of congratulation to the young people, who, today having accomplished the prescribed course of study, are now awaiting their diplomas. The happiness which I see in the faces before me is fully justified, for the requirements in the Lowell High school are so high a standard that the student who successfully passes the bars with proper marks is justified in feeling pride in the accomplishment.

But the real significance of today is not so much that you have passed all tests and are about to be awarded diplomas, but rather that today for many of you means the assumption of a fuller share of the responsibilities of life.

The greatest asset which youth has is its confidence in itself. I know that I can trust you to draw the line between real confidence and braggadocio and without any fear of urging you into a false course I can safely call your attention to the fact that it is youthful confidence educated in proper channels which accomplishes most of the great things in this world. Our great bridges, our great railways, our great moral movements, have all originated with young men, yes, and young women. The world needs bright, clear young eyes, and hearts, and muscles to do its work. Our great civil war of 50 years ago was fought by young men, and on the glorious rolls you will find generals and chiefs under 25 years of age.

Responsibilities of Life

Beginning with today to many of you, the real responsibilities of life will come in short order. From the complete shelter of this school many of you are to pass at once into the field where you will become world units with an obligation to produce and originate and become self-supporting.

And now let me say one word to those who perhaps in the first award of honors have not come as near the top as the rest, to whom even their position near the heights has meant infinitely more labor it seems than the more commanding position of the brilliant scholars. If it happens, notwithstanding honest effort on your part, you have not been able to achieve any greater distinction, do not let that weigh upon your minds. I do not know but I may be preaching heresy but I am inclined to value a school training not by reason of the number of facts in history or algebra or science which a boy or girl may have acquired, but rather the training which they have secured in learning how to acquire these facts.

I would be willing to forgive low ranking, if the boy or girl has had by reason of the training learned the one real fact that there is no royal short cut to education, and that given a disposition to apply oneself the hardest task in the end can be accomplished. If you have learned that so you can carry it forth into the world, all the money which the taxpayers of Lowell have spent for the maintenance of this school and the other elementary schools has been well spent.

The ability to apply one's self is the real secret of success. Genius, and you no doubt know the exact wording of the quotation better than I, has been well defined to be simply a capacity for hard work. That is what we hope you have learned.

Now I am not going to exhort you young graduates to go out into the work world and aim to secure material advancement. The greatest boon which the Great Creator imposed on us was the necessity of working in order to live. There are few who can honestly say they have not an ambition to succeed, and I hope that the time will never come when by reason of any governmental contraption this obligation to work, and this ambition, yes to succeed one more than another, will be wiped out.

I am going to ask you though, out of the time which will now be at your command, to give a little thought to your city, your state and your country, for its whole advancement.

Other Obligations

Your obligation is not only to do the best you can for yourselves, and your parents in a material way, but to do the best also for your city. Tomorrow you will enter in on a land of dollars and cents. There is no use of our attempting to ignore it, though some of us would like to modify it. But try to keep just a little corner of your heart and spirit open for other things where perhaps the debit and credit column is not balanced quite so carefully.

You leave here under a very considerable obligation at first hand to the city and state. It is true that they are lenient creditors and will continue the account for years without ever taking any of the steps which you of the commercial branch understand a creditor can take to enforce payment. It should be your thought though to take up this debt and anticipate any possible demand for a return.

On each and every one of you the citizens have spent for your educational training alone, a very considerable amount of money aggregating over $1000 at the minimum. This means money which has been willingly spent for putting up school buildings, for lighting and heating and cleaning them for furnishing you text books, and paying the salaries of your teachers. The account can be figured out to the last cent. The city does not want this money back from you. If you care to consider it such, it is a free gift, but I hope that every one of you today will make a firm decision to make some return for this expenditure.

And to do that all required is that you try honestly to take up in full the duties of citizenship which are soon to come to you. It will not entail any hardship. It will simply mean that out of each week or month you make some little contribution of time to trying to advance your city. It will mean being careful in the use of public property whether in the library or on the highways. It will mean doing your part to help keep the streets free from litter whether you are an employe of an establishment or passing back and forth about your private business. It will mean observing carefully the regulations as to peace and order, the park regulations, the water department regulations, and so through the list. It will also mean speaking kindly to those whom you meet so that we may acquire a reputation for politeness and forethought which will be no inconsiderable asset in itself.

When City Needs You

When in the course of time you enter in full on your citizenship rights, then, if ever, is the time when the city will need you. Acting for the city which has sheltered you you will be asked to vote for the care of others younger than you. See that you always vote, and see that you vote for the best interests of the city. Vote for the right, and if you have in such a case to make a sacrifice you need have no fear, but it will redound to your benefit though time may elapse.

In class prophecies and otherwise the future has already been outlined before you. Let me say that no prophecy can really outstrip which is apt to be the reality in the next generation. The world was never more full of possibilities and the call for clean living, clear thinking, honest boys and girls was never as great as it is now. The city needs you, the state needs you, and my only hope is that when the call comes, though it may not come with bugle sound as it did to the boys of 50 years ago, you will report. All that has been done for you will have been well spent if standing side by side in line with eyes to the front each of you is able to answer "Here."

It is in anticipation of such a time that we have worked over you, and struggled for you. Our future will shortly be in your hands, and may God assist you in the paths that will strengthen you for that world emergency whenever it may come.

"AVIATION SCHOOLS"

Have Fallen Under Ban of the Government

DETROIT, Mich., June 29.—That "aviation schools" which furnished would-be flyers with detailed "correspondence courses" have fallen under the ban of the United States government was disclosed here last night when E. M. Harrison was taken into custody by Special Agent Sennenberg for Charles De Woody, chief of the investigation bureau of the department of justice in Chicago. Harrison will be taken to Chicago today for arraignment.

According to the government agent, Harrison has operated his "school" in several cities. It is charged that Harrison posed as a lieutenant in the United States army and that he promised every student a place on the government flying squad in the war department if he became proficient in the art of flying.

SUITS FOR REMOVAL

Against Secretaries of Lumber Dealers

CHICAGO, June 29.—Preparations are under way by the government to begin removal proceedings against the 14 men indicted by a recent special federal grand jury, because as secretaries of lumber dealers associations they are alleged to have conspired to interfere with interstate trade in lumber.

The men were indicted last week but until yesterday no steps were taken to begin the removal suits.

The defendants live in a dozen different federal districts and proceedings must be brought against each one individually.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

SANDWICH, England, June 29.—"Chic" Evans of Chicago, the western open golf champion, again went around the links in 78 in the third round of the open golf championship today. His total score is 228.

INCOME TAX LAW

WAS PASSED BY THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE

MADISON, Wis., June 29.—The state legislature after a long, bitter fight has passed the state income tax law, the senate last night by a vote of 15 to 4 concurring in the measure which had already passed in the house.

WALTER E. GUYETTE, Auctioneer
Office, Rooms 77-78 Central Block, 53 Central St. Telephone 2415.
SATURDAY, JULY 1st, 1911, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.
Heirs' Sale of a Cottage House and About 2 1-2 Acres of Land at No. 1695 Middlesex street.
I have instructed the auctioneer to sell at absolute auction sale to whomsoever will bid the most this exceptionally well located real estate. The property comprises a cottage house, containing six rooms and large shed, besides city water, sewer and toilet. The house, with the outlay of a small amount of money, can be made into a very pretty home. It is rented to a first class tenant.
The lot has a frontage on Middlesex street, of 158 feet, and a total area of about 2½ acres; on the lot is a variety of fruit and shade trees. The property could easily be subdivided into a number of building lots and with its large frontage it would be an easy matter to cut streets running back from Middlesex street, and still leave a comfortable frontage for the present building.
The location is a very good one, the property lying as it does in the very center of a number of large residences, it is directly on the line of the North Chelmsford and Tyngsboro electrics, thus making accommodations to the centre of the city that of the very best.
This sale should especially appeal to anyone looking to purchase a small place with an acre or two of land, a little way out, still in the city and right on the car line, also to the investor or speculator, who could, by cutting the land into lots erect dwellings and be assured of a quick and continuous rental.
Terms: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off.
FRANK G. HALL, for the Heirs.
